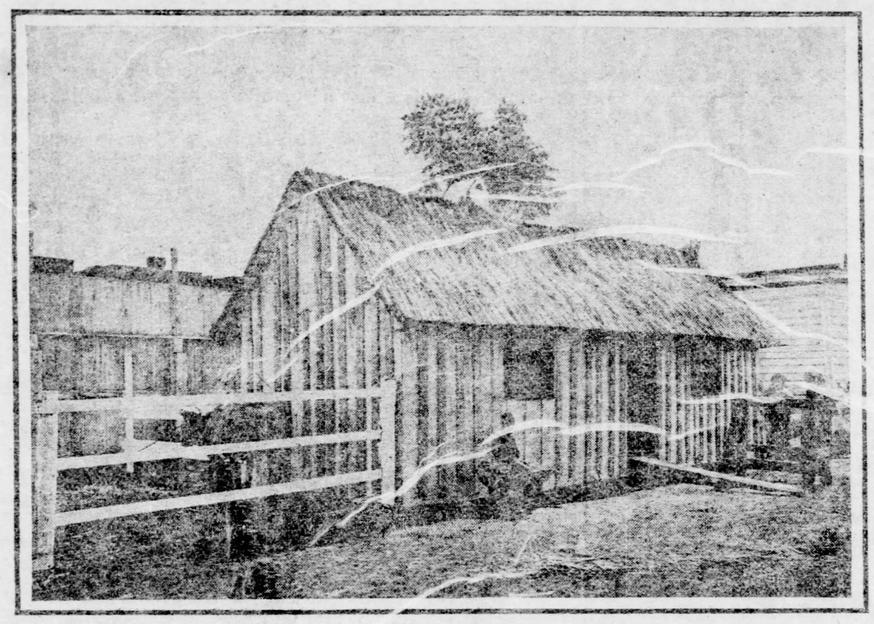
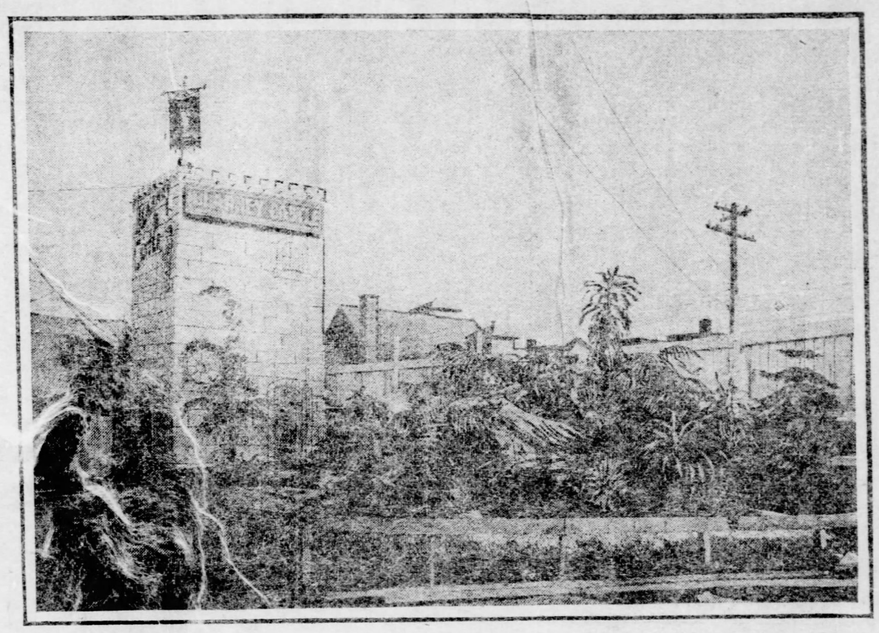
TELEPHONE WAS STOLEN FROM THE MILL OFFICE

The most unique robbery ever reported in Homestead took place there some time Sunday night when the office of the shipper at the beam mills of the Homestead steel works was entered and a telephone taken from the wall and stolen. The robbery was discovered yesterday morning when the mills resumed operations and one of the foremen wanted to call the main office. Entrance had been gained through a window, the telephone wires were cut at the instrument, wires and battery box stolen. There is no clue.

INTERESTING REPRODUCTIONS OF TYPICAL IRISH SCENES ARE FEATURES OF THE IRISH FAIR.



A Real Irish Cottage That Savors of the "Ould Sod."



Famous Blarney Castle as it Appears in Colosseum at Allegheny.

THE IRISH FAIR STARTS OFF WITH GREAT SUCCESS

Fully 7,500 Visitors at Miniature Erin in Allegheny.

FEATURES GALORE AT UNIQUE SHOW

Ireland, transplanted to Allegheny, is so true to the real Emerald isle that all the 7,500 who gathered at the Irish fair at the Colosseum in Allegheny avenue last evening could easily imagine themselves on the "auld sod." Music until the air is resonant, reproductions of the characteristic features of the land, excellent athletic events and an earnest address by State Senator Thomas F. Grady of New York started the ball rolling last evening. For two weeks the fair will last.

Senator Grady's address was punctuated with much applause. Fully 2,000 of those on the grounds crowded around the stand in the center of the race track to hear his discourse upon "The Irish People in America."

Grady Got Applause.

Loud applause and shouts of approbation echoed his references to the good purposes of the fair. When he made the point that anarchists are not trained in the church, but that the church is the basis of recognition of authority, just as earnest applause came. His tribute to Pittsburgh as the most energetic of cities and a worthy sister of his own city of New York, also brought cheers.

In concluding his address he said: "I know that all of Allegheny will help, and I hope that Pittsburgh will join her sister city in making Father McCabe's effort a success.

"When I visited the grounds this afternoon, I saw the men laying out a map of Ireland, with all its 32 counties. Visit it and see how closely they lie welded together. So may it be with the people of all these 32 counties on whatever part of the globe they live. May their hearts all be united in the love of the land of their birth."

Piece of the Real Stone.

Of all the Irish features of the fair, none is more popular than Blarney castle. Scores climbed the winding steps, but once on the top few would stoop to kiss the stone.

"It's a genuine piece of the real Blarney stone," said one of the attendants last evening. "Detective Thomas Glenn of the Allegheny force vouches for this."

It is necessary to go down on the knees and crane the head out of a small window to reach the stone fastened just below on the outside.

Among the other attractions of the fair are the "thatched cottage," with a fine collection of Irish curios and a picture tent sheltering a stereopticon trip through Ireland, and a "passion play."

On an elevated platform there was an opportunity for all who came, and there were many, to take part in an Irish jig.

Through the grounds drove Irish "jaunting carts," while the air was filled with the cries of the "barkers" at the doors of each feature of the fair.

Features Were Many.

Two pairs of little girls, Eleanor Itzel and Genevieve Johnson, and Anna and Rosalie Langkraft, cake-walked on the grass. Order was maintained by two amateur policemen, Leo Rochenstein and J. A. Cooney, both dressed in the red uniform and wearing the red cap of the Irish police. A good blackthorn was their armament. Michael Griffin, dressed in a corduroy suit, with a green vest and red stockings, did the Irish gentleman act.

Among the most pleasing parts of last evening's entertainment was the singing of Irish national songs by 125 little girls. Arranged in the form of a shamrock, and dressed in the green and white of Ireland, the picture was both novel and pleasing. For each province of Ireland there was a queen. Miss Nellie Lenihan served for Ulster, Miss Geneva Ley for Connaught, Miss Rosella Stevenson for Munster, and Miss Gertrude Donovan for Leinster.

Was a Good Escort.

Senator Grady was escorted to the grounds from the Hotel Henry by a company of 100 boys, in command of Roger Hassett. The showing of the parade, as it marched down Fifth avenue to the Sixth street bridge and through the Allegheny streets, brought forth much applause. Accompanying Senator Grady in carriages were Charles M. McNally, Joseph T. Joyce, John J. Flannery, James

ALTOONA WOMAN HELD FOR CAUSING FATAL INJURIES

Mrs. Mary Cannon Is Charged With Brutally Beating Mrs. Jacobs.

RECOVERY NOT EXPECTED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 25.—Mrs. Abraham Jacobs is lying at the point of death at her home in this city as a result of injuries inflicted by Mrs. Mary Cannon, who, with an infant three weeks old, is in the city prison awaiting the outcome of Mrs. Jacobs' injuries.

Saturday evening Mrs. Cannon was given a hearing before a local magistrate on the charge of disturbing the peace, Mrs. Jacobs being the prosecutrix. Mrs. Cannon was sentenced to pay a light fine, and later in the evening, it is charged, waylaid Mrs. Jacobs and beat her into insensibility. The attending physician says Mrs. Jacobs cannot recover.

BLOODY FIGHT OVER INSULT TO A WOMAN

Her Husband Resented It and Was Probably Fatally Hurt—Hatchet Used on Traducer.

In defense of his wife, whose character is said to have been assailed, Walso Lanocker, aged 30, was perhaps fatally injured by Charles Mohlski, a boarder in their home, who is said to have passed insulting remarks about Mrs. Lanocker. The fight occurred at the Lanocker home in Cherry alley, Braddock.

One of the men had a penknife in his hand, and during the fight Mohlski was slashed across the face with it. Lanocker secured a hatchet and is charged with having dealt Mohlski several blows with it. Almost everything in the room was broken and blood stained, while spots of crimson on the walls showed where blood had spurted from the wounds of both men. The men fought until both were exhausted. Lanocker staggered to the office of Justice of the Peace J. G. Richards, which is but a short distance from his home.

He told his story and a constable assisted him back to his home. Mohlski was arrested and will be given a hearing when his victim is able to appear against him. Both men are Slavs.

A LOCATION SELECTED.

C. B. Halcomb Planning to Build His Crucible Steel Works Near Buffalo, N. Y.

C. B. Halcomb, who recently retired as president of the Crucible Steel Company of America and whose friends soon afterward announced he would be identified with a rival independent concern, is planning to locate his enterprise in the Smokes creek region near Buffalo. Mr. Halcomb is said to have surrounded himself with a number of eastern capitalists. Negotiations are under way for a tract of ground near Buffalo to cost something like $200,000. The plant is to cost about $1,000,000.

Among those engaged in this enterprise with Halcomb are W. S. Townsend and C. J. Ragan of Utica, N. Y., and Bernard Smith of Toledo, O.

DIED OF GRIEF.

Aged East End Woman Could Not Recover from Husband's Death.

A broken heart yesterday caused the death of Mrs. Katherine Sylvis, 70 years old, of No. 5810 Howe street, East End. Mrs. Sylvis was the widow of Capt. Samuel Sylvis, for many years an Ohio river steamboat captain. Recently Capt. Sylvis was drowned in the Ohio and his widow never recovered from the shock caused by his death.

It is said Mrs. Sylvis' only desire was to be at her husband's grave, where she would constantly call for him to return to her. Finally she refused to leave his grave, and then it was decided to take her to the mountains, about three miles above Ohio Pyle. Last week she refused to take medicine, saying she wished to die and join her husband. The remains of Mrs. Sylvis were brought to this city last night and the funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from her late home.

Died in Doctor's Office.

Joseph Siefker, aged 28, died in the office of Dr. J. P. Sailing, No. 2316 Carson street, at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, while undergoing an operation. An anaesthetic had been given and the doctor had completed his work, when Siefker collapsed from shock. Siefker lived in Spring street, Lower St. Clair township.

SENATOR QUAY NAMES ANDREWS AS MOUTHPIECE

Secretary Announces Umpire in 26th Senatorial District.

CHAIRMAN BEGINS CAMPAIGN WORK

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Aug. 25.—United States Senator Quay today assumed direction of the Republican campaign in Pennsylvania as state chairman, by appearing at state headquarters in Locust street early and remaining at his desk until late in the afternoon.

The senator did not look as if his enforced confinement to his room in Atlantic City for the last few weeks had impaired his health. The rest seemed to have improved his appearance. His cheeks bore a ruddy tint and his step, save a slight limp caused by the injury to his foot, was more elastic. His manner indicated a return of the vigor he displayed in the conduct of the presidential campaign in 1888 as national chairman.

The state chairman has resolved to pursue a policy of silence, to the extent of not talking for publication in the pending campaign. He never did believe in talking when he had a political fight on hand. He preferred to let his opponents do the talking.

"I haven't anything to say," he remarked, "except that I have appointed umpires in the Twenty-sixth senatorial district. Secretary Andrews will give out their names."

Andrews His Mouthpiece.

The senator intimated that he would have very little to say during the campaign and that any information for the public will be given out by the secretary.

"Senator Quay will be too busy to be seen," said Secretary Andrews. "He has decided not to talk politics, and anything that he may have to say officially will be transmitted through me."

During the day Senator Quay had long conferences with Senator Penrose and Judge Pennypacker. He met many other callers from various parts of the state and returned to Atlantic City late in the afternoon. It is the state chairman's intention to come to Philadelphia every day except Saturday and Sunday until cool weather sets in, when he will reside in the city until election day.

The umpires appointed by Senator Quay to endeavor to settle the dispute on the Twenty-sixth senatorial district over the nomination of a candidate for senator are ex-Judge Henry Wilson, editor of the Honesdale Citizen, of Wayne, and W. D. B. Amey, a lawyer, of Montrose, Susquehanna county. The district is composed of Wayne and Susquehanna counties. Three conferees from each county have been deadlocked for six weeks. Under the state rules the state chairman is authorized to appoint an umpire from each county in a congressional or senatorial district when conferees are unable to agree on a candidate 55 days before election.

Petitioned by County Chairmen.

In this case Senator Quay did not wait until the specified time had arrived, because, as Secretary Andrews explained, the Republican chairmen of each county had written to him asking him to appoint the umpires immediately. If the umpires and the conferees do not succeed in breaking the deadlock in five days the state chairman is authorized to appoint a referee, whose decision is final.

Although the rule was adopted at the state convention in 1890, this is the first time it has been acted upon. If it is successful in breaking the deadlock in the Wayne-Susquehanna district, it will be invoked to settle the sectional contests in the Warren-Venango district, where Gen. Hulings of Venango wants the Republican nomination to succeed Senator Cummings of Warren, who is a candidate for another term. Cummings is said to have pledged himself to vote for Senator Penrose, while Gen. Hulings is suspected of leaning the other way. The senator does not want the state chairman to act under the rule and settle the contest by the appointment of umpires only a referee, as he fears that, in view of his non-committal attitude on the United States senatorships, it will work to his advantage.

Drowned While Playing.

Ferdinand Barley, aged 11, of No. 5140 Natrona alley was drowned in the Allegheny river at Fifty-first street last evening. He was playing on a float and fell into the river. His body was recovered shortly afterward by his uncle, who dived for it. It was taken to his home.

CONGRESS SHOULD REGULATE TRUSTS SAYS ROOSEVELT

Big Corporations' Affairs Must Be Given Full Publicity.

PRESIDENT UPHOLDS MR. KNOX'S COURSE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Boston, Aug. 25.—The week's work for President Roosevelt in his trip through New England began in earnest this week, when he departed from the summer home of the junior senator of Massachusetts, the Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, at Nahant, and, amid the enthusiasm of the greatest number of people he has faced since the Pittsburgh visit on July 4, rode into Lynn under cavalry escort and spoke from a platform at City hall.

Then he was taken to Boston by special train and on arrival went to Symphony hall, there addressing a great gathering of Boston business men. His speech here was devoted almost entirely to consideration of the trust question.

From the hall the president went to the Hotel Touraine, where, a little later in the evening, he was the guest of Gov. Crane at dinner.

Tomorrow morning, bright and early, the presidential party will start for Maine.

The president, at Symphony hall, spoke as follows:

A Talk on Economics.

I want to take up this evening the general question of our economic and social relations with specific reference to that problem with which I think our people are greatly concerning themselves—the problem of our complex social condition as intensified by the existence of the great corporations which we rather loosely designate as trusts.

In the first place, I have not come here to say that I have discovered a patent cure-all for the trusts. When people's minds are greatly agitated on any subject, and especially when they feel deeply but rather vaguely that conditions are not right, it is far pleasanter in addressing them to be indifferent as to what you promise, but it is much less pleasant afterward.

Of course, the worth of a promise consists purely in the way the performance squares with it. That has got two sides to it. In the first place, if a man is honest he will try as hard to keep a promise made on the stump as one made off the stump. In the second place, if the people keep their heads they won't think promises to be made which are impossible of performance.

Making Progress Slowly.

Mankind goes ahead but slowly and it goes ahead mostly through each of us trying to do, or at least through each of the majority of us trying to do, the best that is in him and doing it in the most intelligent and sanest way. We founded our republic on the theory that the average man will, as a rule, do the right thing; that in the long run the majority are going to decide for what is sane and wholesome.

It is worse than useless for any of us to rail at or regret the great growth in industrial civilization in the last half century. Speaking academically, we can, according to our several temperaments, regret that the old lights have vanished, or not as we choose. Boston and the thriving cities of the West have been built up as a result of those forces. The practical thing to do is to face the conditions as they are and see if we cannot get the best there is in them out of them. We are not going to get any complete or perfect solution for all of the evils which come to our minds when we think of the trusts, by any action on our part. A good many actions in a good many different ways will be required before we get many of those evils even partially remedied.

No Spasmodic Action.

We have got to, first of all, think clearly—we have got to, probably, experiment somewhat. We must, above all, show by our actions that our interest is permanent and not spasmodic; and we have got to see that all the steps are taken toward the solution. Everyone who thinks knows that the only way in which any problem of great importance was ever successfully solved was by consistent and persistent effort directed toward a given end, effort tried and then, if need be, another one, effort continued steadily, temperately and resolutely.

It is a little difficult to see clearly before us many of the evils, and especially those gentlemen of large means, who decide that the evils exist, are acting with great folly. I am far from being against proper action when I ask that the question of trusts be taken up. I am acting in the most conservative sense, in property's interest. When a great corporation is sued for violating the anti-trust law it is not a move against property at all, but a move in favor of property, because when you can make it evident that all men, big and small alike, must obey the law, you are putting the strongest of all safeguards around all men. When you make it evident that no man shall be excused for violating the law, you make it evident that every man will be protected from violation of the law.

WABASH GETS INTO NEW CASTLE THROUGH DEAL WITH B. R. & P.

Traffic Arrangements Said to Have Been Made by the Two Railroads.

BEGINS ON SIDE TRACK

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New Castle, Pa., Aug. 25.—Through a traffic agreement reported here on reliable authority to have just been arranged between the Wabash and the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad both will obtain entrance into this city.

What is of more importance, the Wabash will secure an eastern outlet over the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh, while the latter will have a western connection over the Wabash.

There was a fight made against both roads in entering New Castle. The Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh is now beginning to build a connecting line from here to Butler, to connect with its eastern line, which taps the coal fields in and above Punxsutawney, and the Wabash is said to have reached an agreement whereby it will be able to reach northeastern Pennsylvania over the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh tracks.

The latter took its first step in building the Butler line by securing street crossings here for a proposed three-mile extension to open large limestone deposits east of the city. Councils readily gave permission for the desired crossings, and the other railroads did not enter much opposition. It now develops that the Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburgh secured valuable privileges and advantages in laying this supposed sidetrack.

GEN. CHARLES MILLER SUES FOR DIVORCE

Charges Wife With Intolerable Treatment—To Be Tried in Open Court.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

FRANKLIN, PA., Aug. 25.—Late this evening Gen. Charles Miller instituted proceedings in divorce against his wife, Adelaide Miller, alleging intolerable treatment. The writ was made returnable on the fourth Monday in November.

If Mrs. Miller contests the divorce, as she likely will, the trial will take place in open court. This is a new rule of court made about a year ago.

TORN BY A DOG.

Colored Lad's Terrible Experience in Allegheny—Physicians Fear Hydrophobia.

Bleeding from many wounds, Louis Payne, a 16-year-old colored boy, applied for admission to the Allegheny General hospital last night. While the surgeons were dressing many places where the flesh had been torn Payne told a tale of being attacked by a huge dog, knocked down and terribly bitten.

The lad, in company with a friend, went to deliver a message at an Allegheny house, and was just leaving the yard when a huge dog rushed on him from behind, knocking him down, and planting its feet on his head, began to gnaw and tear his legs and arms.

After a hard battle he managed to regain his feet and escape, but his left leg and right thigh were terribly torn, and the physicians fear hydrophobia. Neither Payne nor his friend was able to say whether the brute showed signs of rabies, as both were terribly frightened at the attack, and it was too dark to tell much about the animal. Payne was allowed to go to his home, No. 1224 Sherman avenue, and cautioned as to the danger from hydrophobia.

WOUNDED BY PITTSBURGHER.

Emil Stein Shoots a Man Found in Company With His Wife.

DENVER, Aug. 25.—In a rooming house, No. 1129 Thirteenth street, Emil Stein of No. 41 Wyoming street, Pittsburgh, smashed open the door of his wife's room last night. He found Michael Varelian, a Greek, in the room. He fired one shot, the bullet taking effect in the Greek's mouth and causing injuries which possibly will prove fatal.

Stein, who is a carpenter and contractor, came to Denver three weeks ago from Pittsburgh for the purpose of securing the custody of his three children by a former marriage. He found here his wife, from whom he has been separated for a year and a half. He says that he had no intention of shooting the Greek. The latter, seeing the husband armed, rushed toward him, evidently with the purpose of trying to snatch the revolver out of his hand. Stein then pulled the trigger and the Greek fell upon the floor. Stein surrendered to the police.

RESIGNS AFTER THIRTY YEARS AS AN INSTRUCTOR

Prof. C. B. Wood Is No Longer Superintendent of High School.

ILL-HEALTH IS CAUSE; NO SUCCESSOR YET

Prof. C. B. Wood, who has directed the education of many Pittsburgh leading business and professional men of today, yesterday resigned his position as superintendent of the high schools of Pittsburgh and principal of the Bedford avenue high school. He has been connected with the Pittsburgh high schools for 30 years. He is known as one of the greatest mathematicians in this country. His resignation was tendered because of continued ill health.

The resignation and letter explaining his reason for retiring was received by R. J. Wilson, chairman of the teachers' committee of the central board, and is to take effect next Monday.

Edward Rinearson, a professor at the Bedford avenue high school building, has been appointed principal of the Bedford school temporarily. A meeting of the central board will be held on September 9, at which the position made vacant by Prof. Wood's resignation will be filled.

Prof. Wood is 52 years old and was born in Pittsburgh. He received his education at the University of Pennsylvania, of which he is a graduate. For a number of years prior to being appointed principal of the Bedford avenue high school Prof. Wood was a professor of mathematics at the Bedford school. He was later elected principal of the school, which for many years was the only high school in Pittsburgh.

Superintendent Andrews said that for about one-half of the term last year Prof. Wood's health was such that he could not attend to the duties, which were too great a strain on his constitution. He took a vacation, but was little benefited by it, as he had to attend to the closing exercises of the high schools and also look after the arrangements for the annual examinations of the pupils from the ward schools.

Early this summer with his family Prof. Wood went to Colorado Springs, Col., in the hope of recuperating, but he has not been recovering as rapidly as he would desire. Prof. Wood and his family are still at Colorado Springs.

PREPARING FOR WAR.

Forts at New London Being Put in Readiness for Army and Navy Maneuvers.

NEW LONDON, CONN., Aug. 25.—Conditions are exceedingly warlike in the forts of the New London district in preparation for the army and navy maneuvers which begin at midnight Friday and are to be carried out on the plans adopted today by the respective departments. Five steamers are running continuously from this port to the island fortifications bringing supplies and munitions of war. Detachments of troops are arriving daily.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Maj. Gen. MacArthur made public today the text of the rules agreed upon for the coming army and navy maneuvers.

The whole scheme of operations is based upon the assumption that, in anticipation of a declaration of hostilities, a strong hostile fleet, without torpedo boats, determines to make a sudden dash on the eastern entrance of Long Island sound to secure a naval base, in the expectation of finding the land forces, in the absence of a declaration of war, in a somewhat unprepared condition.

HAS PRESIDENT'S PERMISSION.

Gen. Miles Will Inspect Army Conditions in Philippines.

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—With reference to the statement that Lieut.-Gen. Miles is going to the Philippine islands, Secretary Cortelyou said tonight:

"Gen. Miles is going to the Philippine islan is with the permission of the president, to inspect army conditions there."

Death of John C. Bullitt.

John C. Bullitt, a prominent lawyer, who for many years was closely identified with public affairs, died yesterday from apoplexy at his summer home in Paoli, near Philadelphia. He was 78 years old. He was a lifelong Democrat, and framed the present Philadelphia city charter, which is commonly known as the "Bullitt bill."

WIRELESS TELEGRAPH PERFECTED

Sixty-Five Words a Minute by the Fessenden Method.

TELEPHONE SYSTEM IS CLOSE BEHIND

Lightning's Effects Averted and Big Corporation Practically Formed.

PITTSBURGH WILL BE THE HEADQUARTERS

Prof. Reginald Fessenden, the Pittsburgh inventor of the wireless telephone and telegraph systems, declared yesterday that his system in wireless telegraphy has passed the experimental stages, with the wireless telephone close on its heels. It is now a commercial proposition, he said, and arrangements are well along toward the formation of a close corporation, which will develop and introduce the Fessenden systems for commercial use.

The inventor announced an important discovery in being able to neutralize the effect of lightning, which is discernible through the sensitive receivers, while no lightning is otherwise noticeable.

Besides a number of Pittsburghers, whom Prof. Fessenden is keeping in the background for the present, Prof. S. B. Thompson of London, Eng., the well-known electrician, who has been most successful in his innovations in connection with the alternating current, and now an expert connected with manufacturing concerns abroad, is to be associated in the Fessenden enterprise.

Pittsburgh as Headquarters.

The company, which will be launched to develop and introduce for commercial use the Fessenden wireless system, will probably start in a short time with initial capitalization of $1,000,000 under charters to be obtained either in Pennsylvania or New Jersey, possibly both. This will simply be the start of the concern which later on will be expanded as developments require and will ultimately require investments of many times this amount.

Headquarters of the concern will probably be established in Pittsburgh, the inventor declaring that he regards this as his home, and a center perhaps the best adapted for the development of the enterprise. He will terminate his contract with the government the first of next month. This contract provided that the government meet a substantial share of the costs of experiments and in return for this the weather bureau has rights in the patents without cost, but simply for the transmission of meteorological information.

Government Work Done.

Prof. Fessenden came here on Saturday from Roanoke and other points along the sounds of the Carolinas, where he announces he finished his work for the government, giving the weather department a thoroughly complete system for its use.

"We have decided to go ahead with the introduction of our system for use on land," said Prof. Fessenden, yesterday evening at the Hotel Henry. "Up to this time most of the work has been along the ocean. Now the telegraph companies have many costly lines of 50, 100 and 200 miles and more which we can readily displace. The cost of the present telegraph lines is from $250 to $500 a mile and with the wireless it will be from $7 to $10 a mile. Besides, we will be absolutely immune from storms. The system works as well with sleet, snow or rain falling, or the wind blowing a gale as otherwise.

"Till just recently we were handicapped in the matter of lightning. This we have overcome by improvements to receivers, on which some patents have been secured and some are pending.

Lightning That Is Invisible.

"In this matter of lightning I believe we have made discoveries heretofore unknown to science. The discoveries arose from the fact that the lightning would burn out our receivers when there was none noticeable except by the receivers. When it was supposed that there was no lightning in the air, we found that it did exist in hurtful amount along with the presence of a certain little white cloud. With the sensitive receivers to the ear, it developed that there were between 50 and 60 waves in a minute. With the old coherer instrument this was not noticeable, but with the much more sensitive instrument now in use it was quite different."

Prof. Fessenden spent most of yesterday at the offices of his patent attorneys, D. S. Walcott and Bayard Christy of Christy & Christy. He also met some of the Pittsburghers interested in the formation of his company.

The Pittsburgh inventor has some 23 patents either before the United States patent commissioner or about to be submitted, of which over half have already been granted. These patents are being protected abroad. Prof. Fessenden remarked that he had noticed a report of a successful experiment with a wireless telephone in Germany over a stretch of more than 100 miles.

"This is not surprising to me," he declared. "I have held for some time that the wireless telephone would be readily adaptable for a distance of 250 miles."

Sixty-five Words a Minute.

"I have been reading a report showing the aggregate profits of the telegraph companies of the world to be over $20,000,000 in a year. These earnings are arrived at with costs many times our's. There would seem to be something in the field for us, don't you think?"

In reply to a question, Prof. Fessenden declared that the government work had developed a complete success in working over a distance of 50 miles.

"This was with a spark of one-thirty-second of an inch, and we can alter this to work over much longer distances. Under the Phillips code of telegraph we have sent 65 words a minute, this with the use of a typewriter in receiving."

Lightning That Is Invisible.

"In this matter of lightning I believe we have made discoveries heretofore unknown to science. The discoveries arose from the fact that the lightning would burn out our receivers when there was none noticeable except by the receivers. When it was supposed that there was no lightning in the air, we found that it did exist in hurtful amount along with the presence of a certain little white cloud. With the sensitive receivers to the ear, it developed that there were between 50 and 60 waves in a minute. With the old coherer instrument this was not noticeable, but with the much more sensitive instrument now in use it was quite different."

Prof. Fessenden spent most of yesterday at the offices of his patent attorneys, D. S. Walcott and Bayard Christy of Christy & Christy. He also met some of the Pittsburghers interested in the formation of his company.

The Pittsburgh inventor has some 23 patents either before the United States patent commissioner or about to be submitted, of which over half have already been granted. These patents are being protected abroad. Prof. Fessenden remarked that he had noticed a report of a successful experiment with a wireless telephone in Germany over a stretch of more than 100 miles.

"This is not surprising to me," he declared. "I have held for some time that the wireless telephone would be readily adaptable for a distance of 250 miles."

REAL CAKE WALK CHIEF FEATURE OF COTILLION

Halls and Grounds of Beaulieu Decorated in Mediaeval Splendor for Fete.

ALL NEWPORT WAS THERE

Curtain Goes Up on "The Wild Rose" at Midnight—Tent in Yard Supplies All Rural Beauties of Country Fair.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Newport, R. I., Aug. 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt gave tonight at Beaulieu a fete champetre that presented certain bewilderingly gorgeous aspects and something that had never before been attempted in the history of Newport's social life. At the east side of their villa was constructed a complete theater, in which a full professional company from New York gave "The Wild Rose," and in the grounds on the other side, along the driveway, was erected the long tent, where there were all the "side shows" that one might see at a country fair.

There were a shooting gallery, punching bag, "Aunt Sallies" ring toss, fortune-tellers, ring the cane, dancing girls and Williams and Walker with a team of real "coons"—in fact, a sort of midway plaisance. There was also a buffet for light refreshments. This structure was of canvas, lined with red cloth, hung with garlands of flowers and laurel, intertwined with electric lights. A feature of this section was the box office, where seats were secured for the theatrical performance that followed.

It was in this section that Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt received their guests. Mrs. Vanderbilt wearing a gown of pale green mousseline de soie with a large picture hat.

In Halls of Beaulieu.

Passing from this midway the guests found themselves in the halls of Beaulieu, which had been superbly decorated with scarlet flowers that contrasted with the garlands of white hydrangas suspended from the verandas. All these were interspersed with miniature electric lights. Passing through they reached the theater, where ushers in livery were waiting to seat them.

The theater was built on the ocean side of the house, adjoining the verandas of Beaulieu, which formed a sort of gallery to the auditorium. The theater was a spacious structure, 80 feet wide by 50 feet in depth. The walls were hung with white and yellow bunting, against which were suspended Roman garlands of yellow flowers and laurel fastened with broad yellow satin ribbon. In the center of the side panels were hung Louis XIV. baskets filled with wild roses, suggestive of the title of the theatrical production.

It was midnight before the theater was filled. It is doubtful if a more elegantly-attired audience has ever been assembled at such a performance. The guests came in from many dinner parties, the ladies, of course, wearing their newest gowns and their handsomest jewels. Some of them, according to Mrs. Vanderbilt's request, wore duchess of Devonshire hats. It was noticed that the duchess of Marlborough was in the front row with her mother, Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, but the general seating was quite informal.

Songs Make Hit.

Practically all of the first act of the production and parts of the second were given. The catchy and popular songs had their full appreciation and the encores were frequent. The gypsy maid, as sung by Miss Irene Bentley, scored its usual hit, and the two pickininnies introduced in the encore verse were received with warm applause.

When the curtain fell on "The Wild Rose," supper was announced. This was served by Sherry at small tables that had been placed in the dining and ball rooms and in different parts of the house. On each table was a basket of American Beauty roses.

While supper was being served the theater was cleared for the cotillion that followed. The inclined floor was removed, disclosing a good level dancing floor.

In the midst of the cotillion, Williams and Walker, with their respective wives, gave a regulation cakewalk in the center of the ball room floor.

After the cotillion had concluded there was a supper for those who desired to remain.

CONGRESS SHOULD REGULATE TRUSTS

I am inclined to think that much the greatest trouble in any immediate handling of the question of the trust comes from our system of government.

The Law Must Give Power.

Let me go back one moment. I want to guard what I am saying. I want you to understand that my words are being taken at their exact face value. Remember, I am not saying that even if we had all the power, we could completely solve the true question. Gentlemen, if what we read in the papers is true, they are speaking of a number of international trusts now.

It would be very difficult for any set of laws, on our part, to deal completely with a problem which becomes international in its bearings. But a great deal can be done in various ways now. A great deal is being done and a great deal more can be done if we can see that the power is put somewhere to do it. On the whole, our system of government has worked marvelously well, the system of dividing the functions of governments, of enacting a scheme under which Maine, Louisiana, Oregon, Idaho, New York and South Carolina can all come in together for certain purposes and allow each be allowed to work its salvation as it desires along certain lines. But while I most firmly believe in fixity of policy, I do not believe that that policy should be fossilized, and if it is to be changed, we must change our governmental method to meet it.

Must Meet New Conditions.

I believe with all my heart in the New England town meeting, but you cannot work the New England town meeting in Boston. You have got to try something else. Now, when this government was founded, there were no great individual or corporate fortunes, and commerce and industry were being carried on very much as they had been from the days when Nineveh and Babylon stood in the Mesopotamian valley. The wagon train and the sailing ship—those were the methods of commerce. Everything has been revolutionized in the business world since, and the progress of civilization, from being a trickle, has become a torrent. There was no particular thing at that time to bother as to whether the nation or the state had control of the corporations. They were easy to control.

Now, however, the exact reverse is the case, and remember I say "corporations." I do not say merely trusts, merely combinations of corporations or corporations under certain peculiar conditions. For instance, some time ago the attorney general took action against a certain trust. There has been considerable discussion as to whether the trust aimed at would not seek to get out from under the law by becoming a single corporation.

I want laws to enable us to deal with it, no matter what shape it takes. I want to see the government able to get at it definitely, so that the action of the government cannot be evaded by any turning, within or without federal or state statutes.

Weak Points in the Law.

At present we have really no efficient control over a big corporation which does business in more than one state. Frequently the corporation has nothing whatever to do with the state in which it is incorporated except to get incorporated, and its actions may be taken in entirely different communities—communities which may object very much to the methods of incorporation in the state named. I do not think you can get action by any state, action by all the states, that will give us satisfactory control of the trusts or big corporations, and the result is at present that we have a great powerful, artificial creation which has no creator to which it is responsible.

Of course, it is a mere truism that the corporation is the creature of the state; that the state is sovereign. Now, I want to make a real and not a nominal sovereign; to have some one sovereign to which the corporation shall be really and not nominally responsible. At present if we pass laws, nobody can tell what effect they will assume to anything. Now that has two bad effects. In the first place, the corporation becomes indifferent to the law-making body, and in the next place, the law-making body gets into that most pernicious custom of passing a law, not with reference to what will be done under it, but with reference to its effects on the opinions of the voters.

National Legislation Required.

What I hope to see is power given to the national legislature which shall make the control real. It would be an excellent thing if we could have all the states act on somewhat similar lines so that it would be unnecessary for the national government to act, but all of you know perfectly well the states will not act on somewhat similar lines.

Nothing has been done in the direction of intelligent dealing by the states as a collective body with these great corporations. Here in Massachusetts you have what I regard as, on the whole, excellent corporation laws. I think that most of our difficulties—here again remember I am not promising the millennium—it is not in my power to promise it—would be in a fair way of solution if we had the power to put on the national statute books and did put on them, laws for the nation much like those you have, on the subject of corporations in Massachusetts.

I am not advocating anything very revolutionary. I am advocating action to prevent anything revolutionary. If we can get adequate control by the nation of these corporations, then we can pass legislation which will give us the power of regulation and supervision over them. If the nation has that power, mind you, I should advocate as strenuously as I know how that power should be exercised with extreme caution and self-restraint. No good will come from plunging in without having looked carefully ahead.

Publicity Must Be Had.

The first thing we want is publicity, and I do not mean publicity as a favor by some corporations. I mean it as a right from all corporations affected by the law. I want publicity as to the essential facts in which the public has an interest. I want the knowledge given to the accredited representatives of the people of facts on which those representatives can, if they see fit, base their actions later. The publicity itself would cure many evils. Some of these things I have said can be done now. A good deal is being done now.

As far as the anti-trust laws go, they will be enforced. No suit will be undertaken for the sake of seeming to undertake it. Every suit that is undertaken will be begun because the great lawyer and upright man whom we are so fortunate as to have as attorney general, Mr. Knox, believes that there is a violation of the law which we can get at, and when the suit is undertaken it won't be compromised excepting on the basis that the government wins.

I believe, I am not going to say I am sure of it, but I believe it is possible to frame national legislation which shall give us more power than we have now, at any rate over corporations doing an interstate business. I cannot guarantee that, because in the past it has more than once happened that we have got laws on the statute books which those who made them intended to mean one thing and when they came up to decision it was found that the intention had not been successfully put into effect. But I believe that additional legislation can be had.

I think we have got to make up our minds to the fact that no matter what our reverence to the past may be, our duty to the present and to the future will force us to see that more power is conferred upon the national administration.

When the power has been conferred it will rest with the national government to exercise it. At present we are going to do the best we can with strawless bricks, but, remember, they are bound to be strawless.

Loudly Cheered at Lynn.

Nahant and Lynn today again divided honors in welcoming the president. He spent a quiet morning and afternoon at the Lodge house, and at 2:30 o'clock started for the platform in Nahant, where he was to deliver his address. Simultaneously with the moving of the procession a battery near by fired a salute of 21 guns.

As the president appeared on the platform he was loudly cheered. About 15 minutes were consumed in his address in which he reiterated his advice given in previous speeches on the journey that success in life must depend on one's own individual efforts.

The drive from Nahant to Lynn occupied about 20 minutes. At the city line the president was met by Mayor Shepherd and a committee and escorted to the city hall by two companies of the militia, and one of the naval brigade.

Mayor Shepherd introduced the president. It was perhaps the largest crowd which he has addressed since his visit to Pittsburgh.

After thanking the men of the national guard who had acted as his escort the president stated that there was but little he cared to say because he had come to Massachusetts less to teach than to learn. He said that Lynn had been rendered great as a manufacturing city by the fact that the individual citizen in it know how to work and did alike that duty in private and in public life.

IRISH FAIR STARTS OFF WITH SUCCESS

P. Delevy, Harry A. Low, James S. McVay, Joseph A. Fisher, A. S. McSwiggan, M. J. Maxwell, J. W. Sullivan, M. J. Clark, P. Corrigan, Joseph O'Toole, M. Haugh and Daniel Buckley.

Mike Eagan won his match game against two men at hand-ball. Eagan is the world's champion at this game. Charles C. Hartman defeated Wilkie Hall in a two-mile bicycle match race. The distance was made in 4 minutes and 32 2-5 seconds, the first mile being realed off in 2:15. John O'Hara was declared the winner in the parallel bar contest, while John Randall won the high jump.

Change Every Night.

The athletic program will be changed nightly and many new events will be put in as the fair progresses. There are still several booths to be added to those already in place and each night will have its own feature.

The Rev. Father F. J. McCabe, pastor of the Church of the Ascension, and chairman of the committee in charge, was on hand last evening to see that all went well. Tim Hurst, manager of the bicycle track, was about the busiest man on the grounds. He attended to more details than three ordinary men could, and kept all moving smoothly.

The street car arrangements made it easy to get to the park and to leave it. Supt. M. J. Maxwell of the Allegheny division of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, and Chief Dispatcher William Devlin were in personal charge.

Great Piano Sale at Hamilton's Attracts Many Buyers.

The sale of new, used and second-hand pianos at Hamilton's is attracting many buyers. The high character of the instruments included in this sale, and the remarkably low prices at which they are selling make it certain that in a very short time the entire lot will be disposed of.

The public is well aware that Hamilton's is never, under any circumstances, sell any but instruments that are thoroughly reliable and in every way worthy. And when this old reliable Music House advertises upright pianos at prices ranging from $100 up and square grand pianos as low as $50, there are naturally many people eager to secure such bargains.

Just at present, however, there is a splendid array of pianos to select from. Such pianos as the Knabe, Decker, Weber, etc, are among them and all are of good standard makes. They are not "bargain" pianos. That is to say, they are not instruments that were made to sell at bargain prices. The reason they are now offered at such remarkably low prices is that some of them have been rented for a time, others are second-hand and have been taken in exchange for new ones, while still others are new but were bought at much below the regular prices from manufacturers who made big concessions in order to secure ready cash. These last we did not put into our regular stock, because, while they are good instruments, they are not makes that we carry regularly, and we prefer to close them out at a small advance on what we paid for them.

Some of the second-hand pianos included in this sale have been used only a few weeks. And they are now being offered at about one-half of what was actually allowed for them a few weeks ago.

There never has been a better opportunity to secure a really good piano at a low price. In the ordinary course of a large business such as Hamilton's some excellent bargains become available from time to time. But we tell you frankly that in number and desirability the present offerings have seldom if ever been equaled.

In order to obtain any idea of extraordinary values prevailing at this sale it will be necessary for you to come in and examine the instruments and hear them. The wide range of choice among so many fine pianos and the low prices will astonish and delight you.

If you can use a good organ you can take your choice at this sale from a collection including the Hamilton, Monarch, Burdett, Estey, Chicago Cottage, Clough & Warren and others, at prices ranging from $15 up.

It will pay you to visit Hamilton's without delay.

If you cannot call, write for full particulars, which will be sent you promptly. Easy monthly payments if desired.

AGED MINISTER CARRIED ELEVEN MILES ON PILOT.

Cumberland, Md., Aug. 25.—(Special.)—The Rev. W. B. Osborne of Hackettstown, N. J., while unconscious, was carried 11 miles between Rowlesburg and Tunnelton, W. Va., this morning on the pilot of the engine drawing Baltimore & Ohio express train No. 8.

The train stopped at Rowlesburg to coal, and there the inanimate form was found lodged on the fore bumper. Mr. Osborne was struck by the engine at Tunnelton, but this fact was not known to the trainmen. The train was running 45 miles an hour.

He is not seriously hurt. He was bruised about the head, body and legs and was dazed by his experience, but physicians at Rowlesburg, where he was taken for medical attendance, say he will recover.

Mr. Osborne is 70 years old and has been assisting at the West Virginia northern camp meeting near Kingwood.

AN ALDERMAN'S HEARING BRINGS DOWN A RIOT

'Squire McKelvey, Over 75 Years Old, Active in the Crush.

GREAT CROWD INVOLVED

Arrest of Two Women For Assailing a Workingman Causes a Fierce Fight After the Hearing—The Leaders Arrested.

There was a fierce general fight at the office of Alderman David McKelvey in Allegheny yesterday afternoon. Several people were hurt in the crush and two were placed in the police station. The riot occurred after Alderman McKelvey had disposed of the charges against two women who were charged with assaulting a man who had taken the place of a striker at the Pittsburgh Milling Company's works. The women are the wife and daughter of one of the strikers.

For some time past there has been a strike at the Pittsburgh Milling Company's plant and non-union men have been placed at work in the plant. Last Saturday evening Harry Workmaster of Sawmill alley, Allegheny, who took the place of a striker, went before Alderman McKelvey and made information against Mrs. Nora O'Brien and her daughter, Catharine O'Brien, aged 16 years, of No. 815 Sawmill alley, charging them with assault and battery. James O'Brien, husband and father of the defendants, was one of the union men discharged from the mill.

As Workmaster and several other of the new men were going home from work, it was alleged, the defendants called them "scabs" and pelted them with stones, clubs and tin cans.

Attracted a Large Crowd.

Among the witnesses for the prosecution were William J. Ford, John Spied, John Hays and Walter Neye, all men who have taken strikers' places. When Ford was testifying for the prosecutor O'Brien objected and cried:

"That's a —— lie, Ford, and you know it!"

"Here! here! No more of that!" said Alderman McKelvey, sternly, "or out of here you go."

O'Brien kept quiet and the trial proceeded to the end.

The defendants were each fined $5. The prosecutor agreeing to change the informations to disorderly conduct, the alderman remitted the fines and the defendants were let go on payment of costs.

O'Brien started to explain to Ford, he says, that he was wrong about certain points in his testimony, when Ford, a large, powerful man, struck O'Brien in the face, knocking him down.

Constable Robert Alexander made a dash for Ford, but Ford's friends, Workmaster, Spied, Hays and Neye, interfered and a lively fight followed, in which Alderman McKelvey, who is over 75 years of age, and his clerk, William Sterrett, an old man and small in size, took a hand.

One Woman Fainted.

A dozen or more women who were in or around the office screamed and one of them fainted, but still the fight went on, attracting a crowd of hundreds in front of the office in North Diamond street.

Alderman McKelvey rushed to the telephone and sent in a riot call to police headquarters. About half a dozen front office men and as many patrolmen rushed to the scene and quelled the riot after a hard fight. Ford and O'Brien were locked up in Central station. They were charged with disorderly conduct, but were later released on forfeits of $50 each.

The Klan Men Won.

A noisy meeting of the citizens of the Thirtieth ward was held last night in the Knox school, to protest against acts of the school board. The crowd was divided between partisans of Thomas Mullen and Alderman King. Mullen controls the school board. After an exceedingly lively session the meeting adopted resolutions censuring the board for extravagance, condemning the recent dismissal of three teachers and urging an investigation. One of the dismissed teachers is a sister of Alderman King.

SHAFFER'S ILLNESS SHORT.

Associates Say He Has Recovered—New Castle to Vote On Tin Scale.

A report that President T. J. Shaffer of the Amalgamated association is seriously ill was denied yesterday at headquarters. It was said he was at his desk for a short time yesterday morning, after being absent on a vacation. He was ill a few days ago but has recovered, his associate officers say.

New Castle tin plate lodges are to meet Wednesday night to reconsider their adverse vote on the proposition to accept a wage reduction to stop importation of tin plate by the Standard Oil company, and the big packing interests, who return the material in packages and thus have rebated most of the import duty.

HOW TO SELECT A PIANO

Experience Not Necessary.

Pittsburgh, August 21.—Few people realize the importance in the selection of a piano for their home. Of Today's Special Autumn Sale.

We are perfectly sure the very first thing women will want to know about is, Are there any Jackets left? Yes, in some of the lines. And new lines added—three-quarter coats and Etons in light weight—which will mightily please some women who asked for them yesterday.

We have minutely described the Jackets, so there is no call for going over that ground again.

All the $2.50 Jackets that sold for $8 and $10 are gone. But in the following we may say there is a fair assortment of sizes, notwithstanding the overwhelming occasion of yesterday.

$ 5.00 for Jackets that sold for $12 to $18.
$ 7.50 for Jackets that sold for $15 to $22.
$10.00 for Jackets that sold for $20 to $25.

You will recall that we said there was every style that women affect. We even gave the names of the styles. They still have the same representation.

Of the two new lines added for today we call attention first to the Light-weight Etons, natty little Jackets that we formerly sold for $15 and $20. These dressy little affairs we are going to sell today for the even sum of..... $10

And the other special is the following:

About forty three-quarter length Coats—a few browns, but mostly tans—in excellent grades of kersey, broadcloth, cheviot and covert—coats that sold for $20 and up to $40—for the singularly little price of..... $7.50

There could not be a more fitting garment for automobiling than these three quarter lengths.

Autumn Weight Cloths 50c Yard.

By express this morning there will arrive new styles and new color assortments 75c a yard Autumn Waist Cloths. A well-known manufacturer clipped the price for especially for this special sale.

For the waist of wool needed for these cool evenings nothing like these wo waist cloths.

And there will be more odds and ends of seasonable colored Dress Goods, the kind mothers want for their girls' school wear, and perhaps for a skirt for themselves, and the price will be..... 50c Yd.

Today a Great Opportunity for Mattings.

On the fifth floor you will find Mattings at reduced prices that make the buying of them now a matter of the best kind of economy.

Best Cotton Warp Mattings—sold for 30c and 35c a yard—to be closed out for 15c a yard and $5.50 for the full roll of 40 yards.

Heavy China Matting, sold for $11 and $12 the roll, will be closed out for $6 per roll. The China Mattings also have 40 yards to the roll.

Boys' School Suits in This Autumn Sale.

Next Monday the bell rings. Let the boy have a new suit for his first appearance at school, the more especially if he goes into a higher room than the one of last winter. Any way he should have a new suit. He will be the better for it.

TEACHERS HERE TO TAKE PART IN INSTITUTE

Fifty-Second Annual Gathering of Allegheny County Instructors.

1,050 HAVE REGISTERED

The Large Majority Were Women Teachers Who Took the Opportunity to Visit and Renew Acquaintances—Names of the Lecturers.

Pittsburgh is overrun with teachers. Representatives from every public and many private schools of the country are here. Some of them came in Sunday night, but the majority arrived early yesterday morning to attend the fifty-second annual Allegheny county teachers' institute, which assembled in Carnegie music hall at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

When County Superintendent Samuel Hamilton called the first session to order the music hall was filled with teachers. They were mostly women; the men seldom come the first day.

Allegheny county school teachers are well paid. They show this by their dress. Most of them in white shirt waists, with pos- tabs, dark skirts, wearing ping- ties and initial belts, the teachers attended yesterday their first schoolroom functions of the present year.

Yesterday was merely a day of renewing old acquaintances and making new ones for the teachers. They would sit in the music hall for a few moments until espied some friend in another end of the hall and then they visited.

Many Lost Articles.

When the first session adjourned yesterday there was a scramble for position. Every woman in the house tried to get out first, and there was a jam at the Carnegie music hall such as is only witnessed on Founder's day. The women crowded out, and then suddenly they remembered that they had forgotten something, and it was a scramble back again in search for the lost article.

The employes of the music hall were busy after the initial day's meeting. They gathered up cloaks, jackets, handkerchiefs by the dozens, and a few pocketbooks left in the hall. These articles were soon claimed, however.

The seats in Carnegie music hall are free. Every person is allowed to sit anywhere in the house, but when the meeting convened yesterday afternoon little slips of paper containing the names of certain teachers were found pinned to many seats in the hall. These are supposed to be points of vantage, and the young women instructors thought that by marking their seats they would be reserved for them.

Superintendent Samuel Hamilton said last night there were almost 1,050 teachers registered. The total number last year was 1,149, and fully as many will attend this year's institute. Secretary Charles Elrick of Homestead will have a rush this morning, when the delinquent teachers will get their names on the roll.

The other officers of the institute are: Superintendent G. H. Lamb of Braddock, and J. C. Kendall of Homestead, vice presidents.

Names of the Lecturers.

The instructors and lecturers of this year's institute are: Dr. S. D. Fess of Ada, O., president of Ada college; Dr. Lincoln Hulley of Lewisburg, Pa.; Dr. D. C. Murphy of Slippery Rock, president of the State Normal school of that place, and Superintendent J. M. Berkey of the public schools of Johnstown.

The music will be under the direction of Prof. T. L. Gibson of Ebensburg, with Ernest Gamble as soloist. The lecturers will be Prof. A. M. Hammers of Indiana, Pa., and Rev. Stuart MacArthur, D. D., LL. D.

Dr. Lincoln Hulley of Lewisburg, Pa., made the first address of the meeting at the initial executive session held at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. His subject was "Fads in Education," and his lecture was a highly entertaining one. He said fads in education, like cranks in mechanical inventions, are often good things, in that they not only put enthusiasm into the fad leaders but into their followers.

Prof. A. M. Hammers of Indiana, Pa., then delivered his lecture on "Sunny Italy." This lecture was illustrated with stereopticon views of scenes in Milan, Venice, Florence, Rome, Naples and Pompeii.

Dr. S. D. Fess of Ada, O., gave the closing talk of the day on "The Life and Work of George Washington."

PITTSBURGH FIGURES IN Y. M. I. ELECTION

Capt. B. J. Cawley Is President and Father Walsh Chaplain—Close of Atlantic City Convention.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 25.—The biennial convention of the Pennsylvania jurisdiction of the Young Men's Institute was concluded late this afternoon. Today's session was spent in consideration of reports of the finances and good of the order committees and election of officers.

It was decided to send out organizers to increase the membership of the Pennsylvania jurisdiction, which now numbers 46,000. The order was reported to be in a flourishing condition. The election of officers resulted as follows:

Grand president, Capt. B. J. Cawley, Pittsburgh; first vice president, James Roach, Scranton; second vice president, Joseph Wodlspacher, Pittsburgh; grand treasurer, F. J. Herbert, Altoona; grand secretary, P. H. McGuire, Homestead, re-elected; grand marshal, William Weakland, Cambria county; grand chaplain, the Rev. Thomas F. Walsh, Pittsburgh, re-elected; board of directors, John C. Woods, Connelsville; T. F. J. Keating, Pittsburgh, re-elected. Supreme delegates—Daniel Cullman, Pittsburgh; John P. Collins, Carbondale; W. J. Ryan, Pittsburg; William H. Mueller, Pittsburgh.

By a unanimous vote Atlantic City was selected as the meeting place of the next convention, two years hence.

BLOCKADE RELIEVED.

Good Results from Determined Efforts of the Railroads.

The present week is started with all the Pittsburgh lines less overwhelmed with freight blockades than at any time for two months past. This comes as the result of determined action on Sunday. The Baltimore & Ohio, the Pennsylvania lines, both east and west, and the Lake Erie took part in this crusade against blockaded sidings and yards. The lines from Pittsburgh east and west were a series of freight trains.

On the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie in the extra movement lasting from Saturday to yesterday morning, no less than 15,500 cars were moved. On the Pennsylvania railroad 72 solid trains of loaded cars were sent east, while on the lines west, both Panhandle and Ft. Wayne, that number was about equaled. The Baltimore & Ohio moved, in and about Pittsburgh, about 5,000 cars.

It is not expected that the congestion is permanently relieved. The clean-up is only temporary, and with the rush of business again during the week a repetition of the trouble is expected.

GENERAL MANAGER HERE

Many Locomotives and Cars Ordered and Being Delivered—Increase in Motive Power Expected to Result in Speedy Removal of Congestion.

General Manager G. L. Potter spent yesterday in this city in conference with General Superintendent L. G. Haas of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. Mr. Potter was accompanied by his chief clerk, J. H. Maddy, formerly press agent of the Baltimore & Ohio. The party of three left last evening for an inspection of the new yards now building at New Castle Junction, and other points on the line still farther west.

While Mr. Potter's visits to this city are frequent, this is the first time that Mr. Maddy has been in Pittsburgh for any length of time for many months. While he occupied the position of press agent of the Baltimore & Ohio under the Cowen-Murray receivership, his acquaintance throughout the country became very large and in no place was he better known than here.

Invested Much Money.

A number of new figures on the expenditures of the Baltimore & Ohio for equipment were given out.

The road has spent in this city in five years the neat sum of $22,000,000. This includes $12,000,000 for the 12,000 pressed steel cars and several millions more for steel rails and locomotives. This is not the end of it. More steel rails are to be rolled and more locomotives are to be made here.

Details were given of a number of large equipment orders. The most recent of these is one for 100 new locomotives, given Saturday. This order is divided among the Pittsburgh and Richmond works of the American Locomotive Company, the Rogers locomotive works at Paterson, N. J., and the Baldwins at Philadelphia. This order is a duplicate of the order given in June. In addition, 48 engines are contracted for delivery this fall, and the start will be made this week. Four new engines, built for the Rutland railroad but not used, have been purchased by the Baltimore & Ohio, and will be received this week.

Much Equipment Ordered.

Lack of motive power has been its greatest shortage. Over 250 engines are now under contract and that will put it squarely on its feet again. It has ordered also two 150-ton electric locomotives for the Belt Line tunnel in Baltimore. These will haul 1,500 tons up the grade from Mt. Royal avenue to Huntingdon avenue and will abolish the so-called smoke nuisance, of which there has been complaint.

About 1,800 of the order for 2,000 pressed steel drop-bottom hopper cars has been delivered and 2,000 more 50-ton capacity pressed steel gondolas are to come. Then there are 1,500 50-ton capacity box cars being built by the American Car and Foundry Company and 700 50-ton capacity flat cars. All have steel underframing. The new passenger equipment now building consists of 50 coaches, 20 baggage and mail cars, three diners and two combination dining and parlor cars.

ONE GREAT POINT OF ADVANTAGE we have to offer our customers is the large selection of diamonds, rubies, emeralds, pearls, opals, turquoise and sapphires, all sizes and qualities, that we carry in stock. Having just returned from a purchasing trip abroad our stock is unusually large. Come, see the largest stock of precious stones in Pittsburgh. Sam F. The Aeolian and Its Wonderful Musical Capacity

The Aeolian is an instrument operated by perforated paper; can be played by anyone by simply working the pedals and changing the stops to suit the fancy.

The Orchestrelle is a still larger and more complete instrument, but operated in the same simple way, but with the tone of a pipe-organ.

The beautiful effects to be produced by either of these instruments cannot be described; they must be heard. They can be heard any day at our warerooms, where we are always glad to show them to anyone.

The prices of Aeolians range from $75.00 to $750.00.

Orchestrelles from $550.00 to $2,500.00.

We have several fine second-hand Aeolians which we have exchanged for larger sizes, and which we offer at greatly reduced prices.

One $750 Style for $490 }
One $600 Style for $380 } Including Music.
One $300 Style for $190 }

An Aeolian in the house is a constant source of refined pleasure, not only for yourself, but for all your family and your friends; and there is hardly anything that can be put in a home that is such a delightful companion.

Come in and see them or write for descriptive catalogues.

THE OIL FIELDS.

Developments in Kentucky and Tennessee have been somewhat slow in getting to the front, but have now reached a point of sufficient importance to be an incentive to the National Transit Company (Standard) to extend its pipe line system from West Virginia into the two states named. It will consist of a 4 and 6-inch main, running from Ritchie county, W. Va., to Somerset, Pulaski county, Ky. At that point it will connect with the local pipe line and will extend branches into the developments in Bath and Knox counties and later into Tennessee. It will require about 300 miles of main and branch lines to complete the system, and when fully equipped will entail an investment of about $1,000,000.

Up to the present time the only outlet for the Kentucky and Tennessee product has been by shipment by rail, and this method has been inadequate and required a vast amount of storage tankage in the field. Many of the wells that have been drilled in and known to be producers have had to be shut in on account of there being no way to reach the markets.

Field Developments.

Dusters played quite an important part in the developments in the lower southwest fields in the past two days. These unprofitable ventures were confined to no particular locality, but were present in nearly all of the developments in West Virginia and Southeastern Ohio. The latter was the hardest hit by dry holes. Some are of no little importance as to location.

In the Keener sand pool, on Big Knot run, Ritchie county, the South Penn Oil Company drilled its test well on the Morgan-Hemsworth farm deeper, and for the 24 hours ending yesterday morning the well produced 655 barrels. In the same district the Three Joes Oil Company's Nos. 1 and 3 on the Elroy Wagner farm are holding up at 275 and 175 barrels respectively. The Drillers Oil Company's No. 1 George Ryan is producing 220 barrels, and Mallory Bros. & Co.'s No. 1 Freeland, 240 barrels a day. The next well due is the Three Joes Oil Company's No. 4 on the Wagner farm. It is expected to get the sand tomorrow.

In the Wolf Pen Run district, the Cleveland & Parkersburg Oil Company's No. 2 T. E. Dye and the Henshaw Farm Oil Company's No. 1 are holding up at 140 and 110 barrels a day respectively.

On Elm run, in the same county, the Associated Producers Company has drilled a test on the M. P. Morton farm through the Big Injun sand and has developed a small gas pressure, but no oil.

In the Cairo district, the Consolidated Oil Company has drilled its No. 4 on the T. M. Jackson farm through the salt sand and has a show for a 20-barrel producer.

In the same district the Camp Run Oil Company has completed its No. 2 on the J. Cunningham farm and has a 5-barrel pumper in the same formation.

The Cairo Oil Company has completed its No. 5 on the James Furry farm, located on McFarlan creek, Murphy district, and has a 10-barrel pumper in the salt sand.

In the Meadville district, Tyler county, J. T. Jones has completed his No. 6 on the C. D. Fogel farm and has a duster.

In the Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, the Yellow Creek Oil Company has completed its No. 5 on the Bennett heirs' farm and has a show for a 50-barrel producer in the Berea grit.

Small Ones and Dusters.

On Indian creek, Wirt county, the Midnight Oil Company has drilled up test on the F. J. Foughtley farm through the sand and has a duster.

In the same district W. C. Patterson completed No. 3 on the Robinson Petroleum tract and has a 50-barrel producer in the Big Injun sand.

In the shallow sand territory in Wood county, the Henderson Oil Company has completed its No. 8 on the J. W. Delaney farm and has a duster.

In the Eureka district, Pleasants county, the Central Oil Company has drilled its No. 24 on the J. B. Reynolds farm into the Gordon Run sand and has a show for a 20-barrel producer.

In the Salem district, Harrison county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its test on the S. T. Bartlett farm through the Gordon and has a 5-barrel pumper.

In Big Flint district, Doddridge county, Snyder & Co. have drilled their test on the Rebecca Morgan farm through all sands and has a duster.

Two miles south of the Copley pool, on Sand Fork, Lewis county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test well on the Pat McAnamy farm through all sands and has a duster.

West of Blacksville, Greene county, Pa., the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the M. Henderson farm into the stray above the Gordon and has developed a very strong gas pressure.

On Buffalo run, Wetzel county, the Kanawha Oil Company has shot its No. 65 on the John Mills tract and the well is producing 35 barrels a day.

In the Folsom district, Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the Acenia Talkington farm into the stray above the Gordon, and the well has made one flow. Drilling has been suspended to move back the boiler.

In the Fish creek district, Marshall county, the South Penn Oil Company has completed its No. 4 on the E. A. Criswell farm, and the well produced 150 barrels the first 24 hours.

In the "Little Germany" district, the same company has completed its No. 2 on the W. M. Mason farm, and the well produced 250 barrels the first 24 hours. In the same district the South Penn has drilled its test on the Adam Frohnapfle farm through the Gordon and has a show for a 10 or 15-barrel pumper.

Southeastern Ohio.

About the last chance for an extension to the Harper pool in Monroe county, O., went glimmering yesterday when Roy Bros. & Co. drilled their test on the Mary Herron farm through the Keener sand and got a duster. The location is one mile and a half south of the Harper pool and condemns the only chance left for getting an extension to the development.

In the Macksburg field, in Washington county, James & Co.'s No. 4 John W. James, G. W. Davidson's No. 5 C. F. Adams, and Harper Bros.' No. 2 John Cornet, have all been completed and are ducters.

In the Marietta district, A. A. Cameron has completed his test well on the Henry Tratchel farm and has a duster.

In the Payne district the Gray Oil Company has completed No. 2 on the J. D. Lehner farm and has a 5-barrel pumper in the Cow Run sand.

On Wolf creek, Morgan county, Haier & Co. have completed No. 5 on the Effie M. Burt farm and have a small well. In the same district E. Bowman & Son's No. 10 on the A. F. & M. B. Wagner farm is dry.

In the Bowerston field, Harrison county, the Southern Oil Company has completed No. 4 on the James Crumrine farm and has a small pumper.

In the Burgettstown field, in Washington county, Pa., W. C. Kennedy & Co. have completed No. 9 Tenan, and the South Penn No. 10, G. W. Coen. Both are light wells.

MUST ANSWER TO FOUR CHARGES OF HOUSE BREAKING

C. B. Brown, Who Was Captured By Means of a Locomotive, Is Held.

IDENTIFIED BY A SERVANT

The Prisoner Is Believed to Be the Man Who Robbed Several East End Residences Recently—Stolen Jewelry Has Been Recovered.

Through the efforts of Police Inspector Robert Denniston of the Oakland district C. B. Brown, the colored man who was caught entering the house of E. Held at No. 217 Oakland avenue last Thursday afternoon, will be tried on charges of robbing three other residences in the Oakland and East End districts. The alleged burglar will have a hearing next Thursday morning before Police Magistrate John H. Armstrong at the Oakland police station.

Brown is the man whom Officer Thomas Rohan of the Oakland station had great difficulty to capture last Thursday evening. The officer discovered Brown trying to gain admission to the Held home and gave chase on his bicycle. The negro gave the policeman a wild run. Finally the alleged burglar reached the Junction railroad, where Rohan flagged an engine and caught the fleeing man after a chase over the rails of half a mile.

A Servant Identified Him.

A colored servant in the employ of the family of John Gibson, No. 4504 Center avenue, called at the jail yesterday afternoon and identified Brown as the man whom she caught in the Gibson house on the Saturday evening previous to his arrest.

The Gibson family were away from home and there was no one at the house but the colored servant. Late in the afternoon the woman left the house in Center avenue and went across the street to a store to get some groceries. She looked at the house before entering the store and saw a window blind rise in the second story. She rushed back to the rear of the house and entered as Brown landed at the foot of the stairs. He was excited and was perspiring very freely.

Before the colored servant could say a word to the intruder he blurted out, "My, but that was a hard job!"

"What was a hard job?" demanded the servant.

"Why, carrying that trunk clear to the second floor."

"You carried no trunk to the second floor of this house. There is no one at home," the maid said.

Got No Plunder There.

Instantly the negro burglar made a dive for the door and got away before the servant could give an alarm. Brown did not get any plunder.

The house of C. W. Kaufman, No. 5176 Woodworth street, was entered by Brown on July 31, where he stole a ladies' gold watch and chain, a $5 gold piece, a $1 gold piece and several dollars in bills and change. A day or so after the robbery Brown sold the watch and chain to a bartender in Oakland for $2, and Inspector Denniston recovered it yesterday.

On August 19 Brown entered the home of Frank O'Brien, in Breckenridge avenue, near Reed street, where he stole a ladies' gold watch and chain and some small articles of jewelry.

Residents in the neighborhoods where these houses were entered and robbed noticed a colored man hanging around the houses for some days previous to the date the robberies were reported. The description tallies with that of Brown.

Brown is believed to be a noted housebreaker for whom the East End and Oakland police have been looking for months.

All the stolen jewelry from the two houses has been recovered by Inspector Denniston. Brown, it is said, does not deny that he entered the houses mentioned.

Often Causes Hemorrhage of the Bowels.

[An Interesting Letter From Mrs. Tinker, of Georgia, Concerning Her Grandson.]

MRS. L. S. TINKER, 510 Second st., Macon, Ga., writes:

"Two years ago my grandson suffered with hemorrhages of the bowels and he was treated by different doctors, but without cure. We quit all other treatment and began to use Peruna, and after the use of three bottles he seemed to be quite well. He is able now to walk six miles to school every day. Peruna has certainly worked wonders for him and I shall not hesitate to recommend it"—Mrs. L. S. Tinker.

Hemorrhage of the bowels is frequently the result of catarrh of the bowels. The catarrh produces slight ulcers, and these ulcers eat their way through and cut off the small veins or arteries. It is useless to try to stop this hemorrhage without trying to cure the catarrh. This explains why it is that Peruna makes so many cures of hemorrhage of the bowels permanently. Peruna cures the catarrh and thus removes the ulcers. The ulcers being removed, the blood vessels are no longer cut off. The hemorrhage discontinues. This is a much surer, better and more lasting way to cure hemorrhage of the bowels than to use some styptic to attempt to dry up the blood.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

FATHER STABBED WHILE RESCUING SON FROM MOB

Striking Miners Cause Riot at a Colliery Near Hazelton.

SCHOOL TEACHERS FIRED

Pedagogues Removed by Board Because Members of Their Families Belong to the Non-Union Mine Workers—Foreman Wounds a Boy.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Hazleton, Pa., Aug. 25.—August Scheuch, aged 56 years, a special policeman in the service of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, was assaulted and stabbed on the outskirts of the city today while attempting to rescue his son, William Scheuch, a non-union workman, employed at the company's No. 40 colliery, from a mob of about 3,000 strikers.

Most of the non-union men were taken to the workings on a special train with which the strikers did not attempt to interfere. William Scheuch, who lives in this city, walked from his home toward the colliery and thus fell into the hands of the pickets. Most of the clothing was torn from his back in the struggle which followed.

When Scheuch's father rushed to his aid the mob set upon the elder Scheuch, who was rescued by a mine foreman and removed to the Miners' hospital. Scheuch was stabbed in the breast and on each hip, kicked in the abdomen and struck on the head with a stone. The knife, which was sunk into his breast, struck a rib, and that fact probably saved his life. The effort to prevent work at the mine was successful.

Warrants have been sworn out for the arrest of many of the strikers who participated in the riot at No. 40 shaft.

SHENANDOAH, PA., Aug. 25.—The school board of Mahanoy township today removed six of the oldest teachers in the township. The reason given was that members of the families of these teachers were non-union mine employes. Among those affected is Miss Anna Beddall, sister of Joseph Beddall, who was killed during the riot here July 30. The board unanimously decided that applicants in any way connected with non-union workmen should not receive appointments.

SCRANTON, PA., Aug. 25.—Frank Decker, one of the guards employed by the Temple Iron Company at the Edgerton colliery, was today placed under $2,000 bonds by Judge Holly on the charge of shooting Foreman Connolly and Forrest Crossman last Monday night. Up to the present the belief has been general that the shooting was done by the strikers and General Manager S. B. Thorne had offered $1,000 reward for the arrest of the perpetrator of the deed.

POTTSVILLE, PA., Aug. 25.—George Wheatley, an outside foreman at the Brookside colliery of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron Company, is under $1,000 bail, charged with shooting George Searer, aged 19 years of Tower City. Wheatley says he was followed through the streets by a crowd of strikers and their sympathizers, who jeered and hooted him. Becoming enraged he drew a revolver and fired into the crowd. The bullet took effect in Searer's leg. Wheatley has been a mine boss for a number of years.

LEAVES CHURCH TO BE PROFESSOR

THE REV. HENRY B. HEMMETER RESIGNS LOCAL PASTORATE.

Becomes an Instructor of English Literature at Concordia, S. C.—Good Work as Pastor of St. Andrew's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The latest Pittsburgh minister who will give up active ministerial work for a college professor's life is the Rev. Henry Bernard Hemmeter, who for the past seven years has been pastor of the St. Andrew's Evangelical Lutheran church, corner Center and Morewood ave nues. Mr. Hemmeter will preach his farewell sermon to his congregation next Sunday and shortly afterward leave for Conover, N. C., where the Concordia college is located. The Rev. W. P. Sochs of the Church of the Redeemer, in St. Louis, has been extended a call to the Pittsburgh church, and it is believed he will accept. He is a native of Lancaster, Pa.

The Rev. Mr. Hemmeter, since coming to Pittsburgh, has been one of the most active ministers in this, the Missouri synod, which is the largest body of Lutherans in the United States. Recently he notified his congregation of his appointment and at a recent meeting, although every member of congregation regretted his leaving, he was given his release.

During the first five years of his pastorate here the Rev. Mr. Hemmeter wiped out the church debt, doubled the membership and started work on the new church building at Center and Morewood avenues, which is now almost completed and represents an outlay of $90,000. Mr. Hemmeter also organized the Lutheran publication board in this city. Since its organization he has also been its active manager and gave his services to the synod free.

Mr. Hemmeter is a trustee of the colleges of the synod, a member of the local mission board of Western Pennsylvania and a director of the Concordia orphans' home at Delano, Pa. He will not sever his connection with the publication board after leaving Pittsburgh, as the position of professor of English literature, which has just been created this year, carries with it the position of associate editor of the synodical organ, the Lutheran Witness, published in Pittsburgh.

CHAUTAUQUA.

Dr. Steiner Tells of His Life and Work in the New York Ghetto.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 25.—(Special.)—"Ralph Connor," the Rev. Charles W. Gordon, is quite the man of the hour at Chautauqua today. He showed a new and very delightful side of his character as a reader from his own works. A number of the striking passages from his best known stories were given.

One of the most instructive, as well as interesting, lectures of the summer program, was given today by the Rev. Dr. Edward A. Steiner on "The Trail of the Emigrant," in which he spoke of the causes which lead to emigration and the ideas and feelings of the foreign element which come to this country, having special reference to the conditions in the New York "Ghetto." Dr. Steiner lived and worked among these people in the shops, pawnbrokers' establishments, etc., attempting to get their point of view.

He said the people who work 16 or 18 hours in the sweat shops for from 60 or 75 cents are receiving wages that are to them munificent, for in the old country they would do the same amount of work for 6 and 8 cents, and most of them are saving out of that amount the money to send back for their wives and sweethearts. As to the illiteracy of these people, there is no real danger to the republic in it.

In eastern and southern Europe, not over 10 per cent of them were permitted to go to school, and consequently 90 per cent of them are illiterate when they come over here, but they are hungry for education and are quick to learn when they have the opportunity.

While they are becoming a part of our people, there is a process going on unseen, but it can be felt in every city. The amalgamation is going on, but we are becoming more foreign and they are not so much American as we could wish, and it is because these people in our large cities have no true ideal after which to pattern.

To "fix" and to be "fixed" are proper terms in the Ghetto. The patron saint of the Ghetto is an Irishman, and he "fixes" anything for any one who has the gold to give him. He cannot improve until he receives better guidance than this.

To Build a Church.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Aug. 25.—(Special.)—A new Presbyterian congregation is to be organized in this city within a short time, making four churches of that denomination here. The church will be officially formed at the Shenango Valley Presbyterian meeting on September 8, and a church building will then be begun. The building will be located on donated ground in South Jefferson street.

Hair Escaping?

No wonder. Your hair is starving. Feed it before it all leaves you. Then you can keep what you have and add greatly to it. Ayer's Hair Vigor is a hair-food. It stops falling of the hair, makes the hair grow, and always restores color to gray hair.

"One year ago today I had not one single hair on my head, and today I have as fine a growth of hair as any young man in my town, and just three bottles of Ayer's Hair Vigor did it."—Arthur B. Ackley, E. Machias, Me.

SERIOUSLY HURT IN BATTLE WITH TRIO OF ROBBERS

Highwaymen's Daring Work in East Pittsburgh Sunday Night.

MEN BEATEN AND SHOT

Three Men Were Held Up and Bold Footpads Collected $55—Shot Victim Who Escaped, and Beat Foreigner Into Unconsciousness.

Two most daring hold-ups occurred late Sunday night near the Pennsylvania railroad station in East Pittsburgh. As a result of the shooting which followed the struggle of the highwaymen with one of their victims, two men were seriously injured. The highwaymen secured only $55 in money, and after badly beating a Hungarian of Oakhill they made their escape.

Quill J. Hamilton and James McNeil were the first two men held up by the thieves. Hamilton is employed in the rail mill and McNeil is an engineer at the Edgar Thomson Steel works in Braddock. Both men were returning to their homes in Oakhill, near Brinton station. As they neared the East Pittsburgh station two men suddenly jumped out of the darkness and demanded their money. McNeil ran past the highwaymen and succeeded in getting away. The men then pounced upon Hamilton, and after a desperate struggle, during which two bullets were fired through his hat, bore Hamilton to the ground.

As he had declared to the men that he had no money they gave him a terrible beating when they found this was true. Hamilton, during the time the men were abusing him, was making every effort to escape, and finally gained a slight mastery over his assailants and darted away into the darkness. One of the highwaymen fired his revolver several times after Hamilton, and it was one of these shots which struck him in the right hand. Hamilton hurriedly went to the office of Dr. James Sterrett, about a half mile above the railroad station, where he arrived exhausted from the loss of blood.

While the physician was dressing his hand, McNeil, with a number of policemen and citizens, formed a posse to run down the highwaymen.

When the posse reached the scene they were unable to get any trace of the men, and while searching for some clue as to which direction the highwaymen had taken, they ran across the body of Joseph Voch, lying on the ground unconscious. As soon as he was restored he told them that he had been held up and robbed of $55 by two men.

There is no doubt that the men who held up and robbed Voch are the same who injured Hamilton. Dr. Sterrett last night said that the bullet from the highwayman's revolver severed several leaders in Hamilton's hand, and he will always be a cripple.

Thieves in Tennessee Get Away With $500 in Cash and $1,500 in Notes and Leave No Clue.

PADUCAH, KY., Aug. 25.—(Special.)—At Dexter, Calloway county, Tenn., a small station on the N., C. & St. L., not far from Murray, Ky., thieves entered the general merchandise store of Copeland & Co. early this morning, blew the safe and secured $500 in cash and $1,500 in notes.

The noise aroused a number of people, but the thieves had made their escape. A portion of money taken belonged to the N., C. & St. L. agent there, and had been deposited in the safe over night as a precaution.

Judge Criswell Sets Aside Miller Lunacy Verdict; Capt. Loar Says Uniontown Policemen Were Drunk

JURY VERDICT IS SET ASIDE

Judge Criswell Dismisses Findings in Miller Lunacy Case.

NO FURTHER PROCEEDINGS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

FRANKLIN, PA., Aug. 25.—In an opinion handed down today Judge Criswell dismissed the findings of the Miller lunacy inquisition. The exceptions sustained by the court were technical and related chiefly to the rulings of the commissioner.

The two exceptions dwelt upon at greatest length were those relating to the exclusion of the testimony of Dr. W. F. Myers and S. P. McCalmont because they had not qualified as experts. Judge Criswell stated that while the law allows the commissioner to rule upon the competency of expert witnesses, the policy nowadays is to be liberal and depend upon cross-examination to show that the witness was not competent.

The court stated that the allowing of this testimony might not have made any difference in the finding of the jury, but the element of doubt in the matter was, in his opinion, a reason why he should dismiss the verdict.

In concluding the opinion, Judge Criswell said:

"It is but just to say that the errors complained of and found in the foregoing occurred during the course of the trial and that neither Gen. Miller nor the brothers of the respondent were present at the trial, except the time they were required to be there."

It is understood that no new proceedings will be commenced.

Survivors of 54th Pennsylvania Volunteers to Hold Reunion at Romney, W. Va.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CUMBERLAND, MD., Aug. 25.—The reunion of the survivors of the Fifty-fourth Pennsylvania regiment of the civil war will take place at Romney, W. Va., Wednesday. The veterans, mostly from Johnstown and vicinity, with their families, forming a party of about 200, spent nearly three hours in Cumberland between trains today, going to Romney late in the afternoon. The visitors were met at the depot by the Romney band and escorted to the court house, where an address of welcome was made from the steps.

William Horace Rose of Johnstown, an attorney, who was adjutant of the Fifty-fourth Pennsylvania regiment and is president of the veteran association, responded. He will be one of the speakers at the reunion, as will also be David R. Brine and J. W. Mosteller, two surviving captains, John H. Decker and George Stineman and Mrs. Campbell, widow of Colonel Jacob M. Campbell of the regiment, and her two sons are with the party.

Tomorrow a number of members of McNeill's rangers, a Confederate command from about Romeny, W. Va., will leave for California, Pa., where on Wednesday they will join in the reunion of the Ringgold battalion, their old adversaries. Last year the Union veterans visited the McNeill men, who held their reunion at Moorefield, W. Va.

WHOLE TOWN EXCITED OVER AN AUTOMOBILE.

WOODSFIELD, O., Aug. 25.—(Special.)—Great excitement prevailed in this city last night, caused by the arrival for the first time of an automobile. Arthur Fisher of the Fisher Oil Company arrived here yesterday afternoon from Cadiz, O., in his automobile. He left Cadiz at 9 o'clock in the morning and arrived here at 2:30 in the afternoon, a distance of more than 60 miles. Every one was wild to see the machine.

SON'S TRAGIC DEATH KILLED HIS FATHER

Boys' Quarrel Ends Fatally and Parent Dies from Shock.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHARLESTOWN, W. VA., Aug. 25.—Sunday evening at Sun, Fayette county, James Nesbitt, aged 10, with several companions, was gathering apples, when another crowd of boys, among them John Crouch, aged 15, came up and ordered the smaller boys to leave. Nesbitt and his companions refused to go, and when Crouch advanced upon Nesbitt the latter threw a stone, which struck Crouch over the heart. Crouch took half a dozen steps and fell dead.

His father, Thomas Crouch, aged 50, while sitting at his home this morning suddenly fell over dead. His death, physicians say, was caused by the excitement following his son's death.

SAYS POLICE WERE DRUNK

Capt. Loar Says His Arrest in Uniontown Riot Was Unwarranted.

COMPLAINS TO THE COUNCIL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

UNIONTOWN, PA., Aug. 25.—Before the town council this evening the recent riot on the occasion of the reunion of the Tenth regiment here was brought up. A petition by Capt. J. A. Loar of Mt. Pleasant was read, in which he charged Policeman John Seese and Jack Doran with being intoxicated and unfit for duty on that day, and that, by reason of their unlawful and unwarranted actions in arresting him and other soldiers, a riot was precipitated which smirched the good name of Uniontown and submitted the soldiers to shameful treatment.

His petition was supported by half a dozen Uniontown citizens, and it spoke of affidavits of others, which were to accompany it. President Gamaher said that Attorney Thomas R. Wakefield told him this evening that those affidavits had not reached him, and Loar's petition was laid over until the affidavits should be presented at a future meeting and the matter be put in proper shape for investigation.

Councilman James H. Parkhill after the petition was read, denied that the policemen were drunk as charged.

What's the Great Lesson This Wonderful Revolution Teaches You?

OWN A WEST PARK LOT NOW!

You have seen how marvelously quick this broad scope of farm land has been converted into a grand residential district, a modern, remarkable town—how the wise investors who heeded opportunity's call have reaped the harvest of their foresightedness! And yet with all this unprecedented progress West Park is virtually in its infancy—it has been styled "The Great Money Maker of the Future"—lot owners of this splendid property have already tasted the fruits of this truism—and the greater fruits are yet to come!

Level-headed investors see the opportunity—no property has sold so quickly, or is selling so quickly as West Park.

If you haven't been to West Park lately you will be more than mildly astounded at the sight that will meet your gaze—row after row of handsome modern residences rise up on all sides—Electric cars pass up beautiful Broadway, directly through the property and within 5 minutes' distance of any lot on the plan. They carry you to Market street and Fifth avenue within 25 minutes! Ever consider that? You are nearer the heart of Pittsburgh living in West Park than were you living in the East End!

We ask you to consider West Park Property deeply. We know that investigation can lead to but one result.

West Park Lots in the New Plan $50, $100, $150 to $500

You are extended the easiest credit terms ever heard of to pay for these lots. You will never feel the outlay.

$5 PER MONTH

Is the payment on choice, fine property. If you desire to pay cash you can secure a discount of 10 per cent any time within 60 days.

No Interest, No Taxes Until Delivery of Deed!

Purchasers are given free with each lot a guarantee of title issued by the Fidelity Title & Trust Co., Capital $1,000,000.

You run no risk of forfeiting your lot. Every investor is given a fair, square show at this grand opportunity. The names of our stockholders insure purchasers the best of treatment. Interest is not even charged on back payments in the event of purchaser falling behind by reason of sickness.

Pittsburgh Health Report—Twenty-five cases of typhoid fever, five of scarlet and 10 of diphtheria were reported yesterday to the Pittsburgh bureau of health for the preceding 48 hours.

Will Learn Their Record—Race Joyce and James Fitzpatrick yesterday were held for further investigation by Magistrate Henry Hunneshagen of Allegheny. They are charged with being found on the porch and roof of a house.

Charge Becoming Common—Thomas Rushale was yesterday held for court trial by Magistrate D. J. McGarey on a charge of pointing firearms during a fight on Sunday afternoon at Main and Wabash avenue, West End.

Will Have Special Guard—A special officer has been detailed to guard the St. Joseph's Catholic orphan asylum connected with the St. Michael's German Catholic church in Plus street, South Side. Three attempts have been made within the past week to rob the asylum.

To Improve Meeting Grounds—There will be a meeting in October of the stockholders of the Allegheny Valley campmeeting association, at which a vote will be taken upon proposed extensive improvements on the meeting grounds. Sewers and a new gas main likely will be laid.

New Pastor at Millvale—The Rev. Father Francis W. Schwab yesterday morning took charge of the pastorate of St. Andrew's Roman Catholic church of Millvale, succeeding the Rev. Father Francis Olfen, who goes to St. Joseph's colony in Arkansas to take charge of the work there.

Fell from Electric Crane—John Billey, 40 years old, one of the best-known men in Homestead, was killed last night by falling about 35 feet from an electric crane in the Homestead mills. Billey lived at Munhall and had been employed in the Homestead mills for the past 19 years.

Fear He Was Drowned—It was reported to Allegheny Central station last night that Cyrus H. Thunnell, aged 13 years, of No. 212 Marie avenue, Avalon, has been missing from his home since last Sunday morning. The boy said he was going fishing and his parents fear he has been drowned.

Bridge Jumper Fined—Elmer Baker, 14 years old, of No. 24 Aliquippa street, was fined $1 yesterday by Magistrate D. J. McGarey on a charge of disorderly conduct. It was alleged by Elmer's sister that he has been in the habit of jumping from the Twenty-second street bridge into the Monongahela river for sums of money ranging from 10 to 25 cents.

Aged Man Fell Down Stairs—Samuel Bartley, one of the oldest residents of the Eleventh ward is dying at his home, No. 1701 Webster avenue. He is 79 years of age. On Sunday, while coming down stairs he lost his balance and fell, fracturing his skull. Drs. Irwin and Barckley decided that his case was practically hopeless.

Another Meeting on Hilltop—It is reported that at the meeting this evening the residents of the hilltops will probably decide to employ an attorney to enter suits against the Monongahela and Chartiers water companies. The meeting Saturday night aroused the residents and a big crowd is expected to attend the meeting tonight.

Replacing Lincoln Bridge—Work was yesterday started by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company on the temporary bridge in Lincoln avenue. The old floor will be taken up and replaced by a new one and the portion of the old bridge which has been torn away will be replaced. It is expected the work will be completed next week.

Worked the Old Game—Michael Valanski, a Pole, living at No. 106 McClure avenue, Allegheny, yesterday, just to be accommodating, gave a stranger $100 in change for what he supposed was a new $100 bill. When Valanski attempted to buy a pair of shoes with the big bill the shoe dealer, H. Goldstein, discovered it was a Chicago bank advertisement.

To Vote on Bond Issue—A special bond election will be held in Braddock today to vote on increasing the bonded indebtedness of the borough $117,000 for public improvements. The bond issue if authorized will be used to build a new public school building in the First ward, for repairs to the other school buildings and to pay the floating indebtedness.

Espien's Protest Sustained—James E. Cowen, superintendent of the city division of the Pittsburgh postoffice, has started an investigation into the complaint about the poor delivery of mail at Espien. It is said the investigation showed the residents had good grounds for their complaints and that another and more experienced carrier will be placed on the route.

Singers from Pittsburgh—Pittsburgh is to be well represented at the coming Saengerfest to be held in Baltimore this fall. President L. H. Wieman of the Saengerfest association has been in this city during the past few days and says at least 400 people will go from here. The Frohsinn, the oldest singing society in this city, has announced its intention of attending the Saengerfest.

Slept With the Cat—Emma, the 3-year-old daughter of Clarence Cosgrove of California avenue, Allegheny, was found sleeping with the family cat in the cellar of her home yesterday morning. The girl disappeared about 8 o'clock Sunday night, and, after the family had searched everywhere but the cellar for the child, they decided to sit up until daylight to renew the search.

Two New Churches—The congregation of the Protestant Episcopal church of Swissvale have purchased a site in Dennison avenue upon which a new church edifice will be erected at a cost of $10,000. The English Lutherans of the same borough have also bought a lot in Monongahela avenue, and a fine church building will be constructed upon it at an early date.

Dedication Is Postponed—In a letter to Joseph West of the Homestead school board yesterday Charles M. Schwab asked Mr. West to postpone the dedication of the Schwab manual training school in Homestead until he returns from Europe. The building was to have been dedicated at the opening of the next school term, but the board will comply with the donor's request.

Say They Started Riot—Eugene Laface and Guiesippi Riccellia, who it is said, started the riot at an Italian boarding house in Beachwood boulevard near Homewood avenue, Sunday afternoon, during which Edward Ueguitt was stabbed in the neck and Philip Boney badly beaten with a club, were arrested yesterday by Policeman Arthur Gitting and locked up in the East End police station.

Will Picnic at Butler—The congregations and Sunday schools of the Reformed church in Western Pennsylvania will hold their annual outing at the Orphans' home in Butler next Thursday. The receipts of these annual outings are for the little ones in the orphans' home. A special train will take the friends of the asylum to Butler. This train will leave the Pittsburgh & Western depot on Thursday morning at 9:10. Special trolley cars take the excursionists from the depot to the grounds.

Feared He Would Escape—Fred Tisuter was removed from the Homeopathic hospital to the county jail last night. He is the man who was arrested by Officer C. R. Thompson in Seventh avenue last Friday morning after shooting five times at the officer, who finally shot him and put a ball in his leg. The wound was slight. The hospital authorities discovered Tisuter wandering about and looking out of the windows last evening and they feared he might escape. They notified the police and he was taken to the jail.

Heptasophs' Picnic—Pittsburgh conclave, No. 89, Improved Order of Heptasophs, will hold their annual outing at Olympia park tomorrow. A committee consisting of H. Clements, W. C. Maxwell, H. R. Hissrich, F. W. Preston, E. Zacharias, J. J. Uetz and H. A. Cavett is in charge of the outing. There will be dancing, a baseball game and special sports for children. The feature of the day will be a series of boat races on the Youghiogheny river under the auspices of the Columbia Boat club of Allegheny.

DISMISSED BECAUSE HE JOINED CITIZENS

Politics Caused Coroner McGeary to Ask for Deputy Tomoszeski's Resignation.

That Coroner Jesse M. McGeary will not tolerate any political insubordination in his ranks was demonstrated yesterday when he demanded the resignation of Deputy Coroner Leo F. Tomoszeski to take effect in September. Tomoszeski was formerly connected with the machine organization of this city, but recently he disassociated himself from their ranks and is now allied with the Citizens organization. Coroner McGeary learned this and the two had a stormy interview, the outcome of which was the demand for Tomoszeski's resignation.

Tomoszeski was formerly connected with a Polish newspaper in this city, and is a bright, intelligent young man. He has a large following among his countrymen in Pittsburgh. At the request of City Recorder J. C. Brown he was induced to take the position of deputy coroner under Jesse M. McGeary. He accepted the position on February 1 and has been working continually since that time.

Coroner McGeary did not like to make this appointment, but was induced to do so by his cousin, Recorder Brown. He did not get along well with his appointee, and it is said by the other deputies that Coroner McGeary made the position unpleasant for Tomoszeski. The deputy became dissatisfied and decided to cut loose from the ring politicians in general. Coroner McGeary learned of this and accused Tomoszeski of having allied himself with his political opponents. Then came the quarrel.

There is more or less dissatisfaction in the coroner's office. Coroner McGeary is dissatisfied with some of his men and has not refrained from showing it. Deputy Coroner John Black, who is also a cousin of Recorder Brown, has been threatened with dismissal.

LOCAL MARKSMAN TO SHOOT AT SEA GIRT

Sergeant William J. Hay of the Fourteenth Regiment on the State Team.

The greatest military rifle contest in the history of the country will open at the celebrated rifle range at Sea Girt, N. J., on Friday, August 29. Teams from nearly every state in the union, as well as from the crack regiments of the United States army, will take part in the shoot. Pittsburgh will have a representative on the Pennsylvania team, which won the Hilton trophy years ago on this range from the best rifle teams in America and Canada. The man who will represent Pittsburgh at this contest is Sergt. William J. Hay of the Fourteenth infantry, whose excellent shooting during the state contests at the Mt. Gretna rifle range last week made an average of 90½ points.

The selection of the brigade team to represent Pennsylvania at Sea Girt contest required much figuring. The first man on the list was Sergt. Hay of the Fourteenth infantry. Then followed four members of the Sixteenth infantry and one of the Fifth Infantry. The team consists of 12 men and three reserves, and after the western soldiers had been selected the team was made up of marksmen of the Third and First brigades.

The state will be represented in the regimental match by the team of the Thirteenth infantry of Scranton, which won the state rifle match from the Sixth Infantry by a fluke. Sheridan troop will not be represented in the state cavalry team, but its commander, Capt. C. S. W. Jones, will have charge of the Pennsylvania squadron marksmen. The team will be composed by four members of the Second City troop and three members of the First City troop.

The Pennsylvania marksmen left Mt. Gretna early on Saturday morning and will practice at the several ranges until the match opens. If Sergt. Hay of the Fourteenth regiment can hold the record he made at Mt. Gretna, he will come home with some of the handsome individual prizes offered at the Sea Girt contests.

Seat Sale at Grand.

The Grand presented an unusually busy scene yesterday morning when the subscription sale for the new season opened. An improvised box office was erected in the new lobby, near Fifth avenue, in front of which a long line of people stood waiting fully an hour before the sale commenced. The Grand has always enjoyed a clientele of its own, and this was very considerably extended yesterday by a number of new names. The subscription list will be open until Thursday, when the single sale of seats will begin.

Opening at Alvin.

The Alvin theater will inaugurate the coming season Saturday night next. Kellar, the famous magician, will be the opening attraction and will continue through the following week. Kellar has just returned from a summer tour of Europe and promises many new features. The sale of seats commences Thursday morning. As on former visits, Kellar will give a popular-priced Wednesday matinee, especially arranged for ladies and children.

"Gypsy Jack" is frankly and unequivocally a melodrama of the good old-fashioned type. It is fresh from "Old England," where melodramas are made after a fashion that sets the gallery gods into a perfect passion of rage or joyous expectation, according to which of the characters may be on the stage, the villain or the hero. There is an absence of the name of the author of the play from the Empire program, but we are inclined to congratulate him upon having successfully carried out the old traditions, that a melodrama must be out-and-out blood and thunder.

"Gypsy Jack" is just such a play. There isn't the smallest ground of probability from start to finish and not a character that isn't hand-made to order, but, then, they do such thrillingly wonderful things in such an off-hand, slap-dash fashion, and recall so vividly our earliest recollections of the drama in the ease with which people who are in the way are killed off, and those who are nice and good come out smiling in the end and get married. We are not poking fun when we say this. "Gypsy Jack" is frankly what it pretends to be. There is no hint of the repressional school in the work of the company. There could not be with that play to interpret. The is another old cry in the same old stage whisper, "Where is me chee-il-d?" and "Unhand the villains" enough in it to drive you to desperate rage over the bloody but thinly-transparent schemes of the dark-browed villain who causes all the trouble.

It is all refreshingly frank and open-faced, without so much as the deceptive word "comedy" or "society" in front of the word drama. It is just what it pretends to be—a melodrama of the old "Romany Rye" and "Lights o' London" order.

The players are excellently placed, too. They carry out by their work the purpose of the play. Mr. Willis Granger is handsome as the hero, and if he be declamatory and disposed to attituding, is he not the hero of melodrama? And that is what they all do—none better than Mr. Granger. Mr. P. Mack makes an excellent curate, while Eugene Santley, as the villain, was sufficiently in harmony with his part to cause a storm of hisses from all over the house—a glowing tribute to Mr. Santley's villainy and that of his co-worker, Elwyn Stevens. The comedy is in the hands of Joe Carey, Miss Louise Rogers and Florence Hartley and is well done. The gypsy witch of May Niblow-Drew was sepulchral to an almost distressing degree. Miss Dorothy LaMar is pretty as the heroine, but hardly so effective as an actress.

The plot of "Gypsy Jack" is one familiar in its general and broad outlines. The details can only be enjoyed by seeing the play. That is if you have a taste for good old-fashioned melodrama that has the courage and conscience to be called by its right name and live up to it.

The Bijou had an immense audience last evening to witness the second performance this season of the popular comedian, Harry Clay Blaney, in his successful military play, "Across the Pacific," which has been seen here several times before.

The Bijou audience accepted it with the old-time enthusiasm and did not seem to appreciate that it was given with a better cast than heretofore. Harry Clay Blaney, the star of the outfit, as usual, had that "ingrowing voice" with which he was accredited when he appeared here before, and one cannot but wonder why he should be made the principal star of even such a mediocre company. The company which surrounds Mr. Blaney this season is very decidedly better than any that he has yet had with him, but even for a Bijou audience he should do better, when he thinks that simple horse-play is all that is necessary to fill a great big theater like the Bijou. The play has previously been discussed here and is well known to be one of those exciting melodramatic affairs which entice enthusiastic patrons of the drama of the lurid type to attend the theaters. It is well mounted at the Bijou and the characters throughout are well taken. The scenery is on a scale that has been seldom equaled and it is expected that the record for receipts in the new theater will be broken by the advance sale which has been recorded at the two box offices.

Duquesne Garden—"Faust."

Lovers of "Faust" will find at the Duquesne Garden a production more meritorious than is usually attempted by a summer opera company. The scenery is good, the costumes are better and the singing is generally of good quality. Mr. Goff, as Valentine, and Miss Edith Mason in the role of Marguerite, divided the honors at the performance last night. Mr. Goff rendered his part in a manner which provoked frequent applause from the audience. Miss Mason was a refined and delicate Marguerite and her sweet soprano voice is well adapted to the part. Mr. Persse did not meet with ease the trying requirements of Faust, but taken altogether his rendition was pleasing, especially in the final scene. The Mephistopheles of Mr. Dunsmore was vigorous, but he failed to dominate the stage as do artists of the first order. He seemed to lack enthusiasm. Miss Tannehill sustained the part of Siebel in a manner creditable both to her vocal accomplishments and to her intelligence of the part, and Miss Victoria Blumee, as Martha, supplied the one bit of humor as delightfully and as unostentatiously as could be desired. The attendance last evening was large and an intelligent appreciation of the opera was evident.

In the palm garden Sallie Fisher made a decided hit with some new songs, and Mamie Remington and her pickaninnies continued their success of last week. Altogether "closing week" at the garden promises to be one of the best of the season.

Academy—"Bon Ton Burlesquers."

The Bon-Ton Burlesquers were the attraction at Harry Williams' academy last evening and the house was crowded to the limit. The company is a good one and is elegantly costumed. The skits were well received and the wit was thoroughly enjoyed. The only defect in the entertainment was that the management could not provide even standing room for the patrons of the house.

Summer Safeguards

It is the duty of the head of every household to provide against the health-perils peculiar to summer. Promptness in the treatment of these maladies would often prevent serious illness, perhaps death.—MUNYON.

Munyon's Homeopathic Home Remedies are the surest safeguards against disease. If they are not in the house they should be bought and kept on hand. In case of sudden development of the symptoms of any trouble the proper cure for that trouble should immediately be obtained at the druggist's.

For indigestion and dyspepsia take Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure. For headache from heat, or caused by nervousness or prostration, take Munyon's Headache Cure—it will cure in three minutes. For biliousness, jaundice and liver troubles Munyon's Liver Cure affords quick and permanent relief. TWELVE PAGES.

Relieving Congestion.

Heroic efforts to lift the freight blockade in the Pittsburgh district on Sunday resulted in temporary relief, but there is no guarantee that conditions will not be worse again at the end of the week. Spurts of this kind do not take care of a vast tonnage steadily increasing. Men and motive power are more likely to be overworked, entailing more serious consequences. Men are already driven to the limit—beyond the safe limit in some cases—and permanent remedies must be sought in the line of higher efficiency. More tracks and terminals must be provided, but they are a work of time. Pending the acquisition of these, it is mainly a question of making every man, every locomotive and every facility count at their highest value.

False Pride and Violence.

Developments in the anthracite coal region are not encouraging. Gen. Gobin has been talking to operators and miners in the effort to find a basis for settlement, but has found nothing to give him hope. A few of the individual operators, it is said, would like to find some way to grant concessions without stultifying themselves. Fear of stultification is a poor excuse for withholding an honorable proposition, though it may be assumed such pride is operating on both sides to prolong the struggle which is so costly to both sides.

Meantime there is more rioting. Men who want to work are prevented from entering mines by violence. Yesterday a father was assaulted and nearly killed for trying to rescue his non-union son from the hands of furious strikers. Those crimes of the miners fully offset the original refusal of the operators to arbitrate. Public sympathy for either side is being worn very thin and the demand grows louder from all quarters that false pride shall be dropped and a settlement be made, on penalty of state interference to prevent, in future, the unseemly disorder characteristic of the anthracite region. The state has a right to protect itself and to guard the public welfare.

M. Cambon's Transfer.

Ambassador Cambon, according to the latest report, goes not to Berlin, as was first said, nor yet to St. Petersburgh, which was mentioned as an alternative, but to Madrid. The Paris correspondent of the London Times has it that "M. Cambon is probably sent to this point on account of his special knowledge of Mediterranean questions which are likely to become paramount in the years to come." Perhaps this is not the real reason, but one explanation is as good as another. It is somewhat curious that M. Cambon's predecessor at Washington was also transferred to Madrid. Where M. Patenotre will be sent when displaced by M. Cambon does not appear. Whether France has some special object in moving her ambassadors through Washington to Madrid is not on the surface, but she probably has not, and it may be that it just happens that way. There are no questions between the United States and Spain in which France has a more than passing interest, and there is little knowledge now to be gained in the United States that can be of special value at Madrid. Therefore, the statement that M. Cambon is sent to Madrid because of his knowledge of Mediterranean questions will explain the transfer as well as it could be explained by any other statement. If there is to be activity in the Mediterranean involving international relations, the diplomatic wires may have terminals in European capitals, but the theater of events or bone of contention will probably be found in Northern Africa. It will be worth while to watch for happenings.

One Military Problem.

If the United States is to have a general commanding its army some real occupation ought to be devised for him. Gen. Miles is an ambitious man of active mind, suffering for want of a field of usefulness in which to give full play to his energies. As a result he is continually mixing himself up with matters that others consider their peculiar concern and none of his business, and as a result there is constant friction between the commanding general and the war department instead of the harmony that ought to prevail. As the machinery of the war department and of the army is constituted the post of commanding general is one of dignity and emolument rather than of real authority. The secretary of war under the president is the actual and the commanding general merely the nominal head of the military establishment. Gen. Miles is not satisfied with the mere pretense of commanding, and other commanding generals before him have not been pleased with the situation. It would be much better to have no commanding general than one who is out of touch and out of sympathy with the war department.

The only suggestion that has gone to the root of the difficulty for the purpose of ending it appeared in the attempt to abolish the position in the bill that created a general staff for the conduct of army affairs and the study of army problems. This may be the only way to remedy the evils of the existing situation, and the approaching termination of Gen. Miles' term on the active list may afford the opportunity that has been long sought to produce complete harmony in military high places. But the same end may perhaps be attained by giving the commanding general real work that will keep him so well employed that he will be satisfied.

Expensive Correction.

Ohio is finding it quite expensive to rectify a political mistake. The legislature, convened in extraordinary session yesterday, is to pass a code bill rendered necessary by the nullification of municipal legislation by the supreme court. The original trouble in Ohio was the desire of the politicians to have special privileges in their various cities. They neglected to wait for the court to pass upon the first special bill before passing others, so that when the blow fell it struck down the government of every important city in the state.

The matter of special legislation for cities has been widely discussed. Everybody knows the decision of the Ohio supreme court is directly opposed to the train of decisions of the Pennsylvania supreme court, upholding classification of cities and counties. That part of the subject may be passed. But surely the Ohio example should be instructive on the point of making haste slowly in the adoption of doubtful legislation. It will cost a pretty penny to mend the breach, and in the meantime the cities are exposed to certain dangers.

The President's Speeches.

The time is ripe for just such oratory as that being given to the people of New England by President Roosevelt. "Political speaking" neither fairly nor accurately describes it, though in the highest sense it is politics of the most serious kind that the president is talking. Its first striking feature is its absolute frankness. Roosevelt is not nor has he ever been "a trimmer." His elevation to the chief magistracy, with the natural ambition of a possible elective term, has not altered him any in this respect. He tells the truth. His New England speeches have been after the order of his address in Pittsburgh on Independence Day, only there is an amplification of facts, an added confidence and strength of purpose to do the right thing. In the second place there is a total absence of anything in the president's discussion of industrial problems that smacks of demagogism. He is not engaged in an effort to tear down anything, but to regulate conditions to the common good. There is no compromising with evils, but there is also no appeal to passion.

The Monroe Doctrine.

Chauncey Depew, senator and peach, doubtless sees and hears much to amuse and interest him on his various trips to Europe, and on this latest trip from which he has just returned, he was much interested by the European opinions of J. Pierpont Morgan, and was both interested and amused by the latest development of English ideas concerning the Monroe doctrine. The English, according to Senator Depew, think now that the Monroe doctrine is "a rule whereby the United States takes under her protection all the countries in North and South America. Therefore they think that if the so-called Triple Alliance should make war against Great Britain and attack her colonies—which would be the first thing, of course, that a foreign power would do—the United States would be obliged under the doctrine to protect Canada and other British colonies with her army and navy."

This is, of course, the view of the plain people of England, but not of the government, and may explain the popularity of the United States with the rank and file of Englishmen, who are vastly impressed with the prowess of J. Pierpont Morgan. According to Mr. Depew they think Morgan can do almost anything, and with one hand tied behind his back at that. Naturally, as a consequence, they must think that the America that is behind Morgan is equal to all comers, when Morgan is equal to so much, and that if any Triple Alliance or any other alliance attempts to monkey with the Monroe doctrine by laying violent hands on British American territory there will be a badly crippled alliance in some international hospital, and a correspondingly elated John Bull. The ease with which Rear Admiral Higginson disposed of the invading Pillsbury will perhaps tend to confirm this view when news of it reaches the Britons. We are, of course, as much amused as the senatorial peach, but as our British cousins are happy in the delusion and it doesn't do them any harm, it will be just as well to let them go on hugging it.

Illogical Arguments.

One of the most remarkable developments in the preliminary stages of the fall campaign is the interest displayed by some alleged Republican papers in the county Democracy. From day to day these organs descant upon the manner in which the Democrats have been cheated by the Citizens party in the distribution of places upon the fusion ticket. According to their summing up the Democrats are getting very little as their share of a possible victory.

The Gazette is frank to say the matter is not of great moment to it. But it is pertinent to point out a want of logic in the whole argument. The chance of the Democrats to elect men to congress, the legislature of county offices in Allegheny county is limited to one representative at Harrisburg and one county commissioner. Such has been their experience for years. Now they have made a combination with another political body which promises a possibility of getting slightly more. Of course, the Democrats are the judges of what share of the increased chance to which they are entitled. It is not much if their unaided achievements is the measure of their deserving.

So far the fusion has been considered purely on a business basis, and the presumption that the Democrats are selfishly interested from a party standpoint. On this basis it is difficult to understand the clamor of papers claiming to be Republican for a larger Democratic representation. But if Democratic professions of desire to secure better government or a better class of men in office are to be given any weight, then the solicitousness of the organs is seen in another aspect. Yet the logic is not changed. If it is new men they want, it makes no difference to the Democrats what party the new men belong to, as long as they are the right kind of men.

Child Labor.

Discussions in the newspapers growing out of publications that cotton duck mills of Hartford, Conn., and other New England cotton mills are about to move to the south to obtain the benefit of child labor is arousing public sentiment in states where child labor is regulated, but has made little impression where it is unregulated. Southern newspapers are grappling with the subject and in time will arouse a public spirit that will be equal to the establishment of healthier conditions. The Raleigh (S. C.) News and Observer states that there are at least 9,000 children under 12 years of age working in southern factories, at wages of from 10 to 30 cents a day, and that "all efforts in behalf of remedial legislation for this deplorable state of things are blocked by the dominant legislative influence of the mill owners." However, there is no need to be discouraged. Attention having been called to the evil it will be in time abolished as other evils have been abolished and as this same evil has been abolished in other states. Child labor may give southern cotton manufacturers a temporary advantage, but we mistake the temper of the southern people if they will be long satisfied with any measure of prosperity, great or small, brought about by such means. Besides, when the southern manufacturers find that equally greedy competitors are attracted from the north to obtain the benefit of the conditions they enjoy, they may not think it worth while to fight to continue them. It is pitiable to think of the sacrifice involved in the employment of 9,000 children of such tender years in factories, but until the public sentiment of the states in which it is going on rises superior to it, it will continue. The people of other states may, however, stimulate the growth of such public sentiment by persistent and well directed criticism.

The county school teachers have assembled in their annual institute for mutual instruction and benefit and the program as outlined from day to day promises a more than usually interesting session. Allegheny county is to be congratulated upon the high grade of public school service she maintains and much of this excellence is due to the enterprise and progressive spirit stimulated among the teachers by these yearly gatherings.

Those Maryland congressional candidates who are still quarreling over the Schley affair, would not know a "closed incident" if they were to meet it in the road.

Senator Gorman and D. B. Hill have met and buried the hatchet. Mr. Bryan is sure to interpret this action as another stab at Democratic harmony.

TAMMANY BRAVES ARE IN WAR PAINT

Fierce Fighting Is Promised in Primaries, With a Good Chance for Bloodshed.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Aug. 25.

That there will be lively times in New York city at the approaching primary elections is a foregone conclusion. Many signs indicate that the melee will include a very large percentage of the entire Tammany forces, and that there will be bitter fighting, legally, and perhaps physically. It is a time-honored tradition that "colonization" is inseparable from primaries in this city. This year, with Richard Croker's firm hand removed and everyone striving for control, the certainty of a merry war among the braves is not to be ignored. Superintendent McCullagh of the bureau of elections has marshaled his detectives, and they think they have obtained evidence of a gigantic conspiracy in some of the districts to carry the primaries by hook or crook—especially crook. In the Twenty-ninth assembly district, which embraces the middle East Side, there is fierce rivalry between the Tammany triumvirs, who are nominally in control of the organization, and John F. Carroll, formerly Croker's right-hand man. The three men dubbed by Devery, "Sport," "Two-Spot" and "Joke," deny that they have anything to do with the battle which has already begun to rage there, but Carroll intimates that he knows what he knows. It is openly charged by him that a system of "colonization" has begun, and it is said that scores of "lodgers" have been already brought into the district, so that they can record their votes on election day. In one house, in Eighty-fourth street, wholesale preparations have been made to accommodate "floaters." In two rooms on the parlor floor 13 cot beds, destitute of sheets, pillows or bed clothing of any sort, are piled promiscuously. On the floor above in three small rooms, none of which is much larger than a hall bedroom, 27 more cot beds are ranged alongside of each other. There is a straw mattress on each cot, but no bedclothing. Voters will occupy these cots and will cast their ballots, too, unless the law interfers, and gives them accommodation in prison cells instead. This kind of thing is repeated in other parts of town in the campaign just beginning. Independently of anything that may happen in "Big Bill" Devery's Ninth district.

Hope Springs Eternal.

Again we hear that Roland B. Molineux has new evidence that surely will lead to his acquittal. Gen. Molineux, the prisoner's father, declares that there can be no doubt of his son's release, and his attorneys say the same thing. During the summer months very little is heard of big murder cases, but with the approach of September there is always a revival of interest in such matters. It is said that young Molineux has written several plays while in confinement, but they will not be allowed out of his hands until after the trial. Gen. Molineux said today that he had no desire to make capital out of his son's difficulties by putting forth the plays, in spite of some flattering offers made for the manuscripts.

Not Even a Pun.

It is no joke to swim 16 miles in rough water, even in August. The seven men that plunged into the water at the harbor, intending to swim to Coney island yesterday, found this out before they had passed the statute of liberty. Six of the men gave it up then, but the last man stuck to it manfully until he had covered the whole distance. He has no desire to try it again, however, now that he has made a record.

Death Touches Croker's Heart.

Whatever may be said about Richard Croker by his enemies, no one denies that he has a warm heart under his sometimes gruff exterior. A cablegram received in this city from him today will save the body of an old servant of his from interment in the potter's field. The man died in hospital, without means and without friends in this city. He was at one time Mr. Croker's valet. The cablegram from Wantage orders that the remains shall be buried in consecrated ground, with due respect, Richard Croker defraying the expense. The deceased was a Catholic, and his body will lie in Calvary cemetery.

Has Good Old Democratic Name.

Discussion over the governorship of New York is rife in the corridors of hotels where politics is the nightly fare. State politics is tangled in New York as in Pennsylvania, and this is particularly true of the conditions prevailing in the Democratic party. Who is the strongest man? Prominent business men in the Democratic party throughout the state intend, if possible, to bring about the nomination for governor of Chief Judge Alton B. Parker, of the court of appeals, despite his avowal that he would not be considered as a candidate. The large commercial and banking interests, they say, demand Mr. Parker as their candidate, and in the proposed movement to induce the judge to change his mind the organizers will have the hearty co-operation of former Senator David B. Hill, who just now is undisputed leader of the state forces.

Smoke Up for Your Complexion.

Consolation is offered for the annoyances of thick atmosphere caused by soft coal smoke. New York has been groping through smoke for several weeks, as a consequence of the miners' strike in Pennsylvania, and it was generally believed that there were no mitigating conditions in it. But it seems now that there is, on the authority of a complexion specialist. He says that the moist, smoky air is a capital thing for producing a delicate bloom on feminine cheeks. There is reason in this, for where in America can you find prettier complexions, or more of them in proportion to the whole number of complexion wearers, than in Pittsburgh? And it cannot be denied that Pittsburgh is smoky—in spots.

Hello Girls Breathe Easier.

From Chicago comes the threat to place an automatic telephone service in New York. The "hello" girls do not believe it will be done, and men who have expert knowledge of telephone appartus agree with the girls. There are about 5,000 feminine operators of telephone switchboards in this city and all are busy throughout the working day. They are not afraid of losing their situations. They base their confidence on an expression by a superintendent who is supposed to know as much about telephoning as any man in America. He said today: "In my opinion New York need not take too seriously this report regarding an automatic telephone. To begin with, this kind of telephone is a very delicate affair, easily put out of order, and in need of constant repairing. It could never be of use for a large circuit, such as has to be in all large cities. Consequently I do not see where its usefulness comes in."

Rialto Hears Newport Applause.

Bulletins were received in all the theater managers' offices tonight of the progress of the performances at Beaulieu. At intervals someone would come in with a telegram just received from some of the "Wild Rose" or "Williams & Walker" company, telling how the show was going and how everybody was making a stupendous hit. There is no doubt that the Newport show went well, for everyone up and down the Rialto declares he knows it did.

Just What They Wanted.

A swain and his sweetheart went around the loop-the-loop at Coney island yesterday. They were evidently from the country, and the mischievous "loop" manager recognized the fact. So, just before the machine started he instructed the couple to seize each other around the neck and hold on desperately throughout the trip. The crowd had the edifying spectacle of Reuben and Deborah hugging each other with a death grip as they went around and maintaining their hold after the journey was ended. "Have another ride?" asked the manager. "Sure, half a dozen," shouted Reuben, and the maiden coyly indorsed the resolve, as they clasped each other's neck for the next voyage.

Grief Drives Her from Beauty.

Pathos is not unsual in police courts in every city. This element was more in evidence than usual when Bertha Neineman, a 16-year-old girl, was arraigned this morning, charged with running away from her home in New Jersey. Bertha has a hare-lip. The disfigurement made her so unhappy that she ran away a day or two ago, intending to commit suicide. She did not carry out that purpose, but came to New York, where she was obliged to seek refuge in the city lodging house last night. She said that she could not bear the sight of her handsome brothers and sisters, with the knowledge that her affliction made her less attractive than they. Moreover, she wanted to be a school-teacher, and she was afraid that her physical disability would render that impossible. So she came to New York, the refuge of so many people of all ages who want to get away from themselves in the maelstrom of a great city. What will be done with Bertha has not yet been settled. Her case was adjourned until Wednesday.

Question—Where Did They Get It?

Stories come here from Saratoga of stiff gambling by some well-known Tammany men. The games have been running wide open, and a lot of New Yorkers have been plunging wildly. It is said that gambling houses have been hit hard in the last two days, and that much of the money will come to New York. On the other hand, it is said that two Tammany men known to have received salaries of $1,500 a year, lost $6,000 and $2,500 respectively a night or two ago. This is the last week of the race meeting at Saratoga, however, and it is expected that the New Yorkers who have been flying high for the last few weeks will soon be back on Broadway, preparatory to their flight to Sheepshead Bay to see the Futurity. New York seems to have the gambling fever almost as bad as Saratoga—among a certain class, of course.

Leaves Greatest Attraction Behind.

The big Anchor line steamer Columbia, which brought The Gazette teachers home, has started for England again. She was a prominent object at the foot of West Twenty-fourth street all last week, but this morning, when passengers on the ferryboats at Twenty-third street looked for the three gigantic black smokestacks, they were missing, and the slip in which the Columbia had been lying since bringing The Gazette party home was empty. The absence of the great liner made the whole neighborhood seem bare, for she had filled a great deal of space as she lay in her dock.

Horse Still Has His Occasional Day.

Runaways are not uncommon on the Speedway in this city, but yesterday was a banner day with them. A lot of the fast trotters became unmanageable at different times in the day, and it is somewhat remarkable that there were no serious accidents, considering how many of the thoroughbreds took it into their heads to bolt. A few bruises was the sum total of damage, however. To keep up the excitement a young woman riding horseback in Central park was thrown off, but was not hurt. All this in a day when automobiles are supposed to be driving the horse out of use.

Sun Dodgers Fail to Dodge Cops.

There is a gang of hoodlums infesting Central park who call themselves "Sun Dodgers." The word is suggestive of their doings, for they skulk about in dark places, looking for opportunities to rob or annoy unprotected women. It is comforting to know that four of the rascals were sent to prison today for a few weeks, so that they will not have so much trouble in dodging the sun as if they were at liberty. In a big city like New York it is unavoidable that such scamps should come to the surface now and then. Happily there is a vigilant police force here, whatever may be the shortcomings of some of its individuals.

Agree With London on "New Clown."

The first of Charles Frohman's theaters to open for the season threw open its doors tonight. It was the Carrick, and the play was "The New Clown," which came to Broadway with the London stamp of approval upon it. Jessie Busley had the principal part, and there were other good actors in the cast. The first nighters turned out in force to do honor to the Frohman premiere, and Marshall Wilder, with a few brand new jokes, was particularly in evidence in the lobby, as the well-dressed, well-groomed, happy looking crowd filed in. The opening of the Frohman chain of theaters in New York is always a social event of its kind, and there was no lack of gaiety in West Thirty-fifth street this evening when the pretty little theater swallowed up the seemingly endless procession of people one expects to see on an occasion of this kind. Mr. Frohman himself was there, and it may be said truthfully that the whole affair was a success on both sides of the footlights.

SPLENDID JEWEL FOR POPE AT ROME

Magnificent Engraved Topaz to Be Bought by Subscription.

By the MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

Don Alphonso de Bourbon, known to many of his American friends at Nice and Cannes by the name of Count Caserta, and who is a claimant to the now defunct throne of Naples, as well as to the title of king of the two Sicilies and of Jerusalem, has just started a subscription among Catholics throughout the world for the purpose of presenting to the pope a gem formerly owned by the reigning house of Naples, the history of which is somewhat strange.

The most remarkable topaz in the world, a magnificent Brazilian stone, weighing in the neighborhood of four pounds, was in the 18th century regarded as one of the principal crown jewels of the reigning house of Naples and the two Sicilies. In the early part of the last century it was turned over to Prof. Andrea Cariello for the purpose of engraving it with a representation of the last supper. He devoted 10 years to the work and spent $20,000 in diamonds, diamond powder, etc., needed for the cutting of the stone.

Meanwhile the reigning house of Naples had become involved in those difficulties which culminated in its overthrow and the stone remained on the hands of the family of the professor who had done the cutting.

King Died in Poverty.

The late King Francis of Naples, who died in exile, was involved in such financial difficulties he was obliged to pledge all his silver pate and his own jewelry, as well as that of his wife, at Attenborough's, the great London pawnbrokers. It was, therefore, out of the question for him to pay either for the cutting of the topaz or for the expenses incurred by the cutter in connection therewith. The heir and successor of ex-King Francis, namely, the count of Caserta, is equally badly off, having a family of near two score children and very little to keep them on.

So having been appealed to by the heirs of Prof. Andrea Cariello for settlement of their claim in connection with the stone the count has now declared that being unable to pay the bill he must leave them in the legal possession of the topaz, to which he renounces all further rights of ownership. Realizing, however, that the stone would be more or less of a white elephant for the Cariellos, he has suggested to them they should hold it until through his efforts a public subscription can be raised with a view to its purchase and presentation to Leo XIII.

This proposal has met widespread approval, the more so as the work of the late Prof. Cariello is declared to be the finest and most exquisite piece of precious stone engraving that has been achieved in modern times—no one being more enthusiastic about the matter than the learned director of the National museum at Naples. A committee has now been formed at Naples under the presidency of the archbishop for the raising of subscriptions.

Cardinal's Costly Error.

Apropos of Rome I hear a curious story as to the reason why Cardinal Gotti was chosen for the position of "Red Pope"—that is, of Prefect of the Propaganda—rather than Cardinal Vincent Vannutelli, who was generally regarded at Rome and abroad as destined to succeed the late Cardinal Ledochowski. It seems that at the moment of the operation performed on Leo XIII, some time ago, Cardinal Vannutelli summoned a meeting of his special adherents—cardinals and prelates of minor rank—for the order to decide upon a course of action in the event of the death of the aged pontiff. The latter, on his recovery, learned of this meeting and its purpose, and resented deeply that a fatal issue of the operation performed upon him should have been thus discounted.

It is for this reason that Vannutelli was passed over in connection with the appointment of prefect of the propaganda, and was given instead an office even less important and lucrative than the one which he had held until then.

Cardinal Gotti is winning golden opinions by the courteous and democratic manner in which he is administering the duties of prefect of the propaganda. The late Cardinal Ledochwoski, a Polish nobleman, was possessed of the most irritable temper, haughty disposition, and was so impatient of all contradiction, that, especially towards the last, it became almost impossible to transact business with him. His arrogance, even in his intercourse with the other members of the Sacred College, was something beyond all conception. Cardinal Gotti, although a prince of the church, never forgets his humble birth, and that he is the son of a longshoreman at Genoa, and has remained, in spite of his elevation to the purple, as simple and even humble in his demeanor as when he was a barefooted monk.

Byron's Coronet in America.

I read in the English papers that Lord Byron, at the coronation of King Edward, appeared in the coronation robes and coronet of his distinguished predecessor in the title, namely, the famous poet, Lord Byron. While the present peer may have worn the poet's robes at the recent coronation, he certainly did not wear his coronet.

For the latter is in this country, and when last I saw it it was on the hospitable table of the late George Washington Childs at Philadelphia, who, having removed the ermine bordering, and the red velvet cap with which it was lined, had turned it inside down, and was using it as a potato dish holder. It rested on the five balls that indicated the poet's rank in the peerage, namely, that of baron, and inside a little sort of contrivance had been arranged for a spirits-of-wine lamp, which, when lighted, had the effect of keeping the silver potato dish above nice and hot.

So if the present Lord Byron really appeared in the famous poet's coronet at King Edward's coronation, he must have borrowed for the purpose from the widow of the late George Washington Childs the latter's odd potato dish holder.

Death Penalty in Switzerland.

In monarchical countries it is the sovereign who enjoys the prerogative of clemency, and who determines whether a capital sentence is to be executed or commuted. In most republics it is the president, or the governor of the state who enjoys this prerogative. In certain cantons of Switzerland, where the death penalty is still in force, such as for instance in Friburg, it is argued the people have the right to exercise sovereign powers, and it is contrary to republican ideas to place in the hands of any one man the right of life and death over his fellow-creatures.

Accordingly, whenever a sentence of death is pronounced by the courts, the question as to its execution or commutation is referrred to the cantonel diet, elected by universal suffrage, and the latter votes as to whether the sentence shall be carried out or modified.

At a session just held by the grand council or diet of Friburg, which is one of the smallest of Swiss cantons, 75 members voted in favor of the execution of the sentence, 23 in favor of a commutation, while five, following the example of Pontius Pilate, deposited blank votes in the ballot box. On the strength of this vote the man was beheaded by the guillotine ten hours later.

A Feeling Akin to Sadness.

From the Philadelphia Press.

To the regret of a great many people in Pittsburgh, Recorder Brown has put in writing a very positive statement that he will not be a candidate for the nomination next February. There were so many who were looking forward to the pleasure of giving him a licking at the polls that the announcement has caused pretty widespread disappointment. But Brown will follow his great and good friends, Gov. Stone and Senator Flinn, into retirement. One by one the roses fade.

PERSONALS.

H. K. Taylor, who is connected with the United States treasury department as a supervising architect, passed through Pittsburgh to the west last night. "I think the government," said he, "will be ready to receive sealed proposals for the erection of the Pittsburgh Marine hospital not later than the latter part of September. An agent will be in Pittsburgh tomorrow and will inspect all the sites offered for the hospital. He will then make a report as to their availability, and, as soon as a site is selected and secured, bids will be invited for the erection of the building."

Ex-Senator William H. Andrews, Francis J. Torrance and others went to Santa Fe, New Mexico, in the special Pullman Edgerme last night.

Judge J. H. Reed and a party of United States Steel Corporation officials will leave at 9 o'clock this morning in a special car for British Columbia, where they will make an inspection of the ore mines of that country.

Harold Hudson, who is connected with the engineering department of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad, returned to his home last night. He had been visiting his father, Col. Thomas J. Hudson, ex-assistant postmaster, and chief of ordnance of the Pennsylvania national guard, who resides in the East End.

John Goodman of Leeds, C. N. Moberly of Ipswich, and A. O. and A. V. Whitehead of York, and L. Cust of London, England, are at the Monongahela house. They are making a tour of this country and are visiting all its leading industries. They will pass four days in Pittsburgh. They express themselves pleased with everything but the American newspapers, which, they say, do not give sufficient English news.

M. M. Garland, surveyor of the port of Pittsburgh and former president of the Amalgamated association, has accepted an invitation to make the principal address at the Labor Day celebration at Youngstown.

W. J. Stocker, an English woolen manufacturer of Liverpool, England, is registered at the Hotel Lincoln.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

Among those at the hotels last night were the following persons from nearby towns:

Henry—H. W. Thornton, Akron, O.; E. M. Treat, Barnesville, O.; Robert Miller, Wellsville, O.; W. J. Rowland, Fairmont, W. Va.; R. C. Stiefel, Ellwood City, Pa.; E. W. Whitcombe, Sharon, Pa.

THE DEATH ROLL.

John Tanner Patterson.

While his wife and all the other members of his family save two, were spending their vacations away from the city, John Tanner Patterson died at his home, No. 316 Pacific avenue, East End, Sunday afternoon at 2:20 o'clock, aged 66 years. The cause of his death was apoplexy, he having suffered from a stroke late Saturday night. Mr. Patterson was one of the most widely-known of Pittsburgh's stock brokers and has been a member of the Pittsburgh stock exchange since its organization. After closing his office for the week last Saturday evening Mr. Patterson went to his home in Pacific avenue, where he dined with his son, John T., Jr., and a daughter. With his son he went out walking in the evening and returned home about 10 o'clock. Leaving his son on the front porch he told him he was going to take a bath and the son left the house for a few moments. When he returned a colored servant met him at the door and told him his father had fainted on the stairs. Mr. Patterson never regained consciousness before death. About a year ago Mr. Patterson suffered a series of nasal hemorrhages, from which his physician believed he never fully recovered. John Tanner Patterson was a son of James A. and Jane Tanner Patterson and was born in the Second ward, Pittsburgh, in 1836. He engaged in the wholesale notion business for over 30 years and sold out that business to start a brokerage office. He was well-known in Pittsburgh and had an office at No. 316 Fourth avenue for many years. He was a member of St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church and is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Dravo Patterson, five daughters and one son, John T., Jr., all single and at home. The funeral services will be held from his late home this afternoon at 3 o'clock and will be in charge of the Rev. Dr. E. H. Ward, pastor of St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church. The interment will be made in the Allegheny cemetery.

Miss Agnes Johnston Mitchell.

Miss Agnes Johnston Mitchell is dead at the home of her brother-in-law, Edwin M. Hill, No. 5502 Stanton avenue, East End. She had been ill for the past eight months with cancer and her death at 6:45 o'clock last night was not unexpected. About two months ago Miss Mitchell went to Chicago, where she underwent an operation in the hope of saving her life. It was all to no benefit and she returned to Pittsburgh two weeks ago. Then she gradually grew worse until her death last night. She was born in Allegheny in 1858 and was the daughter of the late Thomas Mitchell. She was for several years a member of the Sixth United Presbyterian church, East End.

Funeral of William Fleming.

The funeral services over the remains of William Fleming, for many years prominent in the oil fields of Western Pennsylvania, who died Saturday night, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at his late home in Oil City, Pa. Mr. Fleming was an extensive operator in the oil fields of Butler, Armstrong and McKean counties and for some time after 1886 was identified with the Standard Oil Company in an advisory capacity. During more recent years he was vice president and general manager of the Ohio Oil Company, which positions he held until a few months ago, when he was compelled to retire owing to failing health. He was born in Indiana county, Pennsylvania, October 12, 1842. During the civil war he was a private in Company A, Seventy-eighth Pennsylvania volunteers. Mr. Fleming is survived by his widow, three daughters, the Misses Maude. He is also survived by his father, Thomas Fleming

WILL NOT MEET TO PLAN TROUBLE FOR M. S. QUAY

Recorder Brown Says Local State Committeemen Will Not Caucus.

THE CHAIRMAN FRIENDLY

Willing to Adopt a Resolution Recognizing the Local Organization. Beaver Man May Be Here Wednesday—Citizens Committee to Meet.

Recorder J. O. Brown says he knows of no meeting of the local members of the Republican state committee previous to the gathering of the body in Philadelphia next week. It has been announced that the committeemen of this county were outlining some rule-making plans.

"While I am not a member of the committee," said the recorder-man, "I have not heard that the members intended to meet here going to Philadelphia."

Chairman M. S. Quay of the state committee is disposed to comply with almost any request made by the local organization except to favor a resolution presented by Judge Pennypacker from accepting the Citizens indorsement. The local organization will be given all the recognition desired. It is said that Chairman Quay is even willing to have a resolution adopted setting forth that the machine is "fit." There are eight members of the state committee from this county, including the two members-at-large, who live here.

Citizens Meeting Today.

The Citizens county committee will meet today to announce the committees that will have charge of the detail work of the campaign. It is possible that Chairman Walter Evans, who is in New Jersey, may not be here, but the meeting will be held anyway. Thomas S. Bigelow probably will be made chairman of the finance committee and William B. Hays is said to be slated as the head of the campaign committee.

It was reported yesterday that Senator Quay intended to come here this week, possibly tomorrow. The purpose of his visit is not known. He has not been in Pittsburg Yesterday Quay was at Republican state headquarters in Philadelphia and probably will be able to make the trip to Pittsburgh.

Mayor W. J. Brennen, who was to return to the city yesterday and appoint the committee of three to fill vacancies in the Democratic congressional ticket, did not arrive. At his office it was said he would be home this morning. His friends are still confident that he will favor the indorsing of the Citizen candidates.

Clark Will Not Accept.

County Commissioner James A. Clark, who is a candidate for re-election on the fusion ticket, says he would not accept a nomination on the "straight Democratic" ticket prepared by Gov. W. A. Stone. Clark returned from a western tour yesterday and was busy getting a line on political developments during his absence. "While a candidate usually wants to get all the votes he can," said he, "I would not consent to having my name placed on the 'straight' ticket. I am of the opinion that none of the other Democrats who have been nominated for county offices by the fusionists would countenance this latest machine scheme. I cannot see how this movement could be successful. In order to nominate a ticket many signers to the papers would have to be gotten from among the machine men. When this was shown to the Democrats of the county they would not be willing to give assistance. The Democrats will have the best organization this fall the party has ever had in the county. In every district it will work with the Citizen committee. I think we have the fight won."

The Socialist Labor party has nominated a full state and county ticket. William Adams, a paper carrier of Wilmerding, is the nominee for governor. He is not so prominent as the candidate for county treasurer, Valentine Remmel of the South Side. Two years ago Remmel was the candidate of his party for vice president. In the event of the Socialist Labor party winning the local contest, there would be a vacancy on the orphans' court bench, there being a scarcity of lawyers in this political organization. W. H. Peak, coach builder, has taken a nomination for orphans' court judge, notwithstanding the provision of the law requiring a person learned in the law to sit on the bench. The full ticket follows:

The Social Labor Ticket.

For governor, William Adams, Wilmerding; lieutenant-governor, Donald L. Munro, Altoona; secretary of internal affairs, Frank Feehan, Fayette City.

Sheriff, William J. Marshall, a tinner, No. 406 River avenue, Allegheny; clerk of courts, Charles G. Watt, machinist, Edgewood borough; treasurer, Valentine Remmel, glass worker, No. 75 Arlington avenue, Pittsburgh; register of wills, Henry R. Mangold, heater, No. 2120 Sarah street, Pittsburgh; recorder of deeds, David Lentz, ironworker, No. 70 Eureka street, Pittsburgh; county controller, William C. Tyson, ironworker, No. 211 Carey alley, Pittsburgh; county commissioners, James A. McConnell, machinist, Sterrett township, and Fred Herrington, machinist, No. 25 Knox avenue, Pittsburgh; director of the poor, O. T. Maroski, machinist, Wilmerding; judge of common pleas court No. 1, Thomas Lowry, lawyer, No. 422 Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh; judge of orphans' court, W. H. Peak, coach builder, No. 90 Natchez street.

For congress, Twenty-ninth district, William E. Hunt, hammerman, No. 1413 Hopkins street, Allegheny; Thirtieth district, Hamlet Jackson, steamfitter, Braddock; Thirty-first district, John F. Dalzell, machinist, No. 5807 Hays street; Thirty-second district, D. E. Gilchrist, electrician, No. 617 Gearing avenue.

For state senate, Forty-second district, Enos Schwartz, machinist, No. 1019 Berry street, Allegheny; Forty-fourth district, P. C. Tesson, machinist, No. 4020 Harrison street.

For the legislature, First district, William J. Eberle and George A. Stoecker; Second district, Joseph Preece and Burt Rigg; Third district, J. L. Rosemeyer and H. T. Locke; Fifth district, J. M. McCormick, H. A. Goff, Jr., John Desmond, William G. Cowan; Sixth district, Charles H. Rupp and Thomas Yochum; Seventh district, Lorenz Heilinch and Frank Schloeter; Eighth district, James Illingworth.

Adolph Edlis, a candidate for assemblyman in the Third district on the Republican ticket, was yesterday defeated for supreme president of the Order of Knights of Joseph. The convention was held in Chicago. Samuel Fine of Cincinnati was elected.

RESCUED AT SEA FROM DRIFTWOOD

SUPPOSED DROWNED MAN RETURNED TO HIS HOME.

Was Carried Out From Coney Island By Undertow While Bathing and Picked Up By a Fishing Boat in Mid-Ocean.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Henry W. Hollenberg, who disappeared from Coney Island two weeks ago, and who was supposed to have been drowned, arrived at his home in New Rochelle today. He said he was landed there early this morning by a fishing smack, by which he had been picked up at sea. Only members of his family and a physician were allowed to see him. The doctor said that Hollenberg was in no condition to see strangers.

Hollenberg's story is that he was carried out to sea by the undertow while swimming. His cries for help attracted no attention from the crowds on the beach and he had been carried out a long distance when he managed to get hold of a piece of wreckage that drifted toward him and by means of this supported himself until rescued by the fishing smack.

He was dressed in an old suit of clothes which he said had been given to him by the captain of the vessel. The name of the smack is not known, nor is any detail of Hollenberg's strange experience obtainable.

A man named Gray was drowned at Coney Island on the day of Hollenberg's disappearance. His body was recovered. Before it was found the police entertained a theory that Gray and Hollenberg had gone away together and had left suits of clothing in a bathing house to give the impression that they had been drowned.

THE CONTRACT LET FOR NEW HOSPITAL

Action of Citizens and Controller May Cause It to Be Held Up Indefinitely.

Director A. H. Leslie of the department of public safety and Recorder J. O. Brown yesterday opened bids for the erection of engine houses in the Thirty-third and Thirty-second wards, and of the municipal hospital for infectious and contagious diseases at the corner of Bedford avenue and Franklin street. The contract for the municipal hospital was awarded to Kerr & Fox for $76,876, they being the lowest bidders, exclusive of the diphtheria annex, but the contracts for the engine houses were not awarded, because the bids were in excess of the amount provided by the city councils. The bids were as follows:

For the Thirty-third ward engine house, Mark Lydon, specifications A, $13,333; b, $12,263; David Filtz, specifications A, $13,000; B, $11,000. Both bids were rejected because they were in excess of the money appropriated by councils for the erection of the building.

For the Thirty-third ward engine house, F. F. Bollinger bid $23,733 and William Kerr & Sons $27,900. Both bids were rejected. Bollinger's bid was within the appropriation but was not filled out on a regular form. Bids for these engine houses will be again advertised within a few days.

For the municipal hospital the bids were as follows:

Name	Total Amount	Less Diphtheria Ward
George A. Cochran.....	$108,200	$94,300

Wm. Kerr's Sons.....	100,900	86,900

All bids, save that of Kerr & Fox, were rejected because all were in excess of the amount provided by city councils, and the contract was awarded to Kerr & Fox for the erection of the buildings, less the diphtheria ward, for $76,876, and extras, that being the lowest bid received.

The Kerr & Fox company, after the award had been made, said through their representative that they had made a mistake in their bid of $10,000, and that it should have been that much lower.

It is understood that citizens of the ward in which the new municipal hospital is to be located intend to apply for an injunction to restrain the city from erecting the buildings. They will base their injunction suit on the law forbidding the erection of hospitals in built-up portions of cities. It is also said that Controller John B. Larkin will hold up the contract for the same reason.

WEST VIRGINIA RENEWS CLAIM ON JUDGESHIP

Senator Scott Calls on Attorney General Knox to Urge Atkinson for Place.

CANDIDATES IN PLENTY

Since McLaurin Declined Honor Scramble Is On With Renewed Vigor—Mine Strike Drawback to Republicans in Panhandle State.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
605 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 25.

Another fight is to be made by the West Virginia Republicans to secure the vacant judgeship on the court of claims bench in this city for ex-Gov. George W. Atkinson, at present United States attorney of the southern district of West Virginia.

Senator Nathan B. Scott of West Virginia called on Attorney General Knox again this morning to press the claims of Mr. Atkinson, who is represented as being as loyal a Republican as there is in West Virgina, and as possessing every qualification for the place. President Roosevelt set the claims of Mr. Atkinson aside when the fight for the vacancy first arose, and offered the place to Senator McLaurin of South Carolina. Senator McLaurin finally declined the offer, leaving the vacancy about as it was several months ago.

The president has taken no action in the case, and so the West Virginia Republicans are hopeful that they may succeed in landing Mr. Atkinson. The withdrawal of Senator McLaurin reopened the whole case, and all the old candidates and a number of new ones are again being presented.

It is understood from an authoritative source that the president does not contemplate making an appointment in this case before November or December. The vacancy on the supreme bench of the District of Columbia is in the same status, and will not be acted upon for some time.

Speaking of the coal strike, Senator Scott said it would hurt the Republicans in Pennsylvania and West Virginia in the November election. He did not say that the strike itself was at the bottom of this, but said the Republican loss would be due to colored miners and others having gone from Pennsylvania and West Virginia to other states.

"The negro workman is somewhat timid," said Senator Scott, "and when he is threatened with extermination if he takes the places of strikers in the coal fields or wants to go back to work in the coal mines he becomes frightened and emigrates to some other state in search of work. This will lose us some strength in West Virginia this fall. Other than this, Republican prospects were never brighter. The people are in a splendid condition in a business and financial way and are highly satisfied with the way things are going." CHARLES W. METZGAR.

MADE 3,046 LOCOMOTIVES.

Twenty-Eight Establishments in the United States for Their Manufacture Alone.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—A report issued by the census office today, shows a capital of $40,813,793 invested in the manufacture of locomotives in the 28 locomotive works reporting for the United States in 1900. The value of the product is returned as $35,200,048, to produce which involved an outlay of $10,899,614 for wages; $1,369,341 for miscellaneous expenses, including rent, taxes, etc., and $20,174,895 for materials used, mill supplies, freight and fuel.

In 1900 there were 28 establishments the sole or chief product of which was locomotives. At these works 2,774 locomotives of all classes were built, with an aggregate value of $27,121,062, compared with 2,409 locomotives valued at $19,752,465, built in 19 establishments in 1890.

In addition 272 locomotives, valued at $2,276,393 were constructed at 26 railroad shops, making a total of 3,046 locomotives, valued at $30,397,455, built in 54 establishments during the census year 1900.

"STAG BRAND" CANTALOUPES OF EXQUISITE FLAVOR.

Society.

MISS EDNA JOHNSON has gone to Watch Hill for a visit to Miss Alice Painter at the Painter summer home, "Graydon." Miss Johnson has spent the greater portion of the summer near Trenton, N. J., with Miss Scudder, at the Scudder home, a large country place surrounded by its pastures and fields, which have been in the Scudder family for several generations ante-dating the Revolutionary war. Miss Thea Johnson and Miss Marguerite Johnson returned home on Friday after spending a couple of months at Atlantic City. Their mother, Mrs. Sullivan Johnson, came home ten days ago from Atlantic City.

Mrs. William H. House spent the summer at Atlantic City, returning home a week ago. She went to the seashore with her son, Mr. John A. C. House, and was joined a week or so later by her daughter-in-law and her little grandson, William House. They returned home together.

Mrs. James B. Dewhurst, of Western avenue, will close her summer home at Ross Park, near New Florence, the latter part of this week and come home to Allegheny. Her son, Richard M. Dewhurst, will return with her to make ready to go to Philadelphia the latter part of September to resume his studies in the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. Wharton McKnight have been occupying their summer home near Gettysburg this season. Their son, William McKnight, and John M. Kiefer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Kiefer of Fayette street, Allegheny, went down a few days ago to remain for several weeks.

Miss Gertrude Kiefer, Mr. and Mrs. Kiefer's eldest daughter and her younger sister are at Alliance, O., with Mrs. Bert Langenheim of the East End. They will not be home for two or three weeks. Miss Gertrude Keifer's engagement to Parke R. Bachman of Lancaster was recently announced, but the wedding day has not been set. It may not occur before Christmas. Mr. Bachman is a member of the Bachman family formerly living in Baum street, but now located in Sharon. While living in the East End he graduated from the engineering department of the Western University of Pennsylvania in Allegheny.

Mrs. Biddle Arthurs of Center avenue, and her children are staying at Wildwood for the season. Mrs. Arthurs expects to return home in a week or two.

Dr. Henry Hall of Penn avenue, East End, has just returned from a six weeks' trip along the New England shore.

A Talented Visitor.

Miss Jane W. Bostwick has been entertaining at her home in Linden avenue, East End, Miss Beatrice Magill, who has recently returned from Germany, where she visited her brother-in-law, Ambassador Andrew D. White. Miss Magill is a talented artist and has painted successfully. She has lately been an instructor in art at Swarthmore college. Miss Magill is soon to be married to James W. Risk of New York.

Stewart—Hammond.

Miss Bess Stewart, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Stewart of Bayne avenue, Bellevue, and Harry Hammond, son of Charles M. Hammond of Taylor avenue, Allegheny, were married last Friday, August 22, in Cumberland, Md.

BEST WAYS TO COOK EGGPLANT.

This vegetable is now at its best and abundant in the markets, and will be "in season" until the frost kills the outdoor plants. This vegetable is closely allied to the tomato, but cannot be used uncooked like the former vegetable, but it seems designed to take the place of meats on the breakfast and lunch table and not infrequently be served as the principal dinner dish.

While this vegetable is familiar to many housewives all do not know that there are a variety of ways of serving it and many have not experimented beyond the simple method of frying and trying it in lard and serving it for the early morning meal. If this is poorly done and cold, greasy slices of the half-raw vegetable eaten by persons whose digestive powers are sensitive or weak, it is not surprising that their mental slates are averaged for the day and they come to the conclusion that they do not like eggplant, or consider it unfit for human food. This prejudice may easily be removed by those who consider it worth while to take the trouble to not only make the simplest food palatable, but also digestive and nourishing. The simplest method, in cooking, when properly done is generally the most wholesome and although the slices of eggplant, when cooking, have a strong propensity for soaking up fat, this may be entirely avoided and delicious, tender circles, with crisp, golden-brown crust, free from a vestige of grease, will be the result of careful and intelligent preparation of this really dainty and appetizing food.

Try the following method of frying eggplant and enjoy one of the most useful as well as choicest of summer vegetables: Select a medium sized, firm egg plant with glossy, fresh-looking skin. Wipe it with a damp cloth and cut into slices half an inch, or an inch thick; some do not pare the slices, but I prefer to peel them in better shape, but when properly dipped and fried it is better to remove the bitter peel. Dip the slices into egg which has been roughly mixed, but not beaten light; add to each egg a spoonful of warm water to each egg before mixing. From the egg dip the slices into fine bread crumbs, covering completely and smoothly, shaking off the loose crumbs. If these slices are fried in hot fat deep enough to float them, like French fried potatoes, they will become delicately crisp, dry and without a hint of grease, and may be enjoyed by every member of the family who may be allowed to eat "fried foods." For a change the slices may be dipped in frying batter, but this requires a little more care and does not make as attractive a dish as the breaded slices. Some cooks let the slices stand in salted cold water for half an hour before using. Then wipe dry and dipped into the beaten egg and crumbs and fried. When the slices are not seasoned with salt and pepper before dipping them, add the seasoning to the mixed egg.

STEWED EGGPLANT—This is a dainty way to cook the sliced plant. Slice an inch thick and let lie in cold salt water for two hours; then drain and steam them until tender, but not soft enough to break the slices. (The skin must not be removed in this case.) Carefully cover with the beaten egg, seasoned with salt, pepper and a few drops of onion juice; then bread them and fry in deep hot fat just long enough to color them a delicate brown. Arrange them in a circle on a round heated dish with thick tomato sauce or puree in the center, garnish with parsley and serve very hot.

EGGPLANT AU GRATIN—Wash an eggplant, put it into a large kettle of boiling water and boil for an hour. Remove from boiler, cut it into halves and scoop out the pulp in the center, leaving a thin rind next the skin. Chop and mash the pulp, season with salt, pepper and butter and put back into the skins, not filling them quite full. Cover with a thick, white sauce, sprinkle with bread crumbs and bits of butter and bake half an hour. A few chopped mushrooms and minced parsley may be added to this mixture if you want a fancier dish.

STUFFED EGGPLANT—Parboil the eggplant in salted water, then cut it in halves and remove the pulp, chop it coarsely, season with salt, pepper and put into a saucepan with a little butter; stir and cook for ten minutes; then add half the quantity of minced chicken, a large tablespoonful of soft bread crumbs and half a cup of thick gravy, salt, pepper and onion juice to suit the taste. You may add a few chopped mushrooms if you desire. Fill the shells with this mixture or put it in little ramekin dishes and cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a hot oven from 20 minutes to half an hour.

STEWED EGGPLANT—Cook the eggplant whole in a large boiler of slightly salted water until tender enough to pierce with a fork, then cut in half and turn with cut side down on a platter to drain. Remove the skin, cut up and mash the pulp. Season well with a little grated onion, thyme, salt, pepper and two tablespoonfuls of butter. Turn into a buttered dish, spread bread crumbs over the top, dot with bits of butter and bake until a nice brown.

EGGPLANT RISSOLES—Boil the eggplant for half an hour or until tender. Take out, cut in half, drain and peel. Chop up the meat and mix it with two well-beaten eggs, a cup of any cold meat, minced fine half a cup of bread crumbs and season to taste with salt and pepper and a little Worcestershire or mushroom sauce. Form into potato-shaped croquettes and fry a delicate brown in deep fat. Serve with cheese sauce.

EGGPLANT FRITTERS—Boil the eggplant until tender, drain, cut in half and scoop out the pulp, mash and season with salt and pepper. Beat two eggs light, add to a cup of milk and stir this into the eggplant pulp; then add sufficient flour to make a griddle cake batter. Fry them same as other vegetable fritters.

INQUIRIES ANSWERED.

Mrs. H. H. writes: Will you please give me a recipe for grape sherbet?

Grape Sherbet.

Put one cup of granulated sugar in a saucepan with a pint of boiling water and stir until sugar is dissolved and then boil three minutes, then set aside to cool. When cold add a pint of strained, fresh grape juice and the juice of half a large lemon. Freeze and add a meringue made with the white of an egg whipped to a froth and one large tablespoonful of powdered sugar; freeze a little while longer and serve in small stemmed glasses.

Cinnamon Cakes.

Mrs. J. M. T. writes: Noting that your inquiry department is free to all housekeepers I would feel greatly obliged to you if you would publish a recipe for English cinnamon cake.

Take a cup of milk, a cup of granulated sugar, half a cup of butter, two cups of sifted flour, two eggs, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two teaspoonfuls ground cinnamon, quarter of a cup of candied orange peel cut fine and a cup of blanched and shreded almonds. Add baking powder to the flour and sift again; then add sugar and rub the butter to the grain in the flour, then mix in the spice and candied peel. Beat the egg up with the milk and put into a flat, buttered baking tin. Lay the shredded almonds thickly over the top of cake and bake in a hot oven. When nearly done, brush the top of the loaf with white of egg, sprinkle sugar over it and put back in oven to brown. When done cut the cake in strips to be served hot with cocoa or coffee for lunch.

FOOD OF THE CANARY ISLANDERS.

The Canary Islanders are among the most healthy people in the world. They live on gofio, which consists of wheat and corn parched or dextrinized in an iron kettle over a fire, then ground and eaten mixed with water. Attention was first called to this food by an eminent physician visiting the Canary Islands, who was cured of chronic dyspepsia by eating gofio. A prominent Chicago physician lived on gofio for many years, which he obtained from the Battle Creek Sanitarium, where it was formerly used in the treatment of various digestive disorders. By an important discovery a great improvement was made in the preparation, which is now known as Toasted Wheat Flakes, sweetened with Malt Honey, crisp and delicately sweet, its use cures indigestion and chronic constipation.

Boston at Exposition park.
Philadelphia at St. Louis.
New York at Cincinnati.

That Brooklyn aggregation didn't do a thing but throw a large-sized scare into the champions and their 1900 friends over at Exposition park yesterday afternoon, and for a time matters looked very serious. Everything turned out right, however, and the Pirates bagged the victory by a score of 8 to 6, thus setting at rest the spectators' fears.

When the Brooklyn half of the ninth was reached the score was 8 to 2 in the champions' favor and Clarke's crew playing the game as though the pennant depended on the result of that game. Tannehill, who had made his first appearance on the rubber, had been pitching great ball, but things looked so easy that he thought he would ease up a little and there is where he made a mistake. After easing up he tried to get back into his stride, but found that difficult work and before he could again settle down to business the visitors had chased four runs across the plate and were threatening to tie the score.

Where the Trouble Started.

Irwin, the first batter up in the ninth, sent up a fly which was easy for Fred Clarke. Then Flood drove the ball down the left foul line and it counted for three bases. Latimer made the second out, from Burke to Wagner, and Flood scored. Kitson pushed a grounder at Conroy, who made a wild throw and Kitson was safe. Hughes, who was playing left field, rapped one down by the flag pole for three bases and Kitson scored. Keeler, not to be outdone, drove one to right for three bases and Hughes scored. Dolan then beat out an infield hit, scoring Keeler with the fourth run. Here Tannehill saw the serious side of the affair and buckled down to business. Dahlen was out on a fly to Burke and that ended the game.

When the Brooklyns lined up on the field yesterday our old friend, Tacks Latimer, who used to do stunts in a Pirate uniform with Rube Waddell as his running mate, was found in a Brooklyn uniform. Tacks has been knocked about pretty well since leaving here, but he is the same old Tacks, with a line of jolly for his fellow players, even when things look their worst. They were breaking pretty bad for Tacks yesterday, caused by daring base running on the part of the champions and Tacks was chalked up two errors, both of which proved costly.

The Hoodoo Bumped Again.

Kitson, who was once a Pirate hoodoo, was on the rubber for the visitors and once more did the champions show that they have gotten over that old scare, for Mr. Kitson was given a lively trouncing. In the opening inning of the game the champions jumped upon Kitson and, aided by errors on the part of Flood and Irwin, five runs were scored. This took a lot of the life out of the game and there was no excitement until the ninth. In the first the visitors kicked on a play made by Wagner at first, when he bumped Donovan and thus caused the ball to roll to the bleachers. Scheckard's Rick was of such a vigorous nature that he was put out of the game.

The real feature of the game, so far as the locals were concerned, was the batting of Chief Zimmer, who, out of four times at bat, cracked out four singles; also of Fred Crolius, who smashed out three singles, the first one bringing two runs in. The champions started off with a bunch of five as a result of a base on balls to Clarke, singles by Beaumont, Burke, Conroy, Crolius and Zimmer, a two-bagger by Tannehill and errors by Irwin, Flood and Dahlen. They got one in the fourth, when Beaumont singled, stole second and third and scored on Latimer's wild throw. Two more were scored in the fifth as a result of singles by Crolius, Zimmer and Clarke, a stolen base by Crolius and a wild throw by Latimer.

The Rally Was Neatly Nipped.

The visitors' first run was secured in the fifth, when Irwin singled, took second on Flood's out at first and scored on Kitson's two-bagger to right. In the eighth Hughes was given a base of balls and got around on singles by Keeler and Dolan. The visitors' rally in the ninth has already been described and they looked dangerous for a while, but it was only momentary. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Jimmy Burke gave a pretty exhibition of second base play yesterday, some of his stops being sensational. His pickup of Flood's hot grounder in the fifth inning brought cheers from the spectators.

Honus Wagner was put out in an odd way in the sixth inning. Honus, while at bat, had ducked to avoid one of Kitson's benders, and while down, the ball accidentally struck his bat and rolled fair. The pitcher got the ball and Honus was an easy victim at first.

Catcher Harry Smith, who has been off duty nursing a bunged up leg, will likely be back in uniform today. Harry went to his home at Massillon, O., to rest up, and yesterday President Dreyfuss received a telegram stating that he is all right and will be ready for duty today. This will be quite a relief, as Harry's services have been badly needed.

It's a mystery why the local officials should fool around trying to get new material in right field when they have on hand such a valuable player as Fred Crollius. Fred was in right field yesterday and only got one chance in a fielding way, but he made it good. At bat Crollius shone as a star, getting three pretty singles out of four chances. What better work would a team want than that?

In the first inning yesterday the Brooklyn players let out an awful howl when Wagner and Donovan bumped at first and the ball rolled to the bleachers. It was claimed that Honus had purposely grabbed the Brooklyn first baseman, but the umpire couldn't see it that way. Among the kickers was Jimmy Sheckard, whose line of talk was more forcible than elegant, and for which he was given a seat on the bench for the rest of the game.

It was discovered yesterday that Andrew Freedman, the head of the American league, had paid a gum shoe visit to Worcester, Mass., and tried to induce Kitty Bransfield to jump to the Boston team of the American league, but the visit was a failure. The local club owners are not one bit afraid so far as Bransfield is concerned, as he is known to be true blue; besides, he is one of the players already signed for next season.

Lefty Davis watched yesterday's game from the grandstand. His ankle is still very weak and it is doubtful if President Dreyfuss will allow him to take any chances for another game this season. Anent the report that American league agents are hounding all the champions, Lefty says he has not been approached by any of Ban Johnson's agents, and, judging from the manner in which Lefty talks, it would have availed the agents nothing had they sought him out.

Chief Zimmer is on the order of good whisky, the older he grows the better he gets. The chief has certainly located a fountain of youth somewhere, because his work shows it. On Friday last the chief scattered seven hits, totaling two bases, and yesterday he didn't do a thing but plunk out four singles out of four times at bat. And yet there was some talk of the chief retiring from the game. Don't do it, chief. You're worth a half dozen youngsters yet.

Al Buckenberger and his troupe of beaneaters will be here today to tackle the champions in a double-header at Exposition park. Buck telegraphed ahead that Pittsburgh's pet Jones and Willis ready for duty and he expects at least one of the games. It is likely that Chesbro and Leever will do the pitching for the home team. The first game this afternoon starts at 2 o'clock.

Happy Jack Chesbro was guilty of bad coaching and spoiled a chance for more runs in the first inning when he held Zimmer at third on Crolius' drive to right field. The pitcher had plenty of time to reach the plate, and Tanny, thinking he had gone home, kept moving to third, only to force the chief off third and then Crolius was caught at the plate, making the third out of the inning.

Jimmy Burke lost a chance to score a run for his team in the third inning when he was caught napping at first by Kitson. Jimmy had led off with a single and two singles by Crollius and Zimmer would have brought the run in, but Burke had become a victim of one of Kitson's quick throws to first. There were fewer Pirates who had narrow escapes from the same fate.

A lead of five runs in the opening inning did not have any effect on the spirits of Tacks Latimer, who kept up a jollering away at his companions with the same spirit as though his team was in the lead. Tacks' throwing arm was given a thorough test by champion base runners, who took all kinds of liberties and had Latimer shooting the ball all over the field. At that, he nailed a few of the more daring at the second bag. Tacks can throw all right.

That was quite a scare the Superbas threw into the spectators in the ninth inning yesterday, and for a few minutes everybody was holding their breath. If Jesse Tannehill doesn't want to be responsible for a lot of data from that time on he will choke out his easing up business when his team has a long lead. Jesse had hard work getting back to his stride yesterday, and that's where the trouble lay.

In the fourth inning Wagner, who was on first, started to steal second, and Wheeler attempted to block the big fellow off the bag. Honus slid to feet first, and his spikes accidentally came in contact with Wheeler's right leg, and an ugly gash was cut which put the Brooklynite out of the game. The affair was an accident pure and simple, but would have been severe if Wheeler had not been so anxious to block the runner.

WAS POORLY PLAYED.

Chicago Beat Boston in the Twelfth Inning.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Chicago defeated Boston today in a very loosely played 12-inning contest, in which every run excepting one resulted from errors and bases on balls. The work of both catchers and Kling's batting were the features, the latter hitting safely each time up. Attendance 900. Score:

BATTLE OF PITCHERS.

A Wild Throw Gave the Reds a Victory.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 25.—Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia today in a close and interesting game. Both pitchers were in fine form and pitched good ball. Doern's wild throw in the first inning gave the locals their first run. Attendance 2,000. Score:

NEW CATCHER COMING.

Secretary Pulliam Secured the Man Wanted—Pirates' Owner Very Much Pleased.

Secretary Pulliam of the local club, who went east last Thursday night on the hunt after a catcher, returned yesterday, but was not accompanied by the player he went after. The secretary said he had secured his man, who will join the team later. It is thought the new player is Rauh, who catches for the Montreal team of the Eastern league and who had quite a reputation as a batter and run-getter.

President Dreyfuss, who accompanied the champions to Cincinnati on Sunday, returned home yesterday morning and was very enthusiastic about the outpouring of people to see the Sunday game. He says the crowd was not overestimated and that nearly 25,000 people passed through the gates. Mr. Dreyfuss was also enthusiastic over the showing made by Cushman, the Millvale pitcher, and predicts for him a brilliant future, as does Manager Clarke.

The Pirates' owner was interviewed in Cincinnati, and here is what he had to say:

"The American league is only bluffing when it talks of putting a club in Pittsburgh. It knows it and so do I," said Barney. "As far as its efforts to raid my team are concerned, I don't know whether it has secured any of my men or not, but if it has, why, I guess I can find others to take their places. Incidentally, I have not been idle, and a few of those American league stars may be found in my team next spring. I am not at all worried over the situation. The National league will fight this out to the bitter end, come what may, and we will be the winners in the end. Of course, the ball players will reap the harvest while it lasts, but we don't mind that, either."

SENATORS WON AGAIN.

The Detroit Team Made a Very Poor Showing.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Washington won two uninteresting games from Detroit today. Bunched hits won the first game in the first inning. Mullin was battered hard in the second game, three singles, a double and a home run scoring the winning tallies. Orth pitched good ball, but received ragged support. Attendance 3,911. Score:

THE FAVORITE MET DEFEAT IN THE KENTUCKY

The Event Was Won by Lady Albercraft After a Warm Race.

A LIVELY STEEPLECHASE

It Was Won By Victor—Three of the Starters Fell and Did Not Finish. Baron Pepper Was Defeated Through a Poor Rider.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 25.—The Kentucky, a selling sweepstakes for 2-year-old fillies, today's feature, was won in a hard drive by Lady Albercraft, who beat the 6 to 5 favorite, Wild Thyme, by half a length. Stamping Ground being third only a head away. That vastly improved 3-year-old, Clonmell, won the mile selling handily by a length and a half in the fast time of 1:38, which equals the track record. Clonmell led from start to finish. Victor was the favorite for the steeplechase over the short course. He won easily, with Zyno second and Gallahad third. The other three starters, Inkerman, Perion and Mr. Stoffel fell and did not finish. Sadducee had no difficulty in winning the six furlong selling event, with Ben Howard second and Settauket third. Setauket was claimed out of the race by W. T. McGrath.

Baron Pepper Badly Ridden.

Cunard won the closing event, the mile and a sixteenth handicap from Baron Pepper, who was badly ridden by Rice. Many stables have left here for Sheepshead Bay and Buffalo. The summaries:

First race, selling, 3-year-olds and up, 6 furlongs—Sadducee, 120, Odom, 11 to 5 and 9 to 10, won; Ben Howard, 107, J. Daly, 30 to 1 and 10 to 1, second; Setauket, 111, O'Connor, 4 to 1 and 8to 5, third. Time, 1:13 4-5. Delmarch, Mandolin, Miss Dade, Hide Of Gold, Dorothy Hall, Work, May J., Eddie Busch and Rappanocker also ran.

Second race, selling, steeplechase, short course, about 2 miles—Victor, 152, Houlihan, 9 to 5 and 3 to 5, won; Zyno, 143, Bullerath, 20 to 1 and 8 to 1, second; Gallahad, Carson, 7 to 1 and 7 to 2, third. BUCKEYE SOLONS MEET TO WRESTLE WITH CODE BILL

Governor Nash Recommends That Order First Be Restored to Ohio Cities.

WANTS DETAIL LEFT OVER

Would Have Discussion of Pet Ideas Put Off Till Regular 1904 Session of Legislature—Members Not All in Harmony.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Columbus, O., Aug. 25.—The seventy-fifth general assembly of Ohio convened in extraordinary session at 3 o'clock this afternoon, received Gov. Nash's message and adjourned until Tuesday morning out of respect to the memory of the late Representative William E. Bell, Jr., of Licking, who died in July. The house adopted resolutions on the death of Marshall J. Williams, chief justice of the supreme court and a former member of the legislature.

Tuesday the Nash code will be introduced in the house by Speaker Pro Tem. Comings of Lorain, and in the senate President Pro Tem. Archer of Belmont, and the senate code will be introduced by Harry L. Gordon of Hamilton, the lieutenant governor, who will preside over that body. He made an able address and got an ovation.

There is a diversity of ideas concerning the code. Speaker W. S. McKinnon of Ashtabula is opposed to the plan of Gov. Nash, that the measure be referred to a committee of the whole in the house, stating it should be placed in the hands of a committee selected from the municipal affairs and judiciary committees, in order that the public could be given a hearing on the bill.

Differs With Governor.

He disapproves of any attempt to railroad it through. He differs with the governor on many propositions, one being that he does not favor restricting the acts of the legislature.

The majority of the members did not get a glimpse of the administration code until they reached the city today, and really have not had time to formulate opinions on it.

Senator Wilhelm, from the Canton district, has declared against the board features of the code, while Senator Wirt of Youngstown has come out in favor of the submission of an amendment to the constitution next year, providing for the classification of cities, the classification to be based on the actual population. Contrary to Gov. Nash's reccomendation, a number of members are preparing to introduce bills having no relation to the matters he wishes considered.

In his message Gov. Nash first calls attention to the act passed last May depriving the supreme court of nearly all appellate jurisdiction formerly possessed by the court. The repeal of the act is recommended. Continuing the message, says:

Must Restore Government.

During the last days of June the supreme court of the state handed down several decisions which practically deprive our municipal corporations of all government. It is apparent that this is an extraordinary occasion which needs a remedy at the earliest possible moment. Constitutional government must be restored to our cities and villages. The labor demanded of us is not so much a work of construction as of readjustment. The question now is not what we think would be the "model" municipal government, but what we can get, considering the constitutional limitations and all the circumstances surrounding us. The task must be approached with a spirit of "give and take" and with a determination to be reasonable, something which will bring order out of chaos. It is time enough to attempt to have our favorite ideas in regard to municipalities incorporated into law, when order has been restored, and when the general assembly has ample time at its regular session to consider them.

I suggest that by joint resolutions you refer the school laws to the state commissioner of common schools and the attorney general; the laws relating to the compensation of county officers to the auditor of state, secretary of state and the attorney general; the laws relating to registration and elections to the secretary of state, and to annual boards of equalization to the auditor of state, with instructions to revise and recodify said laws, remove therefrom all imperfections, and have their work ready for presentation at the general assembly on the first Monday in January, 1904.

OFFICERS SUSPENDED.

Licensed Captains and Pilots Disciplined by Steamboat Inspectors.

The local government steamboat inspectors, Capt. George H. Atkinson and Isaac B. Williams, have notified Maj. S. R. Crumbaugh, supervising inspector of steam vessels of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati district, that they have suspended the licenses of Capts. R. R. Abrams and Frank Ganoe for 20 days and Pilot Frank Williams for 15 days and Pilot Irwin Boyd for 30 days.

Capt. Abrams of the I. C. Woodward preferred charges several weeks ago against Capt. Ganoe and Pilots Irwin Boyd and Samuel Hendrickson of the Elizabeth, charging them with violating rules of the marine code on August 3. The Elizabeth is one of the new independent Morgantown packets and opposition has resulted in the boats racing. The inspectors held the hearing, in accordance with section 4450 of the rules governing the navigation of steamers.

The decision is a long one. The closing paragraph says: "We have carefully considered the sworn statement or charge made by Capt. R. R. Abrams of the I. C. Woodward in connection with this trouble and we are satisfied that he and Pilot Frank Williams are as guilty of misbehavior and unskilled navigation of the steamer I. C. Woodward on the above named date as that of the crew of the steamer Elizabeth by allowing their steamers to be run ashore and endanger life, as Pilot Frank Williams of the Woodward could have stopped his steamer and not have been run ashore, and could have avoided all this trouble."

The Elizabeth's crew did not deny the charges, but stated at the hearing that they were forced to run the Woodward ashore at Maldsville, as the Woodward crowded them. Pilot Hendrickson was exonerated.

Work on Lock Suspended.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Aug. 25.—Work has been suspended indefinitely on lock No. 2 on the Big Sandy river. Six hundred men are made idle. The cement supply has become exhausted by reason of the anthracite coal strike, which has caused most of the cement plants to close.

DELINQUENT ON STRIKE DUES.

Miners' Unions Will Lose Standing Unless All Members Pay Promptly.

The assessments which the special convention at Indianapolis imposed on the bituminous miners for the support of the anthracite strikers are not being paid by most of the men. The local officials can only secure payment by having each man seen. The operators could not consent to the use of the check-off system of collection, as making them liable to suit by the anthracite operators.

The national officers of the miners have notified the local officers that if each union does not pay the assessments for all members promptly each two weeks it will be declared to be in bad standing.

GOLD PRODUCTION SHOWS DECREASE

LATE SEASON IN 1901 CAUSE OF BIG DROP IN ALASKA.

California Makes Greatest Gain in Precious Metal—Silver Also Develops Loss in Value and Ounces—Director of Mint Reports.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 25.—George E. Roberts, director of the mint, has issued his final estimate of the production of gold and silver in the United States during 1901. During the year the United States produced 3,805,500 ounces of gold, valued at $78,666,700, a decrease of $504,300, or 0.636 per cent as compared with the yield of 1900.

Ten of the 19 states and territories yielding gold showed an increased production, California leading with $1,075,200, an increase due entirely to the normal development of the mining industry.

Nevada showed the material gain of $957,000, which came largely from the newly discovered camp of Tonapah in Nye county, although nearly every county in the state increased its production. South Dakota also made a gain of $301,900, Idaho $144,600, and Oregon $123,400.

The greatest decrease—amounting to $1,285,300—was in Alaska. This was due to the lateness of the season, which delayed the opening of the placers and to litigation, which interfered with the development of the industry. Colorado's production diminished $1,135,900, a fact explained by the decline in the grade of ores extracted, the tonnage having increased.

The silver yield for 1901 amounted to 55,214,000 ounces, of the commercial value of $33,120,400, which was 2,433,000 ounces (or 5 per cent) less than it was in 1900. The greatest gain—1,402,200 ounces—was in Utah. Nevada, New Mexico and Washington also made substantial gains. The production of Colorado, owing to the decline in the grade of ores extracted, fell off 2,040,200 fine ounces, while Montana's yield diminished 1,063,700 ounces, Idaho's 886,200 and South Dakota's 458,200 ounces.

The total value of the precious metals produced by the United States in 1901 amounted to $111,795,100, which was $1,964,100, or 2 per cent less than the yield for 1900.

THE THREE RIVERS.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Aug. 25.—River at 6 p. m., 5.9 feet and stationary. Weather clear and pleasant. Packets and mail on time. Business brisk. The low water has forced the City of Louisville to the bank. Her place will be taken by the Indiana, a lighter draft boat. The Sunshine, upon her arrival from Memphis, will lay up here and make repairs. The combine has four of its big towboats laid up here. They are the Valiant, Exporter, W. W. O'Neil and Fallie.

LOUISVILLE—River falling. Canal, 3.8; falls, 1.6; foot of locks, 6.4. Business good. Weather clear and pleasant. Packets in and out on time. The Wash Honshell and tow left for Ohio last night. Capt. Max Seybold went to Pittsburgh today.

HUNTINGTON—River 5.6 feet and falling. Clear and warm.

WHEELING—River 3 feet and slowly falling. Clear and warm. Departed—Bessie Smith, Parkersburg, 2 p. m.

Departures.

Gertrude, Morgantown, W. Va.

Packets Leaving Today.

Elizabeth, Morgantown, 3 p. m.

At 9 o'clock last night the river at Davis Island dam was 2.6 feet and stationary.

News of the Rivers.

Capt. Samuel S. Brown has gone to Louisville to attend the Kentucky derby.

Flash boards have been placed on dams Nos. 1 and 2 on the Monongahela river.

The towboat Pacific No. 2 will replace Inspected No. 1 on the local steamboat inspectors.

The E. A. Woodruff, on her way up the river, stopped at Evansville Saturday and laid over until Monday.

The members of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association will give an excursion on the river September 8.

The new boat for the St. Louis & Tennessee River Packet Company being built by Howard is nearly ready to be launched.

The towboat Fritz raised a barge sunk by the Wash Honshell just below the Illinois Central's lower Paducah incline.

Commodore Charles F. Foster of the Anchor line of steamers yesterday returned from Sea Isle, N. J., where he spent several days.

The towboat J. B. Finley delivered her tow of 20 coal barges at New Orleans Saturday and left the same day with a tow of empties for the north.

The Clyde Coal Company recently offered Johnston Bros., owners of the towboat J. C. Reynolds, $1,000 for the boat, but they refused the offer.

The local steamboat inspectors yesterday inspected the steam yacht Waverly, owned by the City of Pittsburgh. The yacht is in seaworthy condition.

Joseph Solomon, probably the only Hebrew deckhand on the river, desires to secure master's papers from the government. It is said the coal combination has promised him a position if he gets the papers.

The members of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association will hold a meeting next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock to elect officers to serve for the ensuing year. At time no quorum was present last Saturday.

Commodore W. J. Kountz contemplates building a summer residence on what he believes to be the highest hill in Allegheny county, Blandale hill, Ohio township. The commodore, accompanied by his four daughters and four grandchildren and son-in-law, T. C. Jones of St. Paul, yesterday visited the mountain to select the location for the contemplated cottage.

The following towboats are laid up on account of low water between Pittsburgh and Louisville: Hornet No. 2, at Gallipolis; Hornet, Raymond Porter and Tom Dodsworth, at Middleport; Coal City, at Newberry; Sam Brown, Charles Brown and Nellie Walton, at Steubenville; Sam Clarke, at Rochesterville; Tornado, at Racoon; D. D. Wood and Jack Frost, at Sewickley, and Fallie, Exporter and W. W. O'Neil, at Cincinnati.

The towboat John C. Fisher sank yesterday morning at Braddock with 12 coal barges under her. The boat is reported to have struck a hidden obstruction in the river. The steamer is owned by the Pittsburgh Dredging and Construction Company and is in charge of Capt. Isaac Williams, a local government inspector, yesterday so stated. The boat will be raised at once. The steamer was sold a short time ago by Capt. John P. Klein to her present owners.

State Charters Issued.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—Charters were issued by the state department today to the following corporations: Crescent Powder Company, New Castle, capital $10,000; New Florence Water Company, New Florence, Westmoreland county, capital $10,000; Monongahela Valley Sewer Company, Jefferson township, Allegheny county, capital $1,000; Erie Trust Company, Erie, capital $200,000; Dallenbach Turner Manufacturing Company, Pittsburgh, capital $1,000.

PRESIDENT HILL SAYS WEST NEVER HAD MORE MONEY

Crop Movement Will Not Tax New York Banks to Any Great Extent.

MITCHELL NOT AROUND

Rumor That Mine Leader Was to Call On Morgan Proves Erroneous. Gary and Galey Divide Schwab's Work While He Rests.

[BY LEASED WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 25.—J. J. Hill, president of the Northern Securities Company, arrived in the city today from the west. His views on conditions in that section of the country are optimistic to the extreme. The outlook for crops could not be better and increased earnings on the part of the railroads can naturally be looked for. When Mr. Hill was asked about the money outlook in the west he said:

"The banks in the grain states will experience no difficulty in satisfying the demand for funds for grain moving purposes. There is plenty of money in the west, more in fact than ever before at this time of the year."

Incidentially the local banks continue confident that the withdrawals of funds in connection with the movement of grain and cotton to the seaboard will not reach proportions threatening to the money situation. The president of one of the largest banks in the city today said that money rates would naturally reach a higher level during the month of September, but that he did not anticipate exaggerated rates. It is believed that shipments of currency to the west for grain moving purposes will reach large proportions within the next two weeks.

West Not Hard Up.

Bankers who have been sounding interior institutions with the object of ascertaining their standing in the matter of funds available for grain moving purposes believe that the western banks, if anything, will require less money from the east during the months of September, October and November than in the corresponding period of last year. A bank president had the following to say on the subject:

"Our correspondents inform us that they are well supplied with money, and that we need entertain no fear that they will call upon us for more currency than in the fall of last year. True, more grain will be shipped this year than last, but then the banks in the west are carrying a larger surplus than at this time in 1901. The interior banks are becoming more and more independent of the east in money matters, and I am firmly convinced that within the next ten years the withdrawal of currency for crop moving purposes will be regarded as a small factor in shaping the course of money rates."

Mitchell Fails to Arrive.

There was a wild rumor in Wall street to the effect that President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers would descend on the Morgan office at 1 o'clock, accompanied by a number of officers of the executive board, and would forthwith settle the coal strike. The reporters immediately picketed the office, after the most approved union methods, but as the afternoon wore away and neither Mr. Mitchell nor any of his friends appeared, the street began to realize that it had been dreaming again, just as it has frequently done of late.

But the hope of an early termination of the strike has more than mere Wall street buoyancy of spirit for a foundation, for the president of one of the most important hard coal roads said today that while there was still "no change in the situation," his road would certainly mine a good deal more coal this week than last and next week than this.

An official of one of the roads said: "The operators, in every strike, are between the devil and the deep sea. If they don't mine coal, the public berates them. If they do mine coal, affording their workmen the necessary protection of militia and special police, trouble comes and the operators are held up as inhuman monsters who won't allow the miners to exercise their inalienable right to drive other men from their work. If it hadn't been for the certainty of bloodshed for every bit of which the operators would get all the blame, most of the mines would have been opened weeks ago."

Gary and Galey at Helm.

During the absence of President Schwab the affairs of the United States Steel Corporation, so far as the operating branch of the business is concerned, will be in the hands of Judge Gary and James Gayley. Iron and steel men are now more firmly convinced that even if Mr. Schwab should tender his resignation as president of the United States Steel Corporation, his relations with the combine will be very close. Since the organization of the steel corporation Mr. Schwab has secured control of a number of combines that serve as the greatest source of outlet for the products of the United States Steel Corporation. Among these feeders are the Allis-Chalmers Company, Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company, United States Shipbuilding Company and the International Nickel Company. The steel combine is the largest patron of the latter concern, which controls the nickel situation of the United States. E. W. HARDEN.

Some Sharp Advances in Wall Street

SHARP ADVANCE IN FEW STOCKS IN WALL STREET

Effective Operations Kept Within a Narrow Limit.

BOLD DASH AT OPENING

Southern Pacific Had an Early Bound and Other Railroads Experienced a Sympathetic Response — Express Stocks Made Notable Increase.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 25.—Today's stock market reflected a very determined demonstration for an advance, but effective operations were confined to a very limited number of stocks. The speculation was clearly under the same auspices as that which originated in Southern Pacific last week and which was predicted upon the return to the street of a well-known speculative leader.

The boldness and the dash of today's operations were indicative of the personal direction of this leader. The early advance in Southern Pacific was taken advantage of to effect very heavy profit taking, which completely wiped out the opening gain. Instead of resuming the campaign immediately in that stock, it was shifted to its affiliated stock, Union Pacific, and to Baltimore & Ohio in the east.

The sympathetic response of these movements was almost wholly confined to stocks immediately related. In the case of Baltimore & Ohio these were Pennsylvania and Chesapeake & Ohio. Southern Pacific made some recovery in sympathy with Union Pacific. There were gains here and there among the grangers, but on very light transactions.

Some Violent Advances.

Northwestern's 2¾-point rise in response to the favorable annual report was made on a single transaction. Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie advanced violently 5¾ without explanation and Evansville & Terre Haute's 3¼-point rise was unexplained. In the railroad list other gains were few and among obscure stocks.

The express stocks again made a notable advance in concert with no news to throw light on the movement. Among the specialties Western Union, Manhattan and Adams Express were the most conspicuous examples of strength.

It was a notable feature of the market that a large mass of securities of very prominent railroad companies lay practically dormant throughout the session, and there were some prominent examples showing net losses. This disinclination to follow the bold leadership proffered by the active stocks was due to the uncertainty over the money situation.

On Saturday afternoon, after the stock exchange had closed, the sub-treasury was called upon to transfer $620,000, which was deposited for that purpose, to interior points.

Interior Money Demand.

Today $400,000 additional was deposited for this purpose. Of these amounts $750,000 goes to Chicago and the rest to New Orleans. New York exchange at Chicago remained at a discount today of 20 cents. This is pretty conclusive evidence that the interior demand for currency has set in in force.

Had it not been for the aggressive leadership in the few strong stocks today it is to be presumed that the stock market would have reflected some greater appreciation because of this rapid rate of depletion of banking reserves. Last week's moderate replenishment of the surplus was wholly due to a reduction of deposits through loan contraction.

Today's foreign exchange market was easier, in spite of higher discount rates in London, lower sterling at Paris and considerable sales of stocks for London account here.

The grain market showed large seaboard clearances and there was a considerable supply of spot cotton bills in the exchange market. The rate for call money was also distributed, opening at 4 per cent and yielding to below that rate. The conspicuously strong stocks closed active and at the best, making the closing generally steady.

The bond market was not very active outside of Union Pacific convertibles, but was strong. Total sales, par value, $4,975,000. United States bonds all advanced ¼ per cent on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales for the day were 956,500 shares.

Market experienced a determined demonstration for an advance.

Southern Pacific had strong opening and other railroads responded in sympathy.

Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania advanced during the day.

Money market again weakened by interior demand for currency.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY LEASED WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Senator W. A. Clark is reported at Jerome, Ariz., helping to put out the fire in the United Verde, the workings of which have been ablaze for several weeks. A thousand men have been discharged since the fire started and the camp is almost deserted. The manager states that the fire is merely an extension of an old burning stope and that no new ore bodies have been touched. Underground workers, on the other hand, assert that the flames have spread to the new ore bodies, which are largely sulphide and practically unquenchable. It may be three months before the fire is under control.

Improvements are being made at the St. Louis at Caribou, Col., to enable the management to save a greater percentage of the values.

Leasers on the Jack Pot at Cripple Creek are breaking the richest ore found on the property. A seam from one to four inches along the hanging wall is almost solid ore, and alongside this streak there is two feet of rock that will run from $50 to $100 a ton. A shipment of 40 tons returned over $80 per ton.

The Hillside, near Kingman, Ariz., will be worked again soon. A few years ago this mine produced a large quantity of high grade ore, some of it running as high as $800 to the ton.

Eastern capitalists are said to be negotiating for the Dexter at Tuscarora, Nev., a mine in the Gold Circle district. The mine is said to be earning $15,000 a month.

Two weeks' run of the mill of the Century, in Park valley, Utah, resulted in a bar of bullion worth $3,300.

The Gold Eagle, near Boise, Idaho, has been sold to John Dorn and associates of the Consolidated Mercur. The price was $150,000.

A good body of concentrating ore has been intersected in the K., near Custer, Idaho. The crosscut extends a considerable distance and is 14 feet wide.

The lost ore chute in the David H., at Garrison, Col., has been found and five feet of ore is opened up. Last winter the Small Hopes Company of Leadville took out $35,000 from this mine up to the time of losing the chute. The ore averages 50 ounces silver and 35 per cent lead.

The Local Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Copper today was weak in tone. The movement on a small scale and values slightly lower. Standard spot closed at 10.80@11.30c; lake, 11.50@11.65c; electrolytic, 11.30@11.45c, and casting, at 11.30@11.45c. English values declined 5s, spot closing at £51 5s and futures at £52. Users of the metal are taking no more than is absolutely necessary for their immediate needs. The foreign price of tin was lowered nearly £1 today, closing at £128 10s for spot and £125 and futures at £121. The local market was also easier, spot closing at 28@28.50c. A small jobbing trade was filled on this basis. Lead was dull and weak, closing at 4.35@4.40c. Spelter steady and unchanged, locally, at 4¼c and abroad at £11 2s 6d. Spelter gained a little at London on an improved demand, spot closing 2s 6d higher at £19. New York remained unchanged but firm, at 5.50c. Iron in the domestic field rules firm and nominally without change. Warrants, no quotation given. Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The week has opened up with a fair amount of mail orders on hand, both for first and second hands. That the week will be a busy one with jobbers seems to be the general opinion and preparations are being made to meet the heavy demand expected. Prices remain firm and somewhat inclined to advance on certain lines, especially in the dress goods division of the market.

Talked About in Wall Street

[BY LEASED WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The Herald this (Tuesday) morning says:

Speculative sentiment became more aggressive yesterday under the influence of the presence of Mr. Keene. Under his leadership, and with the assistance of a number of his old-time lieutenants, the stock market was given a treatment such as only an experienced manipulator general could devise in order to attract public attention and approval. Four or five high-class railroad shares were selected and these were taken well in hand with substantial results.

The feverish state of the market for Colorado Fuel was clearly made evident by a sharp break to the lowest point at which the stock has sold in the recent downward movement. It is said that Mr. Gates will wrest control from Chairman Osgood, even if he has to go to the extent of placing the property in the custody of the courts.

Western Union, it is learned, has lately renewed its contracts with the Southern Railway, and the New York, Ontario & Western. President Spencer of the former road is a director in the Western Union. Semi-official estimates of the earnings of the Western Union under its new management with its policy of retrenchment indicate that $1,000,000 a year will be saved by economies.

There was hardly any perceptible effect on the steel trust shares by the publication of the defense of the plan made by George W. Perkins, chairman of the finance committee, in his affidavit in the Hodge suit. The only new point raised was the definite announcement that dividends on the common stock will not be abandoned. On this the common shares advanced ⅝ to 41⅝.

Friars Enter Protest.

ROME, Aug. 25.—The vatican has received a protest from the friars in the Philippines, with documents, confuting the arguments for their withdrawal from the islands.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT.

Elgin B Saylor to Succeed J. D. Flynn as District Superintendent in the Western Union Office.

J. D. Flynn, superintendent of the Eighth district, Western Union Telegraph Company, is to be supplanted by Elgin B. Saylor of New York. The information reached here last night that Mr. Flynn was to be relieved. Mr. Flynn confirmed the story.

"I have not as yet received official notice of my retirement," he said, "but probably I shall receive it this week. I know of no reason for it, save that it is part of the general plans of the company."

The appointment of Mr. Saylor takes effect September 1. Mr. Flynn has been stationed here for 12 years and has a reputation of being an excellent official as well as an experienced operator. He came to this city from the company's New York offices, being appointed manager of the local offices. On the death of C. O. Crowe, Mr. Flynn was appointed manager of the Eighth district, of which this city is the headquarters.

Mr. Saylor, who will succeed Mr. Flynn, was formerly chief operator in the main office at Philadelphia. For the past few months he has been in the New York offices. The manager of the local office is A. A. Brown.

It is rumored that this appointment is but the beginning of a general "cleaning up" in the Western Union system. James Merrihew, who has been prominently connected with the system for over half a century, has resigned, to take effect September 1.

MAY CHANGE THE ROUTE.

Chief Engineer Patterson Says Wabash Line to Coke Regions Is a Certainty.

"All out some possible changes in the route has been determined upon for our line to the Connellsville and Greene county coke regions," said Chief Engineer J. W. Patterson of the Wabash extension to Pittsburgh yesterday. "The line will leave the through Pittsburgh line at Hickory and run via Washington to Uniontown. A number of points, especially at Waynesburg, the exact route has not yet been determined."

The road will be built by syndicates just as the other lines of the Wabash are being done. The name of the incorporation is the Greene county and West Virginia.

This is the latest of the Wabash plans for extensions to the freight-producing region of the Pittsburgh district. The road will enter the district with the firm friendship of the Pittsburgh coal interests and other powerful backers.

The fact that the Wabash is to reach that territory is a welcome announcement to the various furnace men, who have been held back by the inability of the three lines now in the territory to get the coke out at various times each year.

FIVE DWELLING HOUSES BOUGHT FOR $80,500

South Side Glass Works Property Goes to New Owners.

SALE IN MILTON AVENUE

Vacant Frontage in Twenty-first Ward Changes Hands—Rebecca Street Residence Sold—Numerous Sales in McKeesport—Other Deals.

Five dwelling houses were purchased yesterday by the Westmoreland Guarantee Building and Loan association, in the Twenty-first ward, for $30,500. The transfer involved the David Thomas property, having a frontage of 148½ feet on the north side of Larimer avenue, extending back and preserving the same width a distance of 222½ feet to McDonald street. The lot is improved with four two-story brick and one two-story frame dwellings, and was purchased for investment.

Local Stock Market Was Quite Active, Broad and Generally Firm

TWO COMMONS HAD BULK OF THE BUSINESS

Pittsburgh Coal Common Sent to 30 On Heavy Local Buying Orders.

BREWERY COMMON REACTS

Westinghouse Electric Seconds Advanced—Steel Issues Steady to Firm—Fire Proofing Lower—Steel Car Common Higher.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was more active than it has been in some time, and the tone was generally quite steady to strong with a good deal of strength and buoyancy in spots. Also more than the usual number of different securities were dealt in, 26 finding buyers. The feature of the business was in the common stocks, two such issues having a total of more than 4,600 shares out of the 9,400 of all kinds that sold during the day. The leader was Pittsburgh Coal common, which sold nearly 2,000 shares, and closed with a net gain of ⅝, at 29⅝. The opening price was 29½, after which 30 was reached, being the highest price paid for the stock in a couple of years or more. The advance is due to a hope that the efforts will place the stock on a dividend basis, if not in October, then in January. However, there is nothing tangible for such desires. The preferred was very dull, but firm, at 90¾, a gain of ¼. River Coal issues were quiet and steady, at practically unchanged prices. Pittsburgh Brewing common was next to Pittsburgh Coal common in point of activity, but did not close either so high or so firm as Saturday. Over 1,300 shares sold, but the price finished at 30, a loss of .51. The preferred stock was very strong and advanced to 48 bid, though no sales occurred. This is the highest price in over a year. Increased dividend hopes are the basis for the recent rise in the common, and the preferred is probably moving up in sympathy. In the general list the steel stocks and Westinghouse Electric seconds attracted the most attention. Crucible steel common sold over 600 shares and closed firm at 22¼, Saturday's price. The preferred closed at 87 for a small lot. U. S. Steel preferred was unchanged, at 90½, and the common was only quoted at 41¼ asked, without a bid. Westinghouse Electric seconds were firm and quite active, over 500 shares selling. The price reached 111½, but closed at 111, a gain of ½ for the day. The firsts were quoted at 114 bid, 114 asked. Westinghouse Airbrake was dull and unchanged, at 185, while Switch & Signal common was in the same state, at 94½. Fire Proofing common sold down 1 to 30, the lowest price in some time, the preferred being unchanged at 39¾. Pressed Steel Car advanced 1¼ to 51¼. Philadelphia Company was a fraction lower, at 49⅝. City Deposit Bank advanced $40 between sales, to 190, a new high record, and an advance of $10 in the bid price over last week. Traders & Mechanics Bank was $5 higher, at 70, and Colonial Trust Company $1 50 up, at 396½, after which 397 was bid. It is reported as a reason for the advance that the deposits of the company have increased to $18,000,000, but a conservative estimate places them at between $14,000,000 and $15,000,000. Window Glass was dull and unchanged, at 62¼. Bonds were steady to firm.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Bank exchanges gained $2,025,218 87.

Sales Pittsburgh stock exchange 7,634 shares and $24,000 bonds.

City Deposit bank sold at $190, a gain of $40 and a new high record.

Colonial Trust advances to 397 bid, after sales at 396½.

Pittsburgh Coal common advanced to 30 and closed at 29⅝. Sales 3,285 shares.

Pittsburgh Brewing common declined $1 to $30. Sales 1,330 shares. Preferred closed at 48 bid.

Westinghouse electric seconds closed at 111, Westinghouse Airbrake at 185 and Switch common at 94½.

Crucible Steel closed at 22¼ and the preferred at 87.

United States Steel preferred closed at 90½.

Window Glass sold at 62¼.

Bonds were firm.

FINANCIAL DRIFT.

Martin sold Window Glass common.

Hill & Co. were buyers of Pittsburgh Brewing common.

Hill & Co. sold United States Steel preferred at 90½.

McMullin was a buyer of National Fire Proofing preferred.

Whitney & Stephenson were large sellers of Crucible Steel preferred.

Schoyer bought Westinghouse Airbrake and sold National Fire Proofing preferred.

Holmes & Sons sold 10 City Deposit bank at 150, a new high record, to Wilson.

R. C. Hall bought Colonial Trust Company at 396½ and bid that price for 50 more.

Doty & Sutton sold 300 River Coal preferred to McFarlane and bid 123¾ for 1,000 of the common.

Near the close Hill & Co. bought a block of 375 Pittsburgh Brewing common at 30 from Sproul & Co.

H. J. Lotz has returned from a vacation spent at Mackinac islands, and says he is ready for business again.

Preston, Watt & Schoyer sold a block of 500 Pennsylvania railroad at 80¾, a new high record on the local exchange, to Robinson Bros.

"Jack" Askin, N. Holmes & Sons' representative on the Pittsburgh stock exchange, has returned from a vacation spent at Atlantic City.

Hill & Co. and Sproul & Co. were large sellers of Pittsburgh Coal common. Robinson Bros. were large buyers early, and Sproul & Co. later.

Robinson Bros. bought a block of 500 Pittsburgh Coal common from A. J. Lawrence & Co. and Sproul & Co. secured a similar block from Hill & Co. and 1,000 more from Miller.

The first sale of the day was a block of 200 Westinghouse Electric seconds at 110¾. Sproul & Co. and Robinson Bros. were large sellers during the day, Martin, Crawford & Eberman, and later, Robinson Bros. and Miller, were buyers.

The members of the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday voted to close the exchange next Saturday and also Monday—Labor Day. This is in accordance with the action in New York and elsewhere. It will close all stock markets from Friday at 3 p. m. until Tuesday, September 2, at 10 a. m.

The sudden death of John T. Patterson was a great shock to his fellow members on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. His was a peculiarly lovable character and his presence on the floor will be greatly missed. Mr. Patterson was a charter member of the Pittsburgh stock exchange, and was with one exception the oldest stock and bond broker in active business. Before the establishment of the Pittsburgh exchange, 25 years ago, Mr. Patterson was one of the few brokers in the business in this city, making a specialty of bank and insurance company stocks, of which he was an acknowledged authority. During the past two or three years, however, he has taken little part in active business. He was on the floor Saturday in his usual good health and spirits.

Wall Street Brokers' "Tips."

We get bullish talk on the Erles.

I think the market will be put up.

I am told to buy Baltimore & Ohio.

There are bull tips out on Manhattan.

I look for a move in Chesapeake & Ohio.

I think Keene will put up Union Pacific.

Union Pacific looks as though it will be the next bull card.

Shorts are having a rather hard time in Western Union.

There are rumors of valuable rights for Baltimore & Ohio stockholders.

It looks as if move in Southern Pacific was switching into Union Pacific, and I hear very much higher prices talked of.

Our information leads us to believe that Baltimore & Ohio and Union Pacific will sell considerably higher. As to Southern Pacific, we can only reiterate former statements that this stock recommends itself to patient investors.

I understand that a block of 50,000 shares of calls on Union Pacific at 111 are outstanding in London, and that it is the intention of the parties holding them, if the stock gets near that point, to take vigorous effort to put it up.

Without any question the market has been pounded today. It is useless trying to assert the money market when time money is 5 bid for all periods and call money at 8 this afternoon. It seems to me for a few days at least we will have bull speculation.

Earnings and Reports.

Northwest reports an increase of $97,399 in gross earnings for the month of July.

The Lake Shore reports for the first half of the calendar year show an increase of $903,921 in gross earnings and a decrease of $326,683 in net, which is reduced to $158,679 by an increase of $162,123 in other income. The balance for dividends shows a decrease of $300,-653.

Fifty-five railroads in their aggregate returns of gross earnings for the first week in August report $453,802 increase, or 5.25 per cent, and 47 roads for the second week report $506,429 increase, or 5.23 per cent. For the month of June the gross receipts aggregated for 94 roads show $6,131,206 increase, or 7.08 per cent, and the net earnings, $1,223,993 increase, or 4.81 per cent.

Cattle.

Receipts of cattle at the Central stock yards this morning were considerably in excess of the arrivals last Monday, 150 carloads being on sale today, as against 105 on the corresponding day last week. The effect of this increase was to make the market easier, and prices were 25 cents lower for best cattle, with other grades just about steady at last week's quotations.

Choice, 1,400 to 1,600 lbs. $7 50@7 75; prime, 1,200 to 1,400 lbs. $7 00@7 25; good, 1,000 to 1,200 lbs. $6 50@6 75; fair, 900 to 1,000 lbs. $6 25@6 50; fair, 800 to 900 lbs. $4 25@4 75; heifers, 700 to 1,100 lbs. $3 25@5 75; cows, bulls and stags, $3 00@5 25; good fresh cows, $40 00@60 00; common to fair, $20 00@35 00.

Hogs.

For a couple of weeks past hog prices have been declining on account of free arrivals, and dealers wished for a falling off in receipts to help tone up the market. This desire was fulfilled today when only 30 double-decks came in for sale, and quotations went higher for all grades. The advance amounted to from 15 to 20 cents as compared with the close of the week, but considerably more than that compared with last Monday's ruling figures.

Prime heavies, $7 00@7 05; best mediums, $7 05@7 10; best heavy Yorkers, $7 05@7 15; light Yorkers, $7 00@7 05; pigs, $7 00@7 05; roughs, $6 00@7 00.

Sheep and Lambs.

Sheep receipts showed an increase today over those of last Monday, and prices went lower, but lambs were firm. Quotations remained the same as those of a week ago. Thirty carloads were received at the East Liberty stock yards.

Best wethers, $4 10 to 100 lbs, $3 90@4 00; good, $5 to 90 lbs, $3 60@3 80; mixed, 75 to 85 lbs, $2 75@3 20; culls and common, $1 50@2 00; choice lambs, $5 75@6 00; common to good, $3 00@5 25; veal calves, $7 50@8 00; heavy and thin, $5 00@6 00.

OVER $2,000,000 GAINED.

Pittsburgh Bank Exchanges Yesterday Started the Week With a Big Increase Over 1901.

Fruits and Produce.

A dealer has made a tour of the tomato district of Western Pennsylvania and reports that this week is destined to be the banner tomato week of the season. Reports state that the receipts will be heavy and lower prices will prevail, the market starting on a downward course today. After this week of over higher prices are looked for, because the crop has been backward owing to cool weather and the vegetable has been kept from ripening, and that the season is expected to be overstocked. Potatoes are slightly firmer in price. There were 50 cars in the yards yesterday and 37 cars of apples. The latter appear to be plentiful. Bosc and Ford seckel pears are lower for the poorer variety. Concord grapes are also off.

THE M'VAY WILL MADE VERY SOON BEFORE DEATH

Testatrix Began Document With the Sentence, 'If I Should Die Tonight."

NUMBER OF WILLS FILED

Passavant Hospital Gets a Bequest of $1,000 from the Estate of the Late Martha Wiley — Relatives Also Remembered by the Testator.

Several wills filed yesterday brought out varied traits of human nature. One woman died eight days after heading her will "If I should die tonight."

It was the will of Catherine McVay, late of this city, and is dated August 8 last. Kate, Mary and Thomas Finn and Thomas and Martin Harvey each get $100. No disposition is made of the balance of the estate.

Peter Memci, late of Allegheny, left an estate worth $1,094 to his wife. By the will of Marie Vererka, late of Pittsburgh, $150 goes to a son and the balance of a $1,125 estate is left to a daughter, Marie Burger.

An inventory and appraisement of the personal estate of Catherine Gallagher shows a valuation of $5,667 50.

Leonard Delp took out letters of administration on the $15,000 estate of Jacob Delp. Anthony Frances took out like letters on the $600 estate of Simon Frances.

The will of Martha Wiley, late of Pittsburgh, was filed. She makes the following bequests: Robert W. Dickson, $1,000; to the widow and children of W. E. Wiley, $1,000; Passavant hospital, $1,000. To Hannah B. Dickson is given certain personal property and the residue of a $6,000 estate goes to S. A. Wiley and his wife.

WANT LICENSES CHANGED.

Applications for Transfers That Have Been Filed.

Few transfers of liquor licenses have been made since the jury trials of the June term of court and the transfers that have been made have been heard in the judges' chambers. Next Saturday ends the June term and a considerable number of applications for transfers have been filed and are expected to be disposed of on that day. The application for the transfer of Peter S. Huckenstein to Frank E. Smith asks for a change of location to the Victoria hotel property. The Huckenstein building recently collapsed on account of the excavations of the new Phipps building on Sixth street and Duquesne way.

The following applications for transfers have been filed: Peter S. Huckenstein to Frank E. Smith, 116 Sixth street to 131-147 Sixth street; Christian Borzartz to Octave Colin, Kittanning pike, O'Hara township; James S. Jiles to Edward Zuschmitt to John Ratajezyk, 1319 Penn; Buschmitt to John Ratajezyk, 1319 Penn avenue; Mary Voeiker to John A. Ripperguer, 114 Grant avenue, Millvale; Joseph Kohler to William A. Cunningham, 408 Ferry street, wholesale; Frank Pschirer to [illegible] M. Welsh and James White, 329 Liberty avenue; Thomas C. Rafferty to Andrew J. Benitz, 2321 Penn avenue; George J. Pipoly to John C. Alex Aszmonaya, 2404-2406 Second avenue; Charles F. Steedle to George F. Christ, 3345 Penn avenue; H. A. Minikus to Herman Max Weber, 82-84 Franketown avenue; Richard Buck to John P. Hoerr, 1223 Fifth avenue, McKeesport, wholesale; Kate L. Chrisholm to John W. Taylor, 519 Fifth avenue, McKeesport; Frank Becker to Henry McGrory, 508-510 Market street, McKeesport; Phillip Volk to Frederick Schumpf, 2221-2223 Fifth avenue, McKeesport; Edward H. Everett to John Swanson and August Johnson, 200-202 Braddock avenue, Braddock; H. A. Wise to John Biesel and Peter Schulte, Second street and Camp avenue, Duquesne; Thomas S. Patch to Lemuel C. Rockefeller, Station street, Wilmerding, wholesale; Rosanna Haggerty to William Mardis and William J. Bopp, 5164 Butler street.

Affidavits of defense were filed yesterday in the suits of Edwin Bindley and the Duquesne National bank against William G. Price and the William G. Price Company, actions to recover on several notes. It is stated that prior to the organization of the William G. Price Company Price and others were partners in the foundry business, and on September 21, 1889, an arrangement was entered into with Bindley for the formation of a corporation of $250,000. The capital stock of the William G. Price Company was conveyed to the new company for $175,000 worth of its stock, and the remaining capital stock was to be for cash.

It is said Bindley agreed to subscribe $36,000 and that he represented that a friend of his, John Munhall, would subscribe $50,000. It is alleged a plant was erected at Burrell, but that Munhall failed to take out the stock. It is charged that Bindley paid in only $15,000 and that when a call was made for money he claimed to be short of cash. It is said Bindley proposed to make notes, to be indorsed by Price and himself, the money to be raised at the Duquesne National bank, there to be carried until Bindley would meet the notes, and the proceeds were to go to the company. Price says he believes these notes have been settld, but if not, it would be unjust to force them against him.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

John Tidemann sued Samuel Magill for $2,000 damages to property on Gold alley by an alleged improper grade.

Floyd Miser sued Kerr & Fox for $5,000 damages for alleged injuries received while working for the defendants in Oakland.

The following executions were issued yesterday: H. B. Kaercher vs. Alex. White, $53; Pittsburgh Brewing Co. vs. M. R. Collins, $2,631.

Suit was entered by George W. Patterson against the city of Pittsburgh for $5,000 damages for alleged injuries received by falling on Pier street.

An answer was filed in the equity suit of John F. Baxter against Anna B. Adams and John Grashburn by the latter. He avers that Anna Adams deeded a property to him after an oral agreement, and denies he secured it by compulsion.

Equity proceedings against the borough of Turtle Creek were begun by Ellen C. Brown to restrain the defendant from maintaining a defective sewer near her residence. She avers that the gases arising from the sewer endanger the health of her family.

John P. Rascesco, a salesman of Braddock, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States district court. His liabilities amount to $2,405, with no assets. Samuel Scott, a tailor of Corry, also filed a petition in bankruptcy. His debts amount to $2,021 with $1,050 assets.

Kirk Q. Bigham, for himself and as executor, entered two suits against the West Side Belt Railroad Company and the Pittsburgh Construction Company for $5,000 damages in each case. The suits grow out of a fire in the Thirty-fifth ward. A like suit was entered by Bigham and Thomas B. Hutchinson.

Suit was entered by W. H. Whitla against the Kirken Hydro Carbon Heating and Incandescent Light Company for $5,000 damages for personal injuries. He was making repairs for the defendant company at No. 1110 Fifth avenue and alleges he received serious burns on the face, hands and arms by the explosion of a defective valve, due, he avers, to the negligence of the defendant company.

USED ROPE AND POISON TO END THEIR LIVES

Mrs. Mary Morford Hanged Herself From a Nail in Wall of Her Room.

HER MIND WAS DERANGED

Robert Johnson Quarreled With His Bride and Took Paris Green Which Caused His Death Yesterday Morning—Mysterious Letter.

Rope and poison were the grim agents used by two persons yesterday to end their lives. Mrs. Mary Isabella Morford, 64 years old, hanged herself in her home at Fort Pitt, Collier township. Robert Johnson, 23 years old, a barber of No. 1710 Penn avenue, took a quantity of paris green on Sunday night and died early yesterday morning. The aged woman took her life while mentally deranged. Johnson poisoned himself because he was unable to live amicably with his bride of two months.

Mrs. Morford had been out of her mind for some time before she committed her rash act. Sunday she was so deranged that it required the united efforts of her husband, Edward Morford, and her mother to watch her. Early that morning she was seized with the delusion that there were a number of colored men about the house waiting to kill her husband and mother, so they could carry her off.

Her mother, Mrs. Clara Stephens, 84 years old, of Beaver, came from New York on June 1 to look after her feebleminded daughter. Sunday Mrs. Stephens came down stairs and found her daughter with her head sticking through a pane of broken glass in the window. They took her to her room, but she refused to remain there. She wished to go into the yard. It is now believed she intended to get a piece of clothesline to hang herself with.

She Secured a Rope.

She broke out of the house later and was gone about 20 minutes, and it is believed she secured the rope at that time. After that she seemed quite contented and at 5 o'clock yesterday morning she said she wanted to go to bed. Her husband and mother took her to her room and she retired. They were both worn out by their constant attention to her during the day and also went to their rooms.

Early yesterday morning her husband began to prepare his breakfast before going to work. He went to his wife's room to call her, and to his horror, found her hanging to a nail on the wall, dead. He cut her down and called Mrs. Stephens. The aged woman had strangled slowly to death. She placed the noose about her neck, and fastening it to a nail in the wall, drew her feet from the floor. Deputy Coroner John Black held the inquest in the case yesterday afternoon and the jury rendered a verdict of suicide by hanging, while insane.

Robert Johnson, who killed himself because he was unable to get along with his young bride, on June 24 was married to Miss Rosa Devine of Forbes street, and they lived in two rooms at No. 1719 Penn avenue. He was a barber and was doing well. On Sunday afternoon he went out walking with his young wife, and from what could be learned yesterday, they had quarreled. They went to their rooms and in a few minutes he came downstairs and went into the street. He returned soon and went to his room. His wife rushed downstairs shortly after this and told her mother-in-law that Robert had taken the contents of a box of paris green.

Died in Convulsions.

Dr. J. H. Hieber of No. 1705 Penn avenue was summoned, and after working with his patient for several hours, pronounced him out of danger. During the night Johnson seemed to improve, and fear of his death was dismissed by his parents and young wife. Shortly after 7 o'clock yesterday morning his father went upstairs to see him, and Robert said that he was feeling badly. Later he was seized with convulsions and died.

Mrs. Kate Richardson of Highland station on Sunday night found a package containing several articles of women's clothing and a letter addressed to Maggie Connelly, Hazelwood, Pa., saying the writer, Ella Myers, had committed suicide by drowning herself in the Monongahela river. The package and letters were found on Browns bridge and were taken to No. 4 police station. Ella Myers said she drowned herself because she learned that Tom Persse, the opera singer, was a married man and she was in love with him. No report of Ella Myers' disappearance was ever made at any of the police stations, and the police were unable to learn yesterday who she or her friend, Maggie Connelly, was.

APPEALED FROM DECISION.

Another Test to Be Made of Compulsory Vaccination.

H. C. Hachmeister of No. 2313 Fifth avenue yesterday in common pleas court No. 3 took an appeal from a decision of Alderman S. J. Toole fining him $5 for failing to be vaccinated. He alleges his family has always been in the best of health and that vaccination is unnecessary, and that it is a painful, dangerous and unwarranted operation. He asserts that the act under which the proceedings were brought is unconstitutional.

Our Men's $3 GUARANTEED Shoes Cut Down to $2.35

Can we sell 2,500 pairs of our Men's $3 Guaranteed-Not-to-break-Through Shoes this week? We think we can—at $2.35 a pair. At $3, these Shoes, as thousands of men hereabout can testify to, were exceptionally good value, being the equal of any Shoes, offered elsewhere for $4. Notwithstanding this fact, we cut the price down to $2.35, as we wish to clear out these 2,500 pairs before September 1st. Come early before the assortment becomes broken. The Shoes come in all the fashionable shapes—in English Enamel and Patent Leather, with light and heavy soles—all Hand Welt Sewed. And remember, if the leather in these Shoes breaks through within 60 days from date of purchase, you get a new pair of Shoes Free of Charge.

Equally Great Offer for Women:

The Famous "Frazin" Shoe, advertised and sold all over the country for $3, here today at only $1.85 the pair. We do not handle this make of Shoes, but a fortunate chance of trade placed 3,200 pairs in our hands at a very low price, and we pass them on to you at only $1.85. They come in Imported French Patent Leather, Ideal Kid and French Vici Kid—turn and Welt Soles —Opera and Broadway lasts—Not over two pairs sold to any one customer, at (per pair)..... $1.85
